Extract of a letter received in this city dated

New Orleans, March 16.

I have just seen the Captain of a vessel just arrived from Matagorda, Texas, who informs me that intelligence had been received there two days before, of a battle having been fought at San Antonio. The Mexicans, consisting of 1000 men, under Gen. Cos, attacked it, were defeated with the loss of 300 men, and then retreated into Mexico. St. Anna, it was said, had previously been obliged to return to Mexico, on account of a disturbance there in some of the provinces. The force that attacked San Antonio was not his main army, but a detachment despatched under Cos, expecting to take the Texians by surprise. The main army consists of about 3000 men, and such was the enthusiasm in Texas, that there is little doubt the Mexican army will be annihilated as soon as they give them (the Texians) a chance.—As to the battle having been fought, and the results favorable to the Texians, I think there is no doubt; but as it respects the loss of the Mexicans it may be exaggerated.—U. S. Gaz.

POSTCRIPT.

Late from Florida.—The Jacksonville Courier of the 17th inst. contains an account of an interview between Gen. Gaines and Oscola, in which the latter proposed, if the General would send away the horsemen, to lay down his arms and surrender. The whole negociation however seems to have been a ruse de guerre on the part of the Chief, as it resulted in nothing. While the interview was taking place, Gen. Clinch arrived with reinforcements. A day or two afterwards Gen. Gaines went to Fort Drane, where Oscola was to have met him, but he did not come. Gen. G. then transferred the command to Gen. Clinch and then proceeded to New Orleans. A letter states that Gen. Gaines' troops were in a most starving condition when Gen. Clinch arrived, having only a gill of corn a day each, and having to live upon dogs, horses, and any thing else they could find.

CONGRESS.

Mr. Grundy, chairman of the committee on post-offices and post-roads in the U. S. Senate, has reported a bill authorising the Post Master General to contract with rail road companies for transporting, on their several roads, made and to be made, the United States Mail, Post Office Agents, officers of the Army and Navy, &c.; the contracts to be submitted to Congress for approval and the United States to have a lien on such road or roads to guarantee the fulfilment of the contracts.

Liberty, like virtue, thrives best in a poor soil. We are certainly in favor of keeping the Government poor, beyond its actual exposes—besides the money in the Treasury has always been a bone of contention in Congress. We repeat it that we do believe that there is great danger to our liberties to persist in the present rapid increase to the national treasury.—N. Y. Evening Star.

Sir William B—— being at a parish meeting, made some proposals, which were objected to by a farmer.

"Sir," said he, enraged, "do you know, sir, that I have been to the two universities, and at two colleges in each university?"

"Well, sir," said the farmer, "what of that?—I had a calf that sucked two cows, and the observation I made was, the more he sucked, the greater calf he grew.

Extraordinary Phenomenon.—A Living Man with no blood in his body.—The Washington Correspondent of the Boston Post, in a letter published yesterday in that paper, says:

"Washington, March 15, 1836. This is Gen. Jackson's birth day. He is sixty-nine years old; and will leave the Presidency at three score and ten. He is not only the last of the Patriots that finishes the dynasty of the Revolution, but the last of his race—not a drop of his blood runs in any human veins.

Jonathan cutting a lot.—The Paris Messenger of Jan. 20th says: "The attention of the numerous promenaders in the Champs Elysees, on Sunday last, was irresistibly attracted by the equipage and the brilliant suite of an American, M. Thorn, who has resided some time at Paris, in a hotel in the Faubourg St. Germain. M. Thorn exhibited himself with two carriages with four horses each; two others with a pair each, and followed by a great number of outriders. There is scarcely any one but the Duke of Pembroke in England who can rival M. Thorn."

Still Tax Repealed.

BY virtue of the following resolution, adopted by the Legislature and approved by the Governor on the 10th inst. viz:

WHEREAS, Although the law levying taxes on real and personal property for the use of the State, will expire on the 30th day of March next, yet it appears by the report of the State Treasurer made to the Legislature at the present session, that those taxes are estimated in the receipts of the current year of two hundred and eighty thousand nine hundred and sixty three dollars, and three cents; and that the same would be collected from the people, notwithstanding the expiration of said law, but by the passage of the act entitled "An act to repeal the state tax on real and personal property, and to continue and extend the improvements of the State by Canals and Rail roads, and to charter a Bank to be called the United States Bank;" the treasury will be supplied in lieu thereof, and it is thereby rendered unnecessary to demand the payment of the same, from the citizens of the Commonwealth. Therefore Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met. That the Secretary of the Commonwealth be directed to give notice to the Commissioners of the several counties of this State that they are not required to collect the State tax for the year A. D. one thousand eight hundred and thirty six, which has been or may be assessed for State purposes since October last, under the act entitled "an act assessing on personal property, to be collected with the county rates and levies, for the use of the Commonwealth, passed the twenty-fifth day of March A. D. eighteen hundred and thirty one," and if collected the same should be refunded, and that in case said notice to be published in at least two newspapers in each county, where two such papers are published, and where but one paper is published, then in such paper, for three weeks in succession, the cost of publication to be paid from the county treasuries respectively. But if no paper be published in any county, then in such manner as shall best promote the object of this resolution.
