PALMER IS OUSTED

Has Two Weeks to Forward Resignation to President.

ACTION TOWARD RICKETTS' CAUSE

Thorough Reorganization of Working Force of Government Printing Office Will Occur Under New Official.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Public Printer F. W. Palmer practically has been ousted from office. It was learned...

The demand of the president for Mr. Palmer's resignation was due primarily to the latter's action in trying to force Oscar J. Ricketts, foreman of printing, out of the government printing office.

As soon as President Roosevelt learned of the situation that had developed he directed Public Printer Palmer to forward to him his resignation, to take effect in two weeks.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Palmer would not be reappointed to his present office. For several months before President Roosevelt left Washington for Oyster Bay he was casting about for a suitable man for the position of public printer.

The investigation made by the Keep commission into the letting of a contract for seventy-two typesetting machines for use in the government printing office disclosed a serious condition of affairs in the management of the office.

With the incoming of Mr. Palmer's successor—and there is ample authority for the statement that he has not been selected yet—it is expected a thorough reorganization of the working force of the government printing office will take place.

CONFLICT NOW ENDED

Guns Boom as Envoys Sign the Peace Treaty.

TOWNS CELEBRATE THE EVENT.

M. Witte, Representing Emperor of Russia, First to Affix Signature to Document That Closes War in the Far East.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 6.—A salute from the navy yard signaled the signing of the treaty of Portsmouth yesterday, making effective peace between Russia and Japan.

It was announced that the official time of the signing of the treaty was forty-seven minutes after 3 o'clock. M. Witte was the first to affix his signature.

The last half hour before the signing was spent in making a final reading of the treaty.

M. Witte, accompanied by Baron Rosen and Mr. Platonov, left the hotel for the navy yard at half past 2 o'clock.

Baron Komura, accompanied by Minister Takahira and Mr. Demunson, started fifteen minutes later in an automobile for the navy yard.

Among those present at Baron Komura's departure was Bishop Potter of New York.

Both Russian and Japanese missions on their arrival in the navy yard were received by Admiral Mead, while two companies of marines, commanded by Major Moses, rendered military honors.

The copies of the treaty of peace brought to the navy yard were carefully compared by the secretaries of the two missions in order to avoid the necessity of reading them before the signing, at which personages extraneous to the negotiations assisted.

When the secretaries had ascertained the perfect exactness of the two copies of the treaty the plenipotentiaries and the other members of the two missions entered the conference hall, accompanied by Assistant Secretary Peirce, Governor McLane, Admiral Mead and the mayor of Portsmouth.

M. Witte, the chief of the Russian plenipotentiaries, was the first to sign his name to the treaty. After the ceremonies of the signing of the treaty Baron de Rosen delivered a short and appropriate speech, pointing out the importance of the present event and the influence it will have in the relations between the two countries.

He ended by expressing the satisfaction he felt at the good relations which have characterized the work of the plenipotentiaries. Baron Komura replied, paraphrasing Baron de Rosen's speech and expressed his thanks for the kind words addressed to himself and to the members of his mission.

The entire Russian mission, headed by M. Witte, attended a thanksgiving service celebrated in Christ Episcopal church both by American and Russian clergymen.

Re-entering the hotel, one of the chief members of the Japanese mission said: "The treaty signed today may be the most important historical feature of the twentieth century."

LOOMIS PRAISES BACON.

Former Assistant Secretary of State Commends His Successor.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—Francis B. Loomis, who is to be succeeded as assistant secretary of state by Robert Bacon, in discussing his retirement from the state department, said: "About a month ago I tendered my resignation to the president, and about ten days ago I made public announcement of the fact that I expected to resign. When I have finished up my affairs in Washington I have private engagements which will in all probability take me abroad."

The president has made an admirable selection in choosing Mr. Bacon for my successor. The president's appointment of Robert Bacon of New York to succeed

ROBERT BACON.

Francis B. Loomis as assistant secretary of state is well received in Washington. It is regarded as highly satisfactory to Mr. Root and designed to assure harmony of administration in the department.

Mr. Bacon was until recently a junior partner in the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., whose head paid a visit recently to Mr. Roosevelt, but the president's secretary took pains to declare, after the appointment was announced, that it had been decided upon before Mr. Morgan visited the president.

Mr. Bacon will not take office until Oct. 1, when Mr. Root will take up his work in Washington.

YOUTH INHERITS $6,000,000.

Only Son of Late Colonel Crocker Twenty-one Years Old on Saturday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Charles Templeton Crocker, only son of the late millionaire, Colonel Charles Fred Crocker, was twenty-one years old on Saturday and will come into his inheritance next week.

When Colonel Crocker, son of one of the original "big four" Central Pacific railroad builders, died eight years ago he left an estate of $5,000,000, to be divided equally between Templeton and two sisters. Since then the estate has nearly doubled, so that now it is estimated one of the heirs will receive between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000, making them the richest children in California.

Mary, the eldest, who married Burton Harrison, lives in New York, while Jennie, the youngest, is still at school.

Templeton has been well educated, but is of frail physique. When very young he fell over the banisters at his father's country home near Burlingame, and for a long time his life was despaired of. Three years ago, while driving a spirited horse, he was thrown out of a trap and hit a telegraph pole, breaking both his legs above the knee.

On Witshop's Trail.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Detectives who have been pursuing from one end of the country to the other clues they believed might lead them to the discovery of Dr. George A. Witshop, the bigamist, who is said to have married, robbed and deserted more than a hundred wives, have at last struck a trail of a woman in this city by whom they hope to trace their man to his hiding place. The arrest of Witshop, the detectives say, is only a matter of hours.

Russian Colony in California.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 6.—The Rancho Guadalupe, comprising 13,000 acres of tillable soil and wooded lands in lower California, has been sold to 104 Russian families through a Los Angeles agency. The emigrants propose to establish on their purchase site a Russian colony for the raising of stock and grains and the milling of cereals. Water is to be developed at considerable cost, and a town laid out.

Girl Killed in "Fighting Flames."

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 6.—During the performance of "Fighting the Flames" at the Pittsburg exposition Miss Jeanette Lawrence, twenty-five years old, a vaudeville performer, was dashed to her death from a window thirty feet above the stage. The accident was witnessed by about 200 spectators crowded in a little theater, but no panic ensued.

Mme. Nordica's Home Hobbed.

OSSINING, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The home of Mme. Lillian Nordica, the singer, was robbed here of $500 worth of jewelry and silverware. Mme. Nordica leases a cottage near this place, and while she is abroad this summer her sister is in charge of the house.

Jerome on Tammany's Side.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—It is announced that Mr. Jerome is on the Tammany side for district attorney, but that his name has been placed thereon only tentatively and may be taken off before the conventions are held.

REVOLT IN CAUCASUS

Fighting Between Armenians and Tartars Now On.

PART OF SHUSHA IS IN FLAMES.

Two Hundred Houses Are Destroyed There, Says an Official Estimate. Country in Ruins—Eleven Killed at Grandlet.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 6.—A dispatch from Tiflis here says: "The whole of the southern Caucasus is now terrorized by Tartars. Refugees are pouring in here from Baku, Elizabetopol and Shusha. Details from Shusha show that several engagements were fought between Tartars and Armenians behind regular positions and that a considerable part of the town was soon in flames."

"According to an official estimate, over 200 houses were destroyed." A dispatch from Baku says that troops under the direction of the governor are acting with the utmost vigor, but they have not succeeded in restoring order, although there is rather less firing.

Armed robbers attacked the oil works in the suburbs of Bakhkhan and after a hot fight set fire to them. Tartar bands are scouring the country, murdering and pillaging. The country is in a state of wild panic, and country houses and farms are being abandoned.

The famine in many parts of the country renders the situation more terrible. The minister of finance at St. Petersburg has received a telegram from the governing committee of the bourse at Nizhni Novgorod urgently appealing to him to adopt immediate measures for the re-establishment of order at Baku.

Fighting at Khankend.

KUTAIS, Caucasus, Sept. 6.—A conflict between nobles and peasants took place in the village of Grandlet. Eleven persons were killed or wounded.

Knights Templars Grand Officers.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The grand commandery, Knights Templars, of the state of New York, holding its ninety-second annual convocation here, elected the following grand officers: Commander, Erastus C. Knight, Buffalo; deputy commander, Adelbert P. Knapp, Saratoga Springs; generalissimo, Herman H. Kretschmer, New York; captain, General Edwin A. Aderson, Palmyra; senior warden, Edwin C. Hall, Syracuse; junior warden, J. Carlisle Louden, New York; prelate, Rev. Warren C. Hubbard, Brooklyn; treasurer, George A. Newell, Medina; recorder, John H. Burlington, Brooklyn; standard bearer, Guy W. Shoemaker, Ilyria; sword bearer, Henry T. Dumary, Albany; warder, Edward A. Krausman, New York.

Pig Ten Feet Long.

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 6.—The official bulletin descriptive of the fossils unearthed by the expedition to the John Day region, in eastern Oregon, has been published by the geology department at the University of California. It describes some of the strange monsters that peopled the country known as the Bad Lands. Among these remarkable beasts are extinct pigs and peccaries large as cows, camel-like quadrupeds and, not the least interesting, the famous three-toed horse. The eolothrium, or giant hog, is a monster mammal nearly ten feet long and six or seven feet high.
