VOLUNTEERS RESPOND TO URGENT CALL

Many Inquirers Come to Front at Tabernacle Meeting—Innovation in Service Next Week.

The service of last evening was a call for volunteers, nor was it a call in vain, for at the close of the response to the call fully one third of the audience gathered in the inquiry seats, some to consecrate themselves anew to the service of Christ, and some for the first time to consecrate themselves to Him. It is doubtful if any previous service has equaled this one in its power to move upon the hearts of the people.

An innovation will be introduced next week in the way of distinct programs of services for both men and women. Services for women only will be held each afternoon at 3:30, and services for men will be held each evening. A service for men only will be held Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock at which Mr. Rees will speak of "Lessons from the Slums."

A PECULIAR CASE OF DOUBLE VISION

James Bellis, the East side meat dealer, sent word to Chief Walsh yesterday that a dago was causing him some annoyance. The big chief responded to the call and found one Pasquale Lattare, who loudly and repeatedly vociferated that Bellis had robbed him of a $10 bill. The chief searched the Italian and found a $5 bill, a silver watch and a big razor, the last of which reposed handily in his hip pocket. The ginney was held to court. Here another search was made. When told to take off his shoes, the foreigner got mad. His socks came off, his coat and vest came off, his—well, most everything he had on came off, but no $10 appeared. Pasquale wept. "No gotta ten dol"—had ten dol—"him gotta ten dol"—him rich a da man—no giv-a me da mon, no giv-a me da chick."

Bellis and other witnesses said that Pasquale had come into the market, tendered a $5 bill and asked for two chickens. He was told that they had none, and given his money. He was angry because he didn't get the chickens, and began to talk big. After the hearing he was taken to the entomological institute to get rid of his load.

STOLE BUCKWHEAT IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

Frank Ward is the loser of two loads of fine buckwheat. The thief or thieves made one haul last night and then returned for another this noon, although they were frightened away the second time and didn't take much.

Frank says he doesn't know who did it, but they had their nerve all with them.

LEANING FROM CAR HIT SIGNAL SWITCH

R. J. McCrossin of Sayre is in the Packer Hospital recovering from slight injuries received at Carney's siding, below Mehoop any, last night. He was leaning from the side of the train and his head struck a switch signal. It looked pretty bad at first, but examination showed the injuries to be comparatively slight.

GETTING READY TO MOVE TRACK

The W. S. & A. Traction Co. have asked street commissioner Field for the proper grades on N. Elmer avenue. They say that they will begin to move the track to the centre of the street next week.

E. F. Mercereau will leave for Cleveland, Ohio, tonight to take up his work on the law committee preparatory to the National convention of the N. P. L.

I. O. O. F. NOTICE

The regular meeting of Sayre Lodge No. 1090, I. O. O. F., was held last night at which time the first degree was conferred upon the candidates who presented themselves. The degree work was of the usual excellent quality. Drill Master Jos Ellers having the matter of the degree work well in hand, few orders are in position to make a comparison with the work of the Sayre Lodge who are very proud of their work.

The members of the Lodge are requested to meet in the lodge rooms next Monday evening to drill, preparatory to the second degree, which will be worked next Thursday evening.

Members of the order are also notified that they should be present Thursday evening as at that time the nominations will be made for officers for the next term and it is important that all members be present in person to show their choice for the offices to be filled.

SMASHED GLASS, TWO JAILED

Two Hungarians were arrested on warrants by Chief Walsh and Officer Vogel last night. It is alleged that they broke a window in one of their east side neighbor's houses. They will have a hearing before Justice Gay at 7 o'clock this evening.

STOLEN CHECK CAME BACK

The check for $30 which was reported stolen from Collin's saloon at East Waverly last night, has returned. Nothing is known about the case by the police, who were notified of the loss and later of the recovery of the check.

"CHOATE OF WEST."

TITLE IS GIVEN BY MANY TO WILLIAM J. CALHOUN.

Confidential Envoy of the President Who Has Gone to Venezuela to Study the Situation in the Little Republic.

Washington.—William J. Calhoun, for the second time in his eventful life, has been sent on a confidential mission to a foreign country by the president of the United States. He left on August 5 for Caracas to study the Venezuelan situation, at the request of President Roosevelt. The attitude of this government toward "cocky" little President Castro will depend, in a large degree, upon his findings.

In the middle west, where Mr. Calhoun is best known, they say no man in America is better fitted for such an investigation. He is broad and liberal in his views, a deep student, a digger after facts, unswerving in purpose and tireless. Graceful in speech and gracious in manner, Mr. Calhoun handles the most delicate of subjects without causing the slightest friction, and is called by many the "Choate of the West." It was he who was sent by President McKinley to study conditions in Cuba. His report, coupled with that of Senator Proctor, formed the basis on which war with Spain was declared.

Calhoun was born in western Pennsylvania and attended school at the Poland, O., Union seminary. Among his fellow students was McKinley. McKinley attended the school after his career was over. At the time he was wearing the uniform of a major. Calhoun was then so young that he could not be enlisted. Calhoun, though younger than McKinley, was farther advanced in his studies, as he had not been spending his time at the front, so was no mean rival when the two lads led the opposite sides in debate, as they often did. McKinley, when he finished his course, went to a law college, while Calhoun became a student in a law office in Tuscola, Ill. In due time he was made prosecuting attorney in his county and the next step was his election to the Illinois legislature. It was as a representative in that body that he delivered before the Thirty-sixth assembly of that state the constitutional argument which, for all time, settled the legal right of a governor in office to be a candidate for senator. Gov. Cullom, now senator, aspired to wear the toga, and the matter was in dispute. Calhoun's masterly argument disposed of the question and Mr. Cullom was elected to the office which he still holds.

Calhoun determined to become a corporation lawyer. He moved to Chicago and became general counsel for the East Illinois & West Indiana railroad. After his return to the United States from Cuba he occupied a seat as a member of the United States railroad commission. This post he resigned to become a member of the law firm of Jam. Calhoun & Lendon, counsel for the Great American Steel & Wire company, headed by John W. Gates. In 1900 Calhoun was nominated as republican candidate for governor of Illinois, to reunite the party, which had split over the socialistic tendencies of John B. Altgeld. Calhoun preferred to throw his influence for Richard Yates, who was elected. Later he accepted the office of legal representative for the Vanderbilt lines west of Buffalo. He now leads the bar in the northwest.

Calhoun describes his political ego as a "staunch republican and protectionist with an academic leaning toward free trade."

A Sure Investment

Did you know it? REAL ESTATE is the safest and best investment you can make? Especially so in a growing and thriving town like Sayre. NOW is the time to buy a home for yourself and family and be your own landlord. What's the use paying rent year in and year out? Poor satisfaction to look over a bundle of receipts that represent money paid out, then enough to pay for a snug little home if only you had commenced paying on the home years ago instead of paying rent. YOU are letting opportunities slip through your hands every day and your next door neighbor buys and pays for a home while you pay rent.

Large boarding house, convenient to L. V. R. R. shops. Owner will sell bargain this month. Can be easily arranged into a hotel at small expense if desired. Several other opportunities. Call, write or phone. All inquiries given prompt attention.
