The daily march to school is sure to be pretty hard on the shoes the girls and boys wear---so, too, the play-time before and after.

The shoes we have ready for trying on are durable. They'll wear just as you think shoes should wear---or better. Besides they won't pinch and hurt. They're right all the way through---leather, style and shape. With all that, the prices are right, too.

Boys, $1.15 to $2.25. Girls $1.15 to $1.75.

PEIFFER MURDER.

New York Police in Hot Chase of Joseph Gerard.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Following closely upon the identification of the victim of the "Haunted Oak" mystery in the Bronx as Augusta Pfeiffer came a clew that points to Joseph Gerard, a truckman, missing since last Thursday, as the murderer. A general alarm has been sent out for him.

Gerard lived close to the spot in the woods alongside Pelham road, where the body was found. He is known to have been in that vicinity on Wednesday night when the murdered girl was about there. On Thursday morning he left his boarding house and his landlady found in his room a pile of blood stained clothing.

From what has been learned of her movements on Wednesday evening the police have pieced together the theory of her murder, but there are points that remain to be cleared up. Undoubtedly the girl was attacked on Wednesday night in the woods near the "Haunted Oak," but the autopsy revealed that she did not die until about fifteen or eighteen hours before the body was found on Saturday afternoon. Coroner O'Gorman furnished an explanation for this discrepancy.

"I do not believe the girl was killed outright," he said. "I think she was rendered unconscious, and the brute who attacked her dragged her body into the bushes and hid it, thinking she was dead. Probably she lay there all of Thursday and Friday unable to move or make an outcry, and the murderer returned Friday night to look at his victim. Finding her alive he finished her."

The home of Augusta Pfeiffer was within 200 yards of the spot in which she met her death. She lived up to a month ago with her mother, two brothers, two sisters and a stepfather.

Boston Express Wrecked in Tunnel.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The Boston express, one of the fastest of the New York, New Haven and Hartford trains in the New England service, was derailed in the Park avenue tunnel at Fifty-sixth street a few minutes after 12 o'clock by the spreading of a switch. One car was badly wrecked, and seven persons were injured, three of them painfully and one seriously. The accident happened in almost the same spot in the dark tunnel where the fatal collision between a South Norwalk local and a Harlem accommodation train occurred three years ago last January. The express train was crowded when it left the Grand Central station, and the passengers became panic-stricken at the sound of splintering timbers and the screams of the injured.

Gave Her Pet Name.
CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—"Pet names for a sweetheart may be all right in courtship, but they ought not to be carried as far as the marriage license," commented License Clerk Salmonson upon receiving a letter from Rev. William A. Quayle of this city, explaining an error in a license issued a few days ago for the wedding of Ephraim Davis to "Miss Dallas Texas." According to Mr. Quayle the correct name of the young woman before her marriage was Catherine Dallas, and her "pet" name was "Dallas Texas." Rev. Mr. Quayle ascribed the mistake to a "rattled condition of the groom."
