THE MAN UP A TREE

False Pride Did Not Hinder Zaccheus From Getting a View of Christ—Impressive Meetings at the Tabernacle.

A man too short to see in a crowd, who climbed up into a tree to see a Jewish prophet who had just healed a blind man. In short, Zaccheus of Jericho was the theme of the preacher at the tabernacle last night. He was held up as the man who wins because he did not let his pride nor his stature nor his position stand in the way of seeing Jesus. The transformation which was wrought in the publican's house as a result of Jesus' visit was that will follow His visit to any home. This all seems commonplace to read but to hear it from the lips of the evangelist in the hush of the attention paid by the audience of men was to believe it, and more than one man said to himself "I'll try it."

At the women's meeting there was abundant testimony from individuals as to the truth of the preacher's words. One after another told of homes that had been changed through the new influence that had come into them. Tomorrow night the subject will be "A Fast Young Man."

Miss Edith Eugenie Keyes was ringbearer.

The house was nicely decorated with scarlet autumn leaves and evergreen and white asters. The wedding march was played by Miss Ethel McDaniels. The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of pale blue silk, and the bridesmaid wore dark blue silk.

A sumptuous dinner was served to the wedding party and about seventy-five guests. The happy young couple will reside in Buffalo after a trip to New York city. The best wishes of many friends follow them.

CASTRO'S REPLY.

Government at Caracas Declines to Treat With M. Taigny.
 CARACAS, Sept. 21.—The government has made the following reply to the protest lodged by M. Taigny, the French charge d'affaires, against the closing of the Caracas station of the French Cable company and the expulsion of the manager of the company, M. Brun.

"The government holds documents proving that the French Cable company has accepted the result of the judicial proceedings brought against it. The government is only waiting to establish new relations between it and the company. M. Taigny, the French charge d'affaires, knows this, and therefore the protest can be only considered as an act of personal hostility. For this reason the government will abstain from treating with the French government through M. Taigny."
