The arrest of Dunham immedithe New York Life had a contract with ately followed. one other person besides those whose names had appeared in the joint accounts and that he thought it only right that that name should appear on the record. When permission was granted to make the statement Mr. Perkins said he referred to the contract the company had with Mr. Hughes himself, wherein Mr. Hughes was to share in all of the profits of the company.

Mr. Hughes looked surprised at this announcement, not to say a little embarrassed, until Mr. Perkins explained that Mr. Hughes, being a policy holder in the New York Life, was entitled to his share of the profits and that his policy was the contract mentioned.

Mr. Hughes stood the laugh on him good naturedly and said that he would later have occasion to go into the question of just how much profits the policy holders actually got. Before Mr. Perkins was called to the stand an attempt was made by Chief Inquisitor Hughes to get some light from John F. McCullough, typewriter for "Judge" Andrew Hamilton, on the bank account Hamilton bad with the New York State bank at Albany, but McCullough had a very poor memory as to "Judge" Hamilton's financial affairs. He remembered cashing checks for his employer, but none for as much as $25,000 or $50,000. He had made deposits in the New York State National bank at Albany, but Chief Counsel Hughes couldn't get him to recail any specific transactions. McCullough simply couldn't "recollect." He thought Hamilton would probably return from abroad about Oct. 17 or 19.

Mr. Perkips spent three hours explaining to Mr. Hughes about twentywe joint accounts that the New York Life had had with various banking firms in the last few years. Mr. Perkins reiterated in substance much of been ordered to Baku. to buy securities direct from the Just the thing for Baby's Life putting up all the money and dividing profits with the firms which gregate of original profits now amounted to $886,004.80.

Steamer Juniata Rammed by Harwood Palmer.

GREAT HOLE STOVE IN SHIP'S SIDE

Fog Hung Over Cape Cod When Vessels Came Together-Eight Were Injured, but Coolness and

Nerve Stopped Panic. BOSTON, Sept. 22.-The injury of six passengers and two of the ship's officers by a collision at sea was reported by the steamer Juniata of the Merchants and Miners' Transportation company, bound from Boston for Baltimore and Norfolk, which has return ed to this port disabled and badly damaged. The Juniata was rammed thirty miles off Chatham by the five masted schooner Harwood Palmer, bound from Baltimore for Portland, Me., with a cargo of coal.

The injured are: J. W. Johnson, North Abingdon, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. John C. Murray, South Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Friedell, Pittsburg; Corporal J. J. Mattingly, United States marine corps; Captain Z. Nickerson and Quartermaster John Crockett.

That the accident did not result in a general loss of life on the steamer is considered remarkable by every one on board. The steamer had a great Southerner, second; Arsenai, third. hole stove in her starboard side amidships, her cabins from that point for- second; Larable, third. ward were ripped and torn into kindling wood, her pilot house was wrecked and the foremast and smokestack were carried away. The Juniata returned to her dock here and landed her passengers. Arrangements were made to transfer the cargo. The Palmer lost her jibboom, bowsprit and headgear

The accident occurred at 9:50 o'clock at night when the Juniata was steaming around Cape Cod. A fog hung over water and the steamer's speed had been reduced somewhat. A sharp lookout was being kept, and Captain Nickerson was in the pilot house personally directing the movements of his ship

Suddenly the lookout shouted a warning to the pilot house that a big vessel was to the starboard and bearing down on the steamer rapidly. Captain Nickerson ordered that the wheel be put hard over and the engines reversed. but even as his order was being executed the flapping of huge sails and hoarse shouts of alarm were heard. and in less than a minute from the time the lookout gave his warning the steamer was struck a terrible blow squarely amidships on the starboard

Immediately following the first crash the schooner scraped along the side of the steamer, her spars and rigging turning the upper deck into a mass of wreckage. ### PACKERS FINED

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.-Merry Lark, Four Officials Pleaded Guilty at Chicago.

WEIL'S LIFE SAID TO BE IN JEOPARDY

Accepting Railway Rebates-Dramatle Scene In Court When Sentence Is Pronounced.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22,-Four officials of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Humphrey in the United States district court here.

The fines followed a plea of guilty to indictments charging conspiracy to ac cept railroad rebates.

The defendants were: Samuel Well Linen Toweling of New York, vice president of the conpany; B. S. Cusey, traffic manager Vance D. Shipworth and Chess E Todd, assistant traffic manager. Mr. Weil was fined $10,000, the other three $5,000 each. With the entering of the plea the declaration was made that unless at least HOSICTY one of the cases is immediately settled the life of Samuel Well, who is vice president of the company and is one o the defendants, is in jeopardy. He is said to be a nervous wreck and fears were entertained for his life if he had been allowed to continue un der the strain of a trial. The plea was entered, it is declared, after a complete understanding had been reached between counsel for the defendants and Attorney General Wil liam H. Moody.

While in Chicago the attorney gen eral was apprised of the condition of Vice President Well and, it is said agreed to the entry of a plea of guilty, with the understanding that the jail provision of the law under which the Monday 48c. indictment was returned should be waved and merely a fine imposed.

The scene in court when the four de fendants in the Schwarzschild & Sulz-berger case entered was most interest. Dress Goods berger case cutered was most interest ing. All the defendants except Weil went immediately before the bar, the the crowded courtroom. The three traffic managers are young men, and they showed much emotion.

Weil as he entered the room slipped into a seat near the door. He is an eld erly, man, weighing more than 170 pounds. His face was lined with deep marks, apparently showing the suffering he has passed through since he was indicted. He, however, appeared to be little interested in the proceedings. He did not look at the court nor at the crowd which turned with one accord to see him. He had scarcely taken his sent when an attorney called him for ward, and the four men stood in a line before the court.

Well kept his head downcast while Judge Humphrey told them be would be lenient and not send them to jail although he could give them a two year term in addition to the fine.

The proceedings were brief, payment of the fines being made immediately.
