BRITAIN AND JAPAN

Make Treaty to Maintain Peace of Asia.

WILL BE ALLIES IN CASE OF WAR

To Preserve Integrity of China and Open Door in That Land and Hold Territorial Rights of Both Powers in Far East.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The treaty concluded between the British government and the Japanese has just been made public. The text of the agreement between the two countries is the maintenance of general peace in Asia and India and the preservation of the interests of all the powers in China by insuring the integrity of China and the principle of equal opportunity for the commerce of all nations, the maintenance of the territorial rights of Great Britain and Japan in Eastern Asia and India and the defense of their special interests therein.

The treaty says in part that the two governments whenever their rights or interests as specified are jeopardized shall communicate with each other freely and frankly and consider jointly the measures to be taken to safeguard them.

If by reason of unprovoked attack or aggressive action, wherever arising, on the part of any power or powers either party be involved in war in defense of their rights or interests the other party will at once come to the assistance of its ally and will conduct war in common and make peace in mutual agreement.

Japan possessing paramount political, military and economic rights in Korea, Great Britain recognizes Japan's right to take such measures for the guidance, control and protection of Korea as she may deem proper and necessary to safeguard and advance those interests, provided the measures are not contrary to the principle of equal opportunity for all commerce.

Japan recognizes the rights of Great Britain to take such measures in proximity to her Indian frontier as necessary to safeguard her Indian possessions.

The high contracting parties agree that neither will without consulting the other enter into a separate arrangement with another power to the prejudice of the objects described in the preamble.

In case of war being declared against Japan Great Britain will continue to maintain strict neutrality unless some other power or powers join in hostilities against Japan, in which case Great Britain will come to the assistance of Japan, will conduct war in common and will make peace in mutual agreement with Japan.

The conditions under which armed assistance shall be afforded by either power to the other in the circumstances mentioned in the present agreement and the means by which such assistance shall be made available will be arranged by the naval and military authorities of the contracting parties, who will from time to time consult one another fully and freely on all questions of mutual interest.

The present agreement shall remain in force for ten years.

HORRORS AT BAKU

English Eyewitnesses Tell of Russian Massacres.

TARTAR AND-ARMENIAN BUTCHERY

Oil Works Surrounded and Victims Killed Without Mercy, While Cossack Police Seemed Helpless.

BAKU, Caucasus, Sept. 27.—Re-enforcements totaling 11,000 men, with three batteries of artillery, have reached this city. The governor has issued an order forbidding the troops under any circumstances to fire on houses occupied by foreign consuls.

A Mr. Williams, one of four Englishmen connected with the oil industry and who was rescued from a mob at Balakhan, states that the stories of the horrors give but a feeble idea of the actual occurrences at and around Baku. He said:

"I was shut in my place at Zabrat for five days without any water except naizan (local mineral water). All the people were crying and fainting. All around were fires and rifle shots. Ten Armenians were killed out of those in our own yard. You could not walk a yard without several shots being fired at you. We tried to save the wounded, but the shooting was too good, and we had to give up the attempt."

Edward Macculum, another rescued British subject, fully confirms the stories of massacres, burning and pillage. After describing the commencement of the outbreak, Sept. 2, when the Armenians massacred 300 Tartars, he describes how during the night of Sept. 8 Tartars entered the workmen's barracks at Ramani and massacred everybody in them within an hour.

Five hundred Tartars surrounded the works where Macculum was stationed and forced him to give up the Armenians hiding on the premises.

He added: "Fourteen of these were butchered in our yard with fiendish brutality. One man had his entire stomach cut out. The band sacked the neighborhood in the most systematic manner. They had carts ready to take away their plunder to the Tartar village. Fifty Cossacks with a police chief arrived on the scene, but did nothing except to look on at the work of massacre. The whole time we were besieged we lived on condensed salt water."

Mob rule and bandit extortion are terrorizing the native and foreign inhabitants and their interests in the Caucasus. Oil producers who control the gigantic industry in the suburbs of Baku have been compelled to purchase the safety of themselves, their employees and their plants by payment of large amounts of money to bandit chiefs who periodically visit them to levy tribute.

Five-sixths of the producing oil wells in the Caucasus have been laid waste in the late civil disorders in that territory, 8,000 out of 8,000 wells, constituting practically the only formidable unit of competition to the industries of the Standard Oil company of New York, in the United States and abroad, having been destroyed.

Chief of Police Was Murdered. WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Mr. Quesada, the Cuban minister, has received the following advice from Cuba: "The autopsy of the chief of police killed last Friday at Cienfuegos shows that the bullets entered by the back and that the revolver of the chief of police held all its cartridges. Both facts prove he did not fire and that he was attacked without having a chance to defend himself. The supposed author of the outrage on the shield of the American consulate at Cienfuegos has been arrested."

Confession Set Him Free. ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 27.—James Cooper of New York, who arose in a Salvation Army meeting and confessed to stealing jewelry and subsequently went to prison for the crime, has received a pardon from Governor Higgins. Cooper has served six months of a nine months' sentence at Sing Sing. His pardon was recommended by Recorder Goff and District Attorney Jerome.

Sipperley Home Destroyed by Fire. WESTPORT, Conn., Sept. 27.—The residence of Elbert M. Sipperley, the most valuable private building in the town, has been destroyed by fire. The family saved some furniture in the lower part of the house, but all the contents of the other floors, including valuable paintings and curios, were burned. The loss is estimated at $12,000.

Wife Fatally Shot. MANITOWOX, Wis., Sept. 27.—Mrs. Peter Bach was shot three times by her husband at her home here and will probably die. Mrs. Bach attempted to prevent the police from arresting her husband, although she was so weak owing to loss of blood that she soon dropped to the floor from exhaustion. The shooting followed a quarrel.

Medina Man's Suicide. ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 27.—George E. Spooner, a prominent business man of Medina, has committed suicide there. His body was found by his wife hanging from a door. Mr. Spooner had been in poor health and had worried for fear he might lose his eyesight. This undoubtedly was the cause of the act.

CAIRNGORM AT BRIGHTON.

Cup Preliminary Resulted in Defeat of the Favorite.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Cairngorm, backed from 7 to 5 to 13 to 10, easily captured the Cup Preliminary, one mile and a half, at Brighton Beach, defeating Caughnawaga, the 12 to 20 favorite and the only other starter, by four lengths. The Cup Preliminary is a weight for age race for horses exclusively nominated for the Brighton Cup of two and a quarter miles.

Four cup candidates were carded to go, including the fast filly Artful, but as she was a trifle sore Rogers, her trainer, did not care to take any chances and withdrew her. Oxford also declined the issue early.

Caughnawaga was an odds on favorite, and at the start he received two lengths the best of it and passing the stand the first time was leading by two lengths.

Davis, on Cairngorm, however, was content to trail the favorite after getting off poorly, and Caughnawaga continued to show the way into the back stretch. Half a mile from home Burns began to ride Caughnawaga, but Davis let Cairngorm trail along to the stretch, where he let him down and in a few strides was in front and galloped home a winner.

Brookdale Nymph broke the track record for five and a half furlongs when she won the second race by stepping the distance in 1:06, which is one-fifth of a second faster than Whimical's time, made this year. One favorite won. Summaries:

HAIL ROCKEFELLER.

Cleveland Men Show Esteem For Standard Oil Chief.

CALL HIM WORLD'S GREATEST MAN

Deputation Calls at Forest Hill and Testify Their Regard—Oil Magistrate Makes Brief Response to Greetings.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 27.—Several hundred representative men of Cleveland called upon John D. Rockefeller at his home in Forest Hill last evening and through Andrew Squire, a prominent attorney, and L. E. Holden, proprietor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, expressed to Mr. Rockefeller their esteem for him as a citizen and as a great business man.

The gathering included merchants, lawyers, clergymen, educators and men in humbler walks of life. Forging at the lodge, the entrance to the estate, the assemblage walked up the steep hill to the old fashioned summer home overlooking the city and country. Through Mr. Squire every person was presented to and shook hands with Mr. Rockefeller.

There were personal statements of good will from those who greeted Mr. Rockefeller, who in response thanked each person for their kindly expressions and esteem. Mrs. Rockefeller was present. After all the guests had been presented to Mr. Rockefeller an adjournment was taken to the veranda, and in the presence of the entire assemblage, which had gathered on the lawn immediately below, Mr. Squire made an address to Mr. Rockefeller, giving expression to words of eulogy and regard for the man who, he said, had been a resident of the city for fifty years.

Mr. Squire said that Cleveland and Ohio had produced many great men in their particular lines, but in the knowledge of the laws of trade, in grasping and in applying them, in creating and building up of industries that are far reaching, it is doubtful if the world has ever produced a greater man than Mr. Rockefeller.

Mr. Rockefeller made a brief address in response to the greetings which had been spoken. His remarks were almost entirely reminiscent of his residence in Cleveland and of the growth of the city. He said, speaking especially to the younger men present, that there is something more to life than mere money getting.

"Turn your thoughts upon the higher things of life," said Mr. Rockefeller. "Be of service to humanity. Turn your thoughts into channels of usefulness, look forward to a determination that something useful shall come out of your success. Let your question be: 'What shall be the fruitage of my career?' Shall it be the endowment of hospitals, churches, schools and asylums? Do everything you can for the betterment of your fellow man, and in doing this you will enjoy life the better."
