Equitable Profits Strangely Disappear.

HUGHES GETS ASTONISHING FACTS

Senator Dewey Brought into Investigation as Participant in a Two Million Dollar Deal—Large Sum Missing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The most astounding revelations made since the beginning of the insurance investigation came to light through the testimony of Henry Rogers Winthrop, assistant secretary of the Equitable Life. Mr. Winthrop showed that $134,000 paid over to the Equitable as profits in syndicate transactions had strangely disappeared and that expert accountants were hard at work on the company's books trying to trace the missing funds; that United States Senator Dewey and others had participated in syndicate deals without the consent of the finance committee, reaping profits for themselves while the Equitable alone put up the cash; that James H. Hyde took $270,000 worth of stock in a transaction and that the Equitable put up all the money for the deal; that these syndicate deals, in which individuals profited at the expense of the Equitable's policy holders, were for the most part managed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Jacob H. Schiff's firm (others were with J. P. Morgan & Co.); that the Equitable, like the New York Life, executed dummy loans through minor employees to wipe certain stock transactions off its books.

The checks for the "missing sums" were indorsed by Comptroller Jordan. He has been discharged by the Equitable and cannot be found.

It was pointed out by observers that these checks were paid during the first McKinley campaign, and it was suggested that the tracing of the checks, which were all indorsed by Comptroller Jordan, would show the means, hitherto mysterious, by which the Equitable made its contributions to the Republican fund, as did the New York Life and other large insurance concerns.

Jacob H. Schiff, it is announced by Chairman Armstrong, will be called as a witness.

United States Senator Dryden, president of the Prudential Life, will also be a witness.

Mr. Schiff, one of the most eminent of American bankers, will be asked to explain the transactions between the Equitable Life and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the firm of which he is the head.

Mr. Schiff declared on oath before Superintendent Hendricks that his firm had no dealings with the Equitable, of whose finance committee he was a member.

He branded as false those records of the Equitable which showed that millions of dollars' worth of Union Pacific stock had been bought of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

George C. Van Tuyl, Jr., secretary and treasurer of the Albany Trust company since March 20, 1900, the first witness, submitted to Chief Investigator Hughes a statement of the account of "Judge" Andrew Hamilton with Mr. Van Tuyl's company.

The name of Senator Chauncey M. Depew was brought into the investigation as one of the participants in a $2,000,000 Pennsylvania coal purchase syndicate, in which nearly everybody connected with the Equitable Life appears to have been a participant, together with the Equitable. The syndicate was managed by J. P. Morgan & Co.

"James H. Hyde and associates" came in for a cool million participation in a $2,000,000 syndicate transaction in Western Maryland stock. The other $1,000,000 was taken by one of the syndicate managers. There were two managers, Vermilye & Co. and George P. Butler.

"The syndicate is not closed," said Mr. Winthrop, "and there have been no profits as yet."

"The Hyde participation has been transferred to the Equitable."

In connection with a $1,200,000 Chicago and Northwest syndicate deal there was another missing check of $100,000. This was for $12,000, made payable to the Equitable Life by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the syndicate managers. This check has not been traced since.

A $270,000 participation by J. H. Hyde in a Union Pacific syndicate transaction, managed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., was shown to have been paid for by the Equitable.

Senator Armstrong announced the serious illness of Fred Nixon, speaker of the assembly, and said that in the event of his death the committee would instantly adjourn.

CLOSED ITS DOORS.

Subway Tavern, Opened by Bishop Potter, Goes Under.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The Subway tavern, the saloon which was opened with prayer by Bishop Potter a year ago, has closed its doors. The owner locked it up, saying that the temperance saloon had not been a paying investment.

The Subway tavern ended its existence as a temperance experiment on the first of the present month and has since been running as an ordinary drink dispensary. It was located at the corner of Mulberry and Bloeker streets. At the opening Bishop Potter made a speech, in which he said that the Subway tavern might become the first in a similar chain of poor man's clubs, which could be very beneficial to society.

W. H. Skidmore, the proprietor, who shut up the saloon, said of his experience: "It was altogether too much of a poor man's saloon. It would not pay with a blessing on it, and it wouldn't pay after we had taken the blessing off."

While the tavern was still a novelty the temperance venture had many customers, but these dwindled in number until the saloon was changed into an ordinary saloon in an effort to make it more profitable.

His Ashes Widely Scattered. CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 28.—Anna D. Wadsworth filed a suit against G. W. Purdy and all the other beneficiaries under the will of Herbert W. Baird, a well known attorney, who died here, leaving most of his estate to the cause of Socialism. Mrs. Wadsworth says she is the sole heir-at-law and the next of kin. She asserts the will which was probated should be set aside, as it is not the last will of the deceased. Baird's will provided that his body be cremated and the ashes thrown into Niagara falls.

Chinese Bomb Thrown Kept. PEKING, Sept. 28.—Nothing has transpired yet regarding the motive of last Sunday's outrage. Prominent Chinese believe it was a direct outcome of the anti-American boycott, the more violent of the agitators resenting the restraining measures of the government. The generally accepted view of the affair is that it was directed against the dynasty. The thrower of the bomb has not so far been identified, but he is known to belong to the better classes.

Stole $250,000 From Singer Company. ELIZABETH, N. J., Sept. 28.—Frederick Merker, employed as a shipping clerk by the Singer Sewing Machine company, has been arrested here on a charge of stealing $250,000 worth of machine parts from the company. He was held without bail for trial. Merker had charge of the shipment of parts of sewing machines to agents. Nearly all the stolen machinery was taken from boxes which had already been packed for shipment to South America or Australia.

Moresnet Blotted Out. BRUSSELS, Sept. 28.—An agreement has been reached between the Belgian and Prussian governments for the cession to Belgium of the neutral territory of Moresnet in exchange for a strip of land adjoining the town of Eupen in Prussia, eleven miles from Aix-la-Chapelle and close to the Belgian frontier. Thus the smallest European state has been blotted out. The existence of Moresnet as an independent state dates from the treaty of Aix-la-Chapelle.

Prominent Lawyer Dies Suddenly. NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Wheeler H. Peckham, the lawyer, died suddenly here in his office at 80 Broadway. Paralysis is thought to have caused his death. Mr. Peckham was born in Albany, N. Y., and was seventy-three years old. He was appointed federal district attorney of New York in 1884 and in 1894 was appointed to the federal supreme court by President Cleveland. The senate refused to confirm his nomination.

MOSCOW, Sept. 28.—The congress of zemstvos and municipalities continued the discussion of a resolution demanding that the rights of the different nationalities in Russia be recognized; that the fundamental law guarantee all nationalities in the empire autonomy, freedom and the use of their local languages except for the central administration and in the army and navy, where Russian must be used.

TAFT FROM ORIENT

Secretary of War Interviewed at San Francisco.

DESCRIBES TOUR IN FAR EAST.

Great Receptions at Tokyo and Manila—Philippines Not Ready For Independence—Chinese Boycott Fading Away.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—The Pacific Mail Steamship company's line Korea, Captain Zedler, with Secretary Taft and party on board, arrived from the orient, beating the transpacific record by several hours.

In an interview Secretary Taft said: "Reports coming from the Philippines Islands seemed to indicate that it would be wise for the head of the war department to make a visit of inspection to the islands during the past summer, and his going with a sufficient staff was thought to present a good opportunity to form a party of congressmen, senators and representatives to visit the islands as guests of the Philippine government."

"The Philippine government was poor and was unable to do more than arrange for the passage money of the congressmen who would form part of the party. This did not include the sleeping car accommodations or the meals along the way and indeed left the congressmen to defray from their own pockets by far the larger part of the actual traveling expenses."

"The party as organized consisted of twenty-three representatives and seven senators. Of these thirteen were accompanied by their wives. In addition Miss Alice Roosevelt and her friends, Miss Boardman and Miss McMillan, were of the party, and then a number of other persons, pleasant associates, joined the party, numbering about eighty more."

"We set sail from San Francisco on the 8th day of July on the Pacific Mail steamer Manchuria. We reached Honolulu on the 14th and spent there only the hours between sunrise and sunset of that day, when we sailed again for Yokohama."

"We arrived in Yokohama on the 24th and were surprised by the elaborate reception which had been prepared for us by the emperor, his cabinet ministers, the governors of the provinces, the mayors of the towns and the Japanese people. For five days we were the guests of the government, and nothing could have exceeded the kindness and enthusiastic manifestations of the people which were shown to us. It was chiefly due to the presence of the daughter of the president, to whom the people wished to show their gratitude for his efforts for peace. We were housed in Tokyo, and the whole of the official party, fifty-three in number, lunched with the emperor and empress after each member had had a personal audience with them. The premier, Count Katsura, gave the whole party a banquet at the Hotel Imperial, and the minister of war gave a garden party at the arsenal gardens, which added much variety of interest."

"In leaving Tokyo we were given a popular farewell such as had never been seen in Tokyo before."

"Most elaborate preparations had been made for our reception in Manila, but we arrived one day ahead of time. Accordingly all of the reception except the firing of salutes, which met us in the harbor, was postponed, when we were given an opportunity to see in the procession the progress which has been made in civil government and in the business of the islands. The procession was certainly most instructive and worthy the character of the municipal organization of Manila. The choice of the school organization and the fire department of Manila showed that their city was now, under American management, an excellent up to date city."

"The political situation in some respects was not as good as it ought to be. A wave of larceny has swept over the province of Cavite, and it has been found necessary to suspend the writ of habeas corpus in the province of Cavite and Batangas, the neighboring province. The same was true of Samar, but the use of troops in Samar and the use of the scouts and constabulary in Cavite has put an end to the business."

"Some of the younger men of education have been advocating immediate independence. It therefore becomes necessary to state with considerable emphasis the policy of the administration on this subject and to say that in the opinion of the administration there was no possible hope for independence short of a generation because the people could not be fitted for self government in that time. Indeed, it will probably take a much longer period."

"With reference to the boycott in Canton and China I am not sufficiently advised to speak with great authority. My impression is that it will fade out because of the necessity that the Chinese merchants are under of patronizing American manufactures."

Guam Well Satisfied. WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Commander G. L. Dier, naval governor of Guam, in his annual report to the navy department says the natives are well pleased with the sovereignty of the United States and that there is no sentiment among them for independent government.

Army Officer Weds at Plattsburg. PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Lieutenant John W. Wright of the Fifth United States infantry, son of General Marcus J. Wright of Washington, was married here last night to Miss Helen Eliza Hyde, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Hyde of this city.

BELMONT'S TIPTOE.

Second Half of Produce Stakes Won by the Favorite.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—August Belmont's Tiptoe, favorite, won the second half of the Produce stakes for fillies two years old at Brighton Beach. Zienap, heavily played for the place, was second and Single Shot third.

The start was poor. Bivonae, stable companion of Tiptoe, being left at the post, while St. Ursula jumped off in front, followed by Tiptoe. This order remained unchanged to the stretch, where St. Ursula stopped and Tiptoe took the lead and, holding her advantage to the finish, won in a drive by one length. Zienap, who was outrun in the early part, closed strong and got the place by two and a half lengths from Single Shot.

Cornell Defeated Hamilton. ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Cornell opened her football season, defeating Hamilton 5 to 0. Short halves and Cornell's lack of preparation accounted for the small score. Hamilton was in excellent trim, but Cornell exhibited poor team work and made many costly fumbles.

Football Opens at Princeton. PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 28.—The Princeton football season has opened here with a victory over Villa Nova by the score of 41 to 0. The game was ragged at times and marked with frequent fumbles, but the Princeton team showed splendid physical condition.

Athalar at Woonsocket. WOONSOCKET, R. I., Sept. 28.—On by one favorite came up to expectations at the local track. Athalar won the 2:30 trot in straight heats. Great Mezhum was defeated in the 2:17 trot by Irene Flowers after five close heats had been run off.

A., upon his experiences with the Russian army in Manchuria was the feature of the afternoon session of the military surgeons' congress here. Colonel Hayward said that losses from artillery fire in the Russian-Japanese war were greater than from any source in any previous war.

FIRE SWEEPS COLON

Canal Terminus City Saved by Sheer Good Fortune.

ALL GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS GONE

Manuel Offices, Postoffice, Office of Governor Melendez, Judiciary and Other Structures Reduced to Ashes.

COLON, Sept. 28.—By sheer good luck the city of Colon has been saved from complete destruction. At 9:25 at night, when more than half the people of the city were asleep, the sharp whistles of the police announcing a fire were heard from end to end of the city, quickly followed by the loud tooting of the railroad engines.

Thousands were soop gathered at the scene of the fire, which was next to the residence of the Spanish consul, on Bolivar street, a hundred yards east of the railroad, the main buildings of which owing to a fresh breeze from the southeast were completely demolished in less than thirty minutes.

There being no fire brigade at Colon, the railroad officials under the personal supervision of Superintendent Biedra, with commendable alacrity brought hose from Monkey Hill and soon began to play salt water on the fire. The Royal Mail steamer Trent also pumped water on the flames and detached seventy of her crew to aid the fire fighters.

The crews of the steamers Mexico and Advance and the American element here, notably among them Superintendent Biedra, R. J. Foster, Steward E. Ellison, Material Foreman Nicholson, Yardmaster Jussen and other Panama railroad employees, all rendered signal aid.

The Panama Banking company, an American concern, and the Panama railroad main offices had a most narrow escape from destruction. Nearly all the records and documents of the government were destroyed. The postoffice was completely burned out, only a handful of mail being saved. It is believed that the government's specie was the only property saved.

The postmaster has sent a requisition to Panama for a supply of stamps and other necessities for carrying on business.

Only a small percentage of the loss, which is conservatively estimated at $75,000, is covered by insurance owing to the high premiums asked and the difficulty of obtaining acceptances of risks.

The fire first destroyed the Phenix hotel, an American owned concrete and iron trussed building. The heat was so intense at this spot that the railroad rails were twisted into all sorts of shapes.

The fire then leaped across the street to a liquor store, containing two hotels, several liquor establishments and the tenement houses along Bottle alley and Bolivar street almost up to Carrying street. Within this zone was a large house known as Rowe's building, containing the postoffice, the offices of the municipality, of Governor Melendez, the port inspectors, the judiciary and other offices. This building soon caught fire and was quickly destroyed. The treasury building was also burned.

The fire destroyed a considerable portion of the business and residence sections of Colon, including practically all the Panama government buildings.

With the assistance rendered by the Panama fire department the conflagration was finally overcome.

Kaiser Honors Witte. ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 28.—M. Witte is expected to arrive here today. His progress through France and Germany has been watched from here with interest; but, none the less, it has added to the jealousy of him in certain quarters, which was more or less freely manifested after his success at Portsmouth. Emperor William's gift to M. Witte of the Order of the Black Eagle has had a gratifying effect here, much more so than when his majesty conferred the order on General Stessel.

Ministers in Politics. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 28.—During the session of the Unitarian congress Rev. Dr. Richard W. Boynton of St. Paul, Minn., took occasion to address the assembly and to give his address as laymen should take a hand in politics when a state of affairs exists such as in Philadelphia at present." Dr. Boynton lauded President Roosevelt and his strenuous life.

Three Goods in the River. OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Sept. 28.—William McBeth, a prominent resident of Lisbon, was held by Commissioner Kellogg here for the United States grand jury to answer a charge of smuggling goods from Canada. Nothing was found on his person. The customs officers allege that the smuggled goods were thrown into the river.

Congress Must Decide. WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Secretary Bonaparte has advised parties in Brooklyn who have communicated with him in reference to the sale of the historic frigate Constitution that he will not take up the matter until congress meets.
