SCHOOL BOARD PAYS BILLS

Secretary Adam Resigus and is Succeeded by Whittle—Case of Non-Resident Pupils Considered.

The regular October meeting of the school board was held last night. Those present were President Thomson, Directors Baltz, Brainerd, Cook, Maddock and Whittle and Supt. Stetler. In the absence of Secretary Adam, Mr. Whittle was appointed.

A large number of bills were presented and ordered paid were found correct. Bids for covering the hatchway at the West Sayre school were presented by F. H. Johnson, for $100.00, and H. O. Hansen, for $108.00. On motion the contract was awarded to Mr. Johnson.

A bid for the bonds to be issued by the district was received from R. F. Page, who offered to take the entire issue at par. The bid was placed on file.

Chairman Brainerd of the teachers' committee reported that the committee recommended the opening of a 7th grade room in the new building and the hiring of a teacher for the same, with the reservation that the new teacher is not necessarily hired for 7th grade work for next year. Miss Lavina Welles was elected, at a salary of $45 a month. The new room will be opened Monday morning, October 16.

The report of the treasurer for the month of September showed a cash balance in the treasury of over $2000.

A communication was received from Secretary Adam, stating that on account of pressure of business he was obliged to resign the secretaryship. He has served the board efficiently in this capacity for a long time. W. H. Whittle was elected unanimously to fill the vacancy, and the board is confident that the selection is a good one.

Miss Vera E. Keyes made application for appointment as supply teacher and was elected. Miss Keyes was graduated from the high school this year.

Mr. Stetler reported that there were several non resident pupils living on Lewis street who objected to paying tuition and wished to take advantage of the state law providing that pupils residing in one district a long distance from their school may be sent to an adjoining district, the tuition to be paid by the district in which they live. Mr. Stetler said that the other district had done nothing in regard to the matter although they should take the initiative. Mr. Brainerd said that the plain intention of the law was that every child should have an education, but that it was getting too common for people to live just outside the line to escape taxes and still send their children here to school without paying tuition. He moved that the children in question be allowed to attend school here the rest of the week, after which some arrangement must be made. The nearest school in their district is a mile or two beyond the Chemung river.

The board went into executive session.

"WHEN WOMEN LOVE"

When the public, through the box office, vote that a play is a hit, it puts the pessimist out of business, no matter what is said to the contrary. "When Women Love" is one of the season's great plays that has caught the public by storm. Everywhere the same reports are heard—"a great show"—so it is; pathos, comedy, sensation, combined with an excellent cast and an unusually strong theme for a plot, make it so. It was built to please the masses, and is therefore termed a "box-office winner." "When Women Love" will be presented at the Loomis, Saturday, Oct. 7, and indications point to a big success.

PURELY PERSONAL

H. K. Spaulding has returned from Rochester.

Mrs. F. S. Lowman left for Hartford, Conn., this morning.

F. J. Fraley, of Dushore is visiting his daughter Mrs. John Cook on Miller street.

Charles Beibach and John Hammond are attending the firemen's convention at Scranton.

Matthew Pierson went to Scranton for the firemen's parade and from there he will go to Washington.

Mrs. George Garey and three children, of Lopez, are visiting her sister Mrs. John Cook on Miller street. They will return home on Thursday.

Mrs. J. L. Yawman and little daughter, who have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pickley, have returned to their home in Albany, N. Y.

BUYERS BITTEN BY A STRANGE AGENT

A number of prominent Sayre women have had some more experience with the agent who represents a large city store and brings great bargains right to the door. This time it was a slick, insinuating female who had samples of "such lovely imported laces, and so cheap, too." The ladies ordered a good supply, which was delivered a few days later. One was seen ten minutes after the agent had delivered the goods and collected the money, standing on her front porch and crying out: "Where is that swindler, this lace is not good at all—it isn't like the sample."

Too true—and it happens so often that the joke is all worn off. When, oh when will they learn that it is cheaper to buy of home merchants whose integrity and responsibility are known?

H. K. SPAULDING GETS A DESIRABLE PLACE

H. K. Spaulding the popular and hustling Sayre agent for the U. S. Express Co., has accepted a position as depot agent of the American Express Co. at the New York Central station at Rochester. His resignation from the Sayre agency will take effect October 15, and he will assume the duties of his new position October 16. His capability in developing the business of the office at Sayre called the attention of the Rochester managers to him. While we are sorry to see him go away we are heartily glad that he is doing so well.

POPULAR RESTAURANT CHANGES OWNERSHIP

Mrs. George H. Lacey & Co. have sold their interest in their Desmond street restaurant to L. L. Van Duyn of Ovid, N. Y., and the business will change hands this evening. Mr. Van Duyn has had experience running hotels at Wilkesbarre, Geneva and Lodi and will doubtless give the public a continuation of the excellent service that has made Lacey's so popular. The Record wishes him success.

SKIN WAS FULL OF SLEEPY BOOZE

Homer Scott was arrested by Officer Vogel yesterday afternoon while lying asleep at the corner of Chemung street and South Elmer avenue. He was taken to the entomological observatory. This morning he was looking for someone to pay his fine.

A number of young people will meet at Perry Shaffner's tomorrow evening for the purpose of organizing a whist club.

SHOPMEN REMEMBER THEIR FELLOW WORKMAN

There are times in life when the expression from the heart by words is inadequate to the occasion, and such was the case when upon Monday evening about 7:30, at 408 Desmond street, S. B. Smith quickly responded to the wild ring of the door bell and disclosed to view the genial faces of four of his shop comrades, bearing a burden of which they seemed very choice. Notwithstanding the fearful down-pour of rain their mission seemed imperative, so after introductions and greetings the object of their hurried call was announced by "Patty Donlin" who was chosen to deliver the message. His heart was too full for words when in jolly tones his comrades "Thissen," "Casey" and "Donovan" called for a "speech." Taking the "burden" in his arms and addressing the family he said: "Smith, the boys at the shop wanted you to know they remembered you and so they circulated this paper and got you this as a token of remembrance. I can't make a speech, but we wanted you to know that you to know that you were not forgotten."

Then for once "Smithy" found his tongue refused to speak, and as he slowly unwrapped the articles and disclosed to view a beautifully engraved four-piece silver tea set and tray, his face spoke volumes, but his voice was silent, and as he raised the tray and saw there so neatly engraved "Presented to S. B. Smith by his fellow workmen" his voice for a moment was silent, then he said: "Well, fellows, I can't make a speech, but you know I am thankful."

The stay of the four friends was short but pleasant and a chain was there forged of 37 links, each one a name on the list to which S. B. Smith and wife express their most hearty thanks.

What She Wanted.
Cleopatra was speaking of her famous trip on the Nile.
"Fudge on a golden barge," she said. "What I want is a little canoe with 17 sofa cushions and a young man paddling with the sleeves of his $3.50 shirt up!"

Some historians assert that this disappointment, more than the parting from Antony, caused her to apply the asp at a later period.—Detroit Tribune.

Awfully Noisy.
Mrs. Neighbors—"What's that awful racket in the next room?"
Mrs. Rounders—"O, that's my husband dressing to go downtown."
"Indeed? I've heard folks say that he was a loud dresser, but I had no idea it was anything like that."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Shopper's Comfort.
"What a comfort the exchange system is," exclaimed one woman shopper to a friend she met in the elevator of a big department store. "Yesterday I bought a hat which I didn't like after I got it home, so to-day I brought it back and got three pounds of butter and a mousetrap for it."

German Servant Girls.
A postage stamp in value about 2½¢ is pasted each week in a little blank book which every servant girl in Germany possesses. The stamp is the donation of her mistress, enforced by law. Should the girl get ill, the stamps are redeemed by the government, or she may keep them until she is old, when the government pays their face value.

House of Lords Custom.
It is the amiable custom of the house of lords to preserve duly "doctored" places in their cloakroom for young peers awaiting their coming of age. To show how thoughtful they are in this respect there is a place reserved for the baby marquis of Domesday against the arrival of his twenty-first birthday.

Odd Organization.
Paris possesses a curious social organization with an odd purpose. It is a band of prosperous tradesmen, who agree to trade with one another to the utmost extent possible, and who vary, to help one another with loans without interest. The clique calls itself "The Tranquil Fathers."
