A. A. Hopkins, secretary of the Thomas Coil Spring Company of Canistota, came here this morning in the interest of his company. At the board of trade meeting last night the matter was considered and judging from the feeling of the business men there seems to be a likelihood that we will get the works.

Aunt Polly Lowe celebrates her ninety-first birthday today. She has always lived in this vicinity and has seen it grow from its primitive state to its present activity and commercial greatness. She is in vigorous health for one so aged and remembers all of the volatile persons who have resided in this region for nearly a century.

Gag on Arcanumites

Athens—The members of Queen Esther council, Royal Arcanum, held a meeting last evening and the principal topic that engaged their attention was the new rates and what is to be done. The edict has gone forth from the officers of the supreme council that the new order of things has been determined upon after giving the grand councils an opportunity to present their objections and they will now be strenuously enforced. Another amusing episode comes forth as a preemptory order that the members must no longer say anything either to the public or to the newspapers derogatory to this action. With the hands of the powers that be upon our throats we are to timidly yield to the power of a gag law that is oppressively unjust and notoriously hard in all of its bearings upon the very members that have worked for the advancement of the order through all the years of its existence. One member of this council has already paid in nearly twelve hundred dollars and now the new rates will put upon him a burden that will necessitate his dropping out of the order and losing all that he has paid in. The younger men who are being urged to join now refuse to come in, for they look ahead to the time when they will be subjected to the same treatment the older members are now getting. There will be no more accessions to the order in this vicinity.

Frederick E. Shoemaker

Athens—Frederick E. Shoemaker, whose death we noted yesterday, died at 1:30 p. m., at his home on Hugh street of bright's disease and heart failure. He was born at Horseheads, N. Y., but resided in Athens 22 years. He was an industrious man, a millwright by trade, and enjoyed the high regard of his friends and neighbors. He was a member of the Baptist church. Five months ago he was compelled to give up all work and during the past six weeks he has been confined to his bed. He leaves a wife and one brother, Wm. A. Shoemaker of Elmira. The funeral will take place from his late residence, 209 Hugh street, Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Rev. W. H. Sawtelle officiating. The interment will be at Tioga Point cemetery, Rogers & Miller being undertakers in charge.

Baptists Call Allen

Athens—At a business meeting of the Baptist church held last evening a vote was unanimously passed to extend a call to the Rev. F. L. Allen of Chemung to become their pastor. C. W. Frost, the pulpit committee, is assured of his acceptance if the other contingencies are made satisfactory and that he would begin his pastorate Nov. 15. Mr. Allen preached for the church last Sunday and left a favorable impression.
