Troubles of a Stranger A citizen of the township came to town this morning and seeing the sign of photographer Severson ascended the stairs and went into the wrong room. He found Hoyt Hager in the rooms of the Legal Publishing company busy putting up supplies for an out of town customer. He said he wanted a hard job done right away. They sent him to Dr. McClarty's dental room who got him into the easy chair and had his forceps on a molar in quick time. When the Dr. began to put the pressure on the tooth the customer turned a double somersault out of the chair and out of the room and down stairs. He met a young fellow and told him he had got enough of this town, that he knew it would be a hard strain on the instrument to take his picture, but he had no idea the thing would kick back so hard.

Poor Housekeeper. "To-day the English lady is the worst housekeeper in the world. Two hundred years ago she was the best." This is the essence of a striking indictment of modern women by Mrs. Huth Jackson in an article on house-keeping and national well-being in the nineteenth century.

Japan's Holidays. There are only three national holidays in Japan. January 1 is one of them, and the birthday of the reigning emperor, November 3, is another. But February 11 is the greatest of the three dates, for it is the anniversary of the coronation of the first emperor, Jimmu.

Inducement to Die. The vicar of an English health resort has issued the following notice: "To meet the convenience of visitors, arrangements have been made with the vicar of this parish for the burial of guests at greatly reduced fees. The privilege may be withdrawn if it is abused."

Real Vacation. Harold had been in the country for two weeks, and upon his return his little niece asked if he had said his prayers every night. "Not once," he replied. "I just had a sure-enough vacation."--Chicago Daily News.

A FAULTLESS BEER

The following article appears in the United States Trade Reports, a publication devoted to financial, agricultural and mechanical interests:

There has been considerable discussion of the different kinds of beer since so much attention has been given to the discussion of pure food products, and many are found to give bad after-effects. The United States Trade Reports has always fearlessly discussed such topics as are of general interest to its readers, and we have received several letters concerning the different kinds of beer on the market. We are asked to recommend the best and purest, and which leaves no bad effects after drinking.

We have made a careful investigation locally, also referring the matter to our representatives in all the principal cities. We feel justified in saying that the beer which we find to surpass all others in purity and cleanliness is made by the Dettewerich Brewing Co., of Olmsted, N. Y.

The above-named firm stands high in the commercial world, and is well known for its business tact and enterprise, as well as for its integrity. This beer comes as a tonic as well as a beverage. We have no interest in making this commendation, except to give credit where credit is due, as has always been our policy, and we have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending this beer to our readers. We advise all patrons to call for this beer, especially for invalids and those of impaired health.

It has been a custom of this paper to furnish its subscribers with reliable information on any desired subject free of charge, that they may designate by letter of inquiry addressed to this office. The United States Trade Reports has the largest circulation of any trade paper of its class, and no other publication could afford to maintain such a large staff of experienced editors to make these investigations, and depend solely upon its subscription list for support.

We are certain that all dealings which our readers may have with this firm will prove mutually beneficial and profitable. It is a pleasure to us to give this firm our editorial recommendation, and, at the same time, to supply our readers with reliable information on such an important subject as this.
