RAISED MONEY BY THEIR OWN LABOR

Ladies' Aid Society Hit Upon Novel Plan to Secure Funds--Related Their Experiences Last Evening

The members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church held a decidedly entertaining meeting in the church parlors last night. Some time ago each member of the society agreed to raise a dollar for the treasury by the fruits of their own labor. Various means were employed to fulfill the agreement and last night those who had entered into the contract met at the church for the purpose of relating their experiences. The majority of the experiences were told in poetical form and were of a most amusing nature. In conjunction therewith an excellent literary and musical program was rendered. Misses Bertha DeBell and Gertrude Stevens played a very pretty piano duet and Miss Sabra Porter gave an excellent recitation, while a quartet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook, Miss Lenora Floyd and C. J. Cary, sang in a most creditable manner. H. Stanley Winlack, accompanied by Miss Bertha DeBell, rendered a highly creditable violin solo, and Mrs. Frank Cook sang a solo which delighted everyone present.

The ladies were very successful in their efforts and a sum amounting to nearly $30 was raised which will pay the interest on their indebtedness and also help to liquidate a note for one hundred dollars which is due tomorrow.

CLOUDS OF STEAM MISTAKEN FOR SMOKE

Volumes of White Vapor Issuing From Windows Causes An Alarm of Fire to be Turned in

Clouds of white steam issuing from the windows on the Elmer avenue side of the Movanho club rooms in the Wheelock block this morning at 7:30 o'clock were mistaken for smoke by some individual who was not thoroughly awake, and as visions of a disastrous conflagration on the inside of the building flashed through his mental machinery he rushed to a nearby telephone and sent in an alarm of fire. The whistle blew, three long and one short, but before the fire fighting paraphernalia was taken from its quarters the error was discovered, and the members of the department who had been called from their work said things that are not used as subjects for Sunday school lessons.

The trouble arose from the fact that a radiator in the club rooms had been disconnected and shortly thereafter someone opened a valve which allowed the steam to rush out into the room. The latter filled quickly with steam and the windows on the east side were opened to allow it to escape into the outer air. It will probably be necessary to re-tune the piano in the club room as the instrument was completely enveloped in steam which will have a tendency to expand the strings.

WILLIAM ELLSWORTH
WYALUSING, PA.
Candidate For Sheriff

While nominated by the Prohibitionists I solicit the votes of all, regardless of politics. I endorse the action of the Taxpayers' Association of Bradford county, in asking that the fees of the County Treasurer and price for boarding jail prisoners be reduced, and, if elected, will do everything in my power to lower the burdensome taxes.

AGED RESIDENT DEAD

The death of Lyman Sherman, who had reached the advance age of 87 years, occurred last night at 5:30 o'clock at the home of his niece, Mrs. Edward Tewksbury, 520 Lincoln street. Death was due to the infirmities of old age. He had been a resident of Sayre for the past 7 years, residing with his niece. Besides her he is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Vanscoten of Athens, and Mrs. Kibler of Sayre, and one nephew Charles Bullard of Athens. Short funeral services will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock from Mrs. Tewksbury's home and on tomorrow morning the remains will be taken to Brooklyn, Susquehanna county, Pa., for burial. R. S. Loomis has charge of the funeral arrangements.

Pindell, superintendent of transportation, and a number of other Lehigh Valley officials, consisting mostly of mechanical engineers, arrived in Sayre last night on a special train. A number of the mechanical men remained here to make tests in the new shops while the remainder of the party went west on a tour of inspection.

GHOSTS AND SPOOKS WILL BE OUT TONIGHT

Mysterious and Uncanny Things Are Liable to Occur in Sayre This Evening

Tonight is hallowe'en, the night when young people make merry and do things that savor of the mysterious and uncanny. If on tomorrow morning you should find certain personal effects that you have been accustomed to leave outside your door decorating the front porch of your neighbor, you will know it is the work of hallowe'en spooks that prowled around in the early part of the evening.

The hallowe'en custom originated in Germany among the witches, so it is said, or among the people who believed in witchcraft. Hallowe'en night was looked upon as a night when ghosts and hobgoblins would walk about and as a natural sequence things would be turned topsy-turvy the following morning. During the last century the people of the civilized nations began to observe the ancient custom, and now in nearly all the countries of the globe it is looked upon as a night in which to make merry.

In Sayre tonight there will be several parties held in connection with the event. The boys and girls, those just entering into their teens, will organize in bunches, and proceed to have a hilarious time. They will not be molested as long as their conduct is of a harmless nature. If, however, they are seized with a desire to destroy property in a wanton manner, the police will take exceptions, and their mad career will be cut short by an introduction to Sayre's famous resort for members of the bug family. Prosecution will follow, and in the event of being convicted it will mean the payment of a fine or to the calaboose for a stated number of days.

WILKES-BARRE MEN COMING TO SAYRE

Thirty Apprentices and Laborers From That City Are Expected to Arrive Here Today

According to the Wilkes-Barre Record thirty apprentices and laborers, who have been employed by the Lehigh in that place, will leave there today and come to Sayre. The men will accept situations in the new shops in this place. The Record further says that of the older men at Wilkes-Barre who have thus far been interviewed on the subject of coming to Sayre nearly 100 have decided to remain at home.

PLAYED TO CROWDED HOUSE

"Human Hearts," a melodrama in four acts, which has been a drawing attraction for some years, was presented to a crowded house at the Loomis last night. The company was up to the average and gave good satisfaction. A little girl, apparently not over seven years of age, exhibited unusual talent, and the principal roles were well sustained.

ONE PLAIN DRUNK

Charles Davenport, a farmer who lives near Waverly, is occupying a cell in the borough lockup this afternoon as a result of his using the trolley bridge for sleeping purposes. Chief Walsh found him lying on the bridge this morning sleeping off a jag. He will be given a hearing when he sobers up sufficiently.

POLICE WILL BE VICILANT TONIGHT

Vandalism Will Meet With Prompt Punishment If the Perpetrators Are Caught

Tonight is Hallowe'en, and while it is conceded that the young people should have a chance to indulge in innocent amusement the police intend that there shall be no depredations of a destructive nature permitted, and therefore Chief Walsh has notified a large number of specials to report for duty this evening. In times gone by many acts have been committed on Hallowe'en which were of a criminal nature. Property has been destroyed and in many instances what may have appeared like innocent amusement to the perpetrators has been nothing more nor less than downright vandalism.

The police department this evening will take care of persons who do not keep within the limits of the law; so when you start out tonight to celebrate remember that the eyes of the law's officers are wide open and any unlawful act will meet with prompt punishment.

MAKING VIGOROUS CANVASS

The friends of William Ellsworth of Wyalusing, Prohibition candidate for sheriff of Bradford county, are rallying to his support and will give him a large vote at the coming election. Mr. Ellsworth is making a vigorous personal canvass and will not only poll the full strength of his own party, but his friends say that he will be supported by many voters in the two old line organizations.
