JOY TO ALL RUSSIA

St. Petersburg, Moscow and Odessa Still in Turmoil.

DEMAND FOR TREPPOFF'S DISMISSAL

Celebration of Czar's Proclamation of Freedom Passed Off More Quietly Than Expected—Fighting in Various Places.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 1.—All Russia is celebrating enthusiastically the emperor's gift of freedom, which the greater part of the people have received with deepest joy, though in St. Petersburg, Moscow and other cities Socialists and revolutionists organized anti-government demonstrations and red flag parades, which, with the patriotic manifestations, led to a number of conflicts between the "reds and whites," as the anti-government and royalist factions are respectively termed.

On the whole the celebration passed more quietly in Russia than had been expected, though collisions between the people and the troops are reported from Poltava, Kazan and Kishinev and two men were killed.

In each of the two capitals, St. Petersburg and Moscow, have occurred scenes such as Russians never before have witnessed. The Slavonic people, which during the long war just closed and the anxious period preceding the announcement of the new era of constitutionalism seemed self-restrained and apathetic, gave itself fully to the exuberance of the moment and spent the entire day in parades and assemblies, which for the first time in the history of Russia were freely permitted.

Under the orders of Count Witte and General Trepoff the troops generally were withdrawn from the streets of the cities and the fullest rein given the people to let out their enthusiasm in demonstrations which so long as they were not destructive were not interfered with.

The scenes in St. Petersburg reminded the observer of events in an American university town after a great football victory, but a thousand times magnified.

It is said that the dismissal of General Trepoff as governor of the capital will be demanded of the czar.

Constantine Petrovitch Pobedonostzeff, chief procurator of the holy synod of St. Petersburg, has resigned. Two hundred thousand persons in the Nevsky prospect, mostly Socialist agitators, with many students and workmen and members of revolutionary organizations, jumped into the forefront of affairs in St. Petersburg and converted the celebration into a great revolutionary demonstration. There were long processions, in which hundreds of red flags were carried and to which every one was compelled to doff the hat. They declared the concessions of the emperor's manifesto were insufficient and that they must have the freedom of all political prisoners, the formation of a national militia and the banishment of General Trepoff and all the troops under his command twenty miles from the capital.

At Helsinki, Finland, the proclamation of civil liberty in Russia was followed by the announcement of the return to a constitutional regime in Finland and the abolition of the arbitrary conditions under which Finland has been governed since the accession as governor general of Count Bobrikoff, who in June of last year was killed by Eugen Schaumann, son of Senator Schaumann, the assassin afterward committing suicide.

Owing to the strike Helsinki is in darkness. Many students have visited the vestibule of the senate to view the spot where Schaumann killed Count Bobrikoff and cheered the memory of the slayer.

A telegram from Odessa says that four ships of the Black sea squadron have arrived there in a state of mutiny and that the mutineers are threatening to bombard the town.

The governor telegraphed that the situation was desperate. Count Witte replied, "The czar has just signed a constitution."

The revolutionary party is now dominating the celebrations which have been going on in the city over the czar's manifesto granting a constitution. They are making speeches against the manifesto, and anarchists are crying for a "social revolution."

Fighting is going on in the streets between the malcontents and the less radical element.

Over 10,000 men in a mass paraded the Nevsky prospect waving red flags. Householders barricaded their doors. The absence of artificial light, due to the strike at the electric light plant, intensified the disorder.

A red flag floats above the cross that surmounts the university, and the crowd that occupies the space in front of the building is wearing red cockades, but is maintaining order. No police or soldiers are present.

The mob surrounded the Winter palace, singing revolutionary songs.

A band of Cossacks fired at workmen who were leaving the Putloff iron works on their way to celebrate the granting of freedom. Five were killed, and many were wounded. An attack was also made on the Technological school. Professor Fairie was killed, and many persons were severely wounded.

Immense congregations, composed of all classes of people, assembled in Kazan cathedral and the other churches of the city to give thanks for the czar's promise of civil liberty and representative government embodied in the manifesto published last night. Thousands of candles were burned before the images of the saints, especially that of Nicholas the Miracle Worker. Citizens

UNDER WHICH FLAG?

Anarchist Flag Beside "Old Glory" Caused a Riot.

RED BANNER AT NEW YORK CITY HALL

Adherents of W. R. Hearst, Mayor-Elect Candidate, Made Raid on Esplanade Displayed by Tammany Hall Politicians.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Two thousand shouting, cheering people thronged about Park row, swarmed up the steps at city hall here, calling loudly for Mayor McClellan to come out and hurrahing for William R. Hearst, candidate for mayor of New York on the Municipal Ownership platform.

The disturbance assumed the proportions of a riot, and it was only by strenuous and persistent work that the police succeeded in keeping the crowd under control.

Enraged over the display of a new banner showing an American flag and a red "rag" marked Anarchy, with the caption "Under Which Flag?" a crowd of Hearst supporters attempted to haul down the objectionable banner.

The reserves from the Third, Fifth and Sixth precincts had to be called out, and an alleged ringleader of the Hearst following was arrested and remanded on the charge of disorderly conduct.

The prisoner gave his name as the city hall station as William Houston, a blacksmith. Nobody knows who is responsible for flying the banner, but the supporters of Hearst declared that Tammany Hall knew all about it.

The banner was strung across Park row in what is known as Printing House square, between the Benjamin Franklin monument and the driveway of the city hall.

The banner when flung to the breeze created such intense excitement among the Hearst adherents that speakers were immediately sent for to address an open air Hearst meeting to protest against what was termed "dirty campaign methods."

While one of the speakers was demonstrating for a gathering of a thousand or more how Tammany was determined to win by means fair or foul the Hearstites became so incensed that they made a rush toward the banner.

There were not more than half a dozen police in the vicinity at the time, and these were unable to cope with the angry crowd until Roundsmen Martin Conlin of the city hall precinct came on a run with his reserves. Blacksmith Houston by this time had shinned up about fifteen feet of one of the poles and had a huge jackknife between his teeth.

The crowd was then so thick as to completely block the trolley car service along Park row, and the cheers that greeted the blacksmith urged him to hasten his intended work.

Patrolman James Sullivan started to climb the pole to get the blacksmith, and a hundred voices shouted in chorus: "Let him alone. Let us do up Tammany."

Sullivan called to Houston to come down, which the blacksmith reluctantly did. He was then placed under arrest, and the noisiest kind of a cheering, hooting crowd followed him to the station house, where he was charged with attempting to "tear down a flag."

Let both a woman and a man were with Miss Geary during her last hours or days is believed to be shown by the physician's certificate, which was sent to the manager of "The Shepherd King" company, of which she and Nathan were members, giving an excuse for her absence. The certificate was written by a woman, while the address on the envelope was in a man's handwriting.

Mrs. Geary, the mother of the unfortunate girl, accompanied by her daughter Evelyn, had a long conference with the Cambridge police officers, during which she denied that she knew of her daughter's trouble and expressed her belief in Nathan's innocence.

A dispatch from Pittsburg to the effect that the Pittsburg authorities had stated that there would be an arrest of a man and of a woman was shown Superintendent Pierce, who regretted that publicity had been given the statement, as he believed that it would defeat the ends of justice.

General McAlpin Robbed. OSSINGTON, N. Y., Nov. 1.—A tramp who says his name is James Allen walked into the residence of General Edwin A. McAlpin while the family was absent and carried off two pieces of silverware. He called at the house to ask for food. As there was no answer to his knock on the door he opened it and walked in. Going to the general's room, he picked up two articles of silverware. Subsequently he sold them for 15 cents. He is held by the police.

Decision Against Jerome. NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Judge Stover in the supreme court denied the motion brought by the Republican county committee to place the name of W. T. Jerome in the Republican column of the official ballot as the Republican candidate for district attorney. Argument on the appeal from the lower court decision will be heard by the appellate division of the supreme court today.

Mail Carrier Shot At. ALSTEAD, N. H., Nov. 1.—L. F. Bragg, driving a United States mail coach between Bellows Falls, Vt., and this town, was shot at several times by men hidden in the bushes in the Catholic cemetery near Drewsville, in the town of Walpole, N. H., last night. Bragg was driving a large coach, carrying considerable mail and express matter, but no passengers.

"Sentin" Will Recover. LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 1.—Walker Scott, the Death valley miner, who was thrown from an automobile while running fifty miles an hour and severely hurt, will recover, according to the statement of physicians who have examined his injuries.

Billings Made Public Printer. WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Charles A. Billings' commission as public printer was signed by the president last night.

CATARACT A FAKE HORSE.

Stolen in California and Entered as Maiden at Jamaica Track.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The horse Cataract, which was withdrawn from the last race Monday, was positively identified at the Jamaica track by J. J. McCafferty as the horse Freckman.

Freckman was stolen from the Oakland track, California, last February, and has never appeared until he was entered under the name of Cataract. The horse was painted on the head and hind legs, and after he was washed several horsemen identified him. Freckman was entered in the sixth race as a five-year-old maiden, having never started.

A big killing was planned with him, and he would probably have won, as he worked one mile in 1:41 and the field which he was to meet was of a very ordinary kind, the race being for maidens, three-year-olds and upward.

Diamond, carrying top weight, 118 pounds, easily won the Gowan stakes by half a length from the favorite, Monet, with Fustian third. Monet was the pacemaker to the stretch, where Diamond, who crowded Monet at the head of the stretch, went to the front and won. Sewell, rider of Monet, claimed foul against Martin on Diamond, but the stewards, after deliberating for awhile, let the race stand as they finished. Two favorites won. Summaries:

First Race.—Platoon, first; Brush Up, second; Emergency, third.

Second Race.—Jack Young, first; Hippocrates, second; Athlete, third.

Third Race.—Miss Crawford, first; Alwin, second; Novena, third.

Fourth Race.—Diamond, first; Monet, second; Fustian, third.

Fifth Race.—Lord Budge, first; Consuelo, second; Gold Fleur, third.

Sixth Race.—Cousin Kate, first; Landa, second; Helen Porter, third.

DEXTER'S RECORD BROKEN.

Ed Bryan Broke World's Trotting Record—Time, 1:45.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—Ed Bryan, the boy gelding trotter, owned by William Holston, in a trial against the Belmont park track record, broke the world's two mile record, which has stood for forty years. The time was 1:45. The best previous record was 1:50 1/2, made by Dexter, by Rysdyk Hambletonian, on Long Island, Oct. 27, 1865.

The performance was considered remarkable by horsemen who saw the event, as Dexter's time was made to a skeleton wagon, while Ed Bryan's record was made to a bicycle wheeled road wagon. The average time of the quarterers was 35 1/2 seconds.

Ed Bryan was advertised to beat the 5:14 1/2, made at Belmont park by Temple Hope, owned by L. N. Boston of Trenton, N. J. After a warning up spin Ed Bryan got away well. His first mile was made in 2:24 1/2, and it was then thought that he would beat 5:14 1/2, but no one present expected to see the gelding pass the record held by Dexter. When the figures 1:45 went up there was a question whether the horse had broken the world's record, but the best figures to be found in any book of records were those made by Dexter.

Will Play Association.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Association football will be introduced as a college sport at the University of Chicago. Coach Alonzo Stagg has started the movement by asking the schools of philosophy and letters of the junior colleges to organize teams and also stated that he would supervise the work. It is the intention of Coach Stagg to make the "soccer" game a regular college sport. The association game is believed to be the real remedy for the features of the present style of college football, which are found objectionable.

Could Not Stop Andover Orphan.

ANDOVER, Mass., Nov. 1.—Phillips Andover outplayed the Massachusetts Agricultural college football team and won by the score of 30 to 0. The Massachusetts line was light and unable to stop the onslaught of the Andover backs. Bartholomew of Andover made a twenty-five yard run for a touch down, and Murgay and McKay broke through the mass line for long gains.

Rather Royal, an Outsider, Won.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 1.—Only one favorite won at Latonia. Outsiders and second choices captured the other six events. In the fourth event four horses finished noses apart. Rather Royal, an outsider, getting the decision from Eleanor Howard, with Sid Silver third.

Storthing Favors Prince Charles.

CHRISTIANIA, Nov. 1.—The storthing by a vote of 87 to 29 has adopted the proposition of the government that it be endowed with full power to negotiate with Prince Charles of Denmark for his acceptance of the crown of Norway on the understanding that the wishes of the people be consulted in the form of a referendum.

Actor Plympton Held.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Nov. 1.—After an all day hearing before Judge Osborn in the district court Eben Plympton, the actor, who is charged with the attempted murder of his friend and companion, Captain George Martin, on Sept. 13 last, was held until next Monday, when the judge will announce his decision in the case.

Cleveland Home From Nebraska.

PHINCETON, N. J., Nov. 1.—Former President Grover Cleveland has returned to Westland, his Princeton home, accompanied by Mrs. Cleveland. They came from Nebraska City, where Mr. Cleveland delivered an address at the unveiling of the J. Sterling Morton monument.

Newberry Succeeds Darling.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Charles H. Darling has retired from the office of assistant secretary of the navy, which post he has held since Dec. 26, 1901. He is succeeded by Truman H. Newberry of Detroit, Mich., who took the oath of office today.

PRESIDENT AT HOME

Roosevelt Heartily Cheered on Return From the South.

HIS NOMINATION FAVORED FOR 1908

Particularly Enjoyed Sea Voyage From New Orleans—Democrats and Republicans to Name Him For Re-election.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—President Roosevelt returned from the south, in again at the capital. He returned on the dispatch boat Dolphin. He was transferred to that vessel from the cruiser West Virginia outside Norfolk, Va. At the navy yard the president was received by a guard of marines, accompanied by the Marine band. Lined upon the wharf on either side of the landing was a squad of naval gunners, who fired a salute of twenty-one guns when the president arrived and another salute when he left the yard at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Roosevelt drove to the yard and greeted the president upon his arrival, and the president and Mrs. Roosevelt were driven directly to the White House. After luncheon the president went to the executive office.

The president was cheered heartily by large crowds as he passed from the navy yard to the White House. "We're glad you're back" was one of the cries which greeted him. "So am I!" answered the president. Mr. Roosevelt appeared to be in the best of health and in his usual good spirits.

It is said here that President Roosevelt will be nominated by the Democrats for president in 1908 and will be endorsed by the Republicans. Some of the leading politicians declare that a movement with this object in view already has been launched. The movement is the outcome of the president's triumphs on his southern tour.

A number of the leading southern Democrats, it is reported, favor the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt by the Democratic party. The plan is to make Mr. Roosevelt's election almost unanimous. If the Democrats should nominate him, it is declared, it absolves Roosevelt of his pledge, given last fall, not to be a candidate again.

President Roosevelt regards his southern trip, just ended, as a most enjoyable and profitable experience. Particularly did he enjoy the sea voyage, and the president expressed himself in the most enthusiastic terms regarding the ships, officers and men of the squadron.

While at sea on Sunday the president made a speech to the officers and men of the West Virginia. He had just completed an inspection of the entire ship. In the boiler room a profusely decorated shovel was put into his hand, and he was asked to throw a shovel of coal into a particular boiler. He threw in two, and the boiler was immediately christened the "Roosevelt boiler." The shovel was passed around that every stoker might shovel coal with it. It was then speedily demolished into bits, each bit being retained as a souvenir.

Banquet to Governor Wright.

MANILA, Nov. 1.—The farewell banquet to Governor Luke E. Wright was attended by many army officers and civilians and was one of the most popular demonstrations ever given to an official of the islands. The governor was toasted by Americans, Englishmen, Spaniards and Filipinos. He was cheered for ten minutes when he arose to speak. In his address he gave credit to his colleagues for the work that had been accomplished. He said there never had been personal differences between the commissioners. From the first they never had been conscious of swerving from the policy of President McKinley. He urged the people to cease political discussions and work for the development of the islands.

Lid Jammed Down by Mayor.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 1.—The "lid" is on in Minneapolis. Mayor D. P. Jones announces that in future all the saloons and hotel bars must obey the law and close on Sunday. They have not closed for years, and the announcement causes the greatest consternation among the liquor trade. Mayor Jones has already abolished gambling and restricted the social evil carefully to small, well defined districts.

Collision on Panama Road.

COLON, Nov. 1.—A collision occurred on the Panama road between canal work trains near Bas Obispo, in which many cars were wrecked. Conductor Dunlap, an American, was killed and the engineer and fireman and several others badly injured. W. E. Dauchy, who acted as chief engineer after the resignation of John F. Wallace, has arrived here from New York.

Warrants For Eighteen Liquor Men.

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich., Nov. 1.—As the result of four young schoolboys appearing intoxicated at a school social and at a football game warrants were sworn out here charging eighteen local saloon proprietors and bartenders with selling liquor to minors. The defendants will be arraigned for trial.

No Brigade to Fight It.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 1.—The residence and hardware store of U. G. Evans and the residence of Oscar Evans at State Hill, four miles from here, were destroyed by fire, and several other buildings were damaged. The loss is $11,000. The village has no fire department.

Forty-two Years' Active Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Colonel Henry C. Ward, Fifteenth infantry, at his own request has been retired after forty-two years' active service.

Weather Probabilities.

Fair and colder; west winds.
