FAREWELL RECEPTION

Presbyterian Church Was Filled With People Last Evening to Do Honor to Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Sawtelle.

Athens—If the plaudits of a community are an index to faithful stewardship then one can not help saying that Rev. W. H. Sawtelle has been one of the most faithful, conscientious pastors that has ever served an Athens church. At the close of nearly a quarter of a century's labor in the Presbyterian church he and his good wife stood in the presence of a great multitude gathered at the church last evening and clasped hands with them in true brotherly affection as they assured him of their best wishes in all the future.

The church was tastefully decorated with vines and autumn leaves and an air of cheerfulness gave emphasis to the tender feelings of all present. All the pastors of Athens and Sayre were present, the Aeolian orchestra filled the air with beautiful harmonies, the good people of all denominations clustered around the retiring pastor, and everything was fragrant with brotherly esteem. Ice cream and cake were served, and after that S. R. Payne called the assemblage to order and made a graceful speech in which he told Mr. Sawtelle that the company of his friends wished him to assure Mr. Sawtelle of their continued interest in his welfare. At the close of his remarks he handed the retiring pastor a purse containing $587, which the friends desired him to present as a slight token of their esteem. Mr. Sawtelle very happily replied, assuring them that the gift was appreciated and that he should cherish the memory of the good people as long as life should last. The assemblage disbursed at 10:30 and all felt that it was a cherished event in the history of the town.

Mrs. Geo. A. Lamkin with her sister Mrs. Baker of Towanda went to Troy today to see their father Brewster Long, whose condition is now considered very serious.
