HOT COMPETITION

The clothing business in Sayre is getting hot Today H. A. Kaufman started a wagon out decorated with advertising matter amid a blowing of horns, and trumpets and a jingling of sleigh bells. The wagon was a blinger and if there is anything in advertising it ought to do the business.

THE EXPECTED HAS HAPPENED

Congressman Lilley Notifies Citizen's Committee That He Is About to Recommend the Appointment of E. J. Connelly as Postmaster of Sayre

W. T. Goodnow, president of the Sayre Land and Water Company; J. Henry Price, deputy postmaster of Sayre; I. Henry Stephens, Lehigh Valley engineer, and T. P. Maney, contractor, left last night on a midnight train for Washington, D.C. These gentlemen are in Washington today to enter a protest against the proposed appointment of E. J. Connelly as postmaster of Sayre.
Early last summer when Mial E. Lilley, the present congressman from this district, presented the name of Mr. Connelly to the department at Washington for postmaster of Sayre a committee composed of representative citizens of Sayre went to Washington and vigorously opposed the appointment on the ground that it would be against the express wish of the majority of the citizens of this place. The protest entered at that time resulted in the matter being held up and at a subsequent meeting of the committee a promise was secured from Congressman Lilley that he would make no further move in the matter without first giving notice.
Since that time quietness has reigned supreme so far as postoffice matters were concerned. It has been generally conceded, however, that when the fall election was over that Mr. Lilley would move Mr. Connelly's appointment. The conjecture was correct, as the events of yesterday will prove. Yesterday afternoon W. T. Goodnow, chairman of the citizen's committee, received a communication from Congressman Lilley, in which the latter stated that he was about to send the nomination of Mr. Connelly to Washington, as the postoffice department was urging him to take action and recommend some man for the office of postmaster at Sayre.
Immediately upon receipt of this letter Mr. Goodnow and the gentlemen named above resolved to go to Washington at once, as it was confidently believed that after writing the letter to Mr. Goodnow, and thereby keeping his promise, that Mr. Lilley's next move would be to send the name of Mr. Connelly to Washington. Although this may be mere assumption on the part of the committee they have nevertheless lost no time and are in Washington today to defeat, if possible, Congressman Lilley's plans in the matter.

INSTALLED NEW PUMP

The Utopian barber shop is now equipped with a Wonder pump which is used for the purpose of drying the face after you have enjoyed a clean shave, and also to blow the little hairs from the back of your neck after you have submitted to the hair cutting operation. This pump is one of the best devices of this kind on the market and is giving excellent satisfaction to the patrons of the Utopian.

PENSIONED FOR LIFE

E. P. Wilbur, one of the Lehigh's well known officials at South Bethlehem, has retired his coachman, James Grove, with full salary during life. He has also been presented a comfortable brick dwelling. Grove was in Mr. Wilbur's service continuously for 40 years, but advanced age has rendered the faithful servant no longer fit for active service.

INJURED AT THE SHOPS

George B. Baxter, a resident of Waverly, suffered a painful laceration of the ring finger of the right hand this morning while handling an equalizer at the new shops.

FOUR BOYS CHARGED WITH SERIOUS CRIME

Taken in Custody Last Night on Complaint of I. A. Hart, Who Says They Broke Into His Planing Mill and Stole Tools.

Floyd Vancise, his brother John Viscise, Leon Woolcott and Howard Draper, boys ranging in age from 14 to 20 years, and all residing on the east side, were arraigned before Justice C. S. Gay last night on charges of burglary and malicious mischief. I. A. Hart, proprietor of the planing mill on Thomas avenue, was the complainant. He alleges that for some time past he has been missing tools and various other articles from the mill and charges the four young men named above as being the parties who could account for the disappearance of the articles. Mr. Hart alleges that window lights in the mill were broken in order to effect entrance. A warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Constable Brougham who took the young men in custody last night. Upon being arraigned they waived examination and were held to court in the sum of $100 bail on each charge. Bondsmen were furnished and they were released from custody.
The young men admitted having been guilty of the malicious mischief part of the charge, but denied having taken the tools.

"ALONG THE KENNEBEC"

Quaint New England folks, whose fund of humor appears to be endless, picturesque scenery, and honest love forms the basis for the plot of "Along the Kennebec," the latest successful play of New England life, which will be seen at the Loomis opera house on Monday night, November 13. The play deals with the story of a waif, afterwards an heiress, who is being deprived of her rights by a woman who attended her mother on her deathbed, and who, with the assistance of a male accomplice, tries to secure the fortune of the girl and brand her sweetheart a thief. Like all New England plays laughter must intermingle with tears and several new and original types have been introduced. There is a Swedish maid servant and a stutering hotel waiter, a gushing spinster, an almost indispensable character to bucolic plays pursued by elderly beaux, whose attempt at a contest in the field of love is almost ludicrous in its seriousness. Another novel creation is an overgrown country lumpkin, who seldom speaks but makes his presence felt by continuous whistling. No matter where he is, he is always whistling. The humor is so carefully blended with sentiment that just as you are on the verge of tears something humorous happens which turns the tide to exuberant laughter. No play of recent years has had a more sumptuous production in point of scenic detail, and the production in this city will be given with careful attention.

DOTY CLAIMED HIS SHACK WAS ROBBED

And After Securing Warrants for Arrest of Alleged Guilty Parties Falls Into the Clutches of the Law Himself

Lewis C. Doty owns a small "shack" on the other side of the Susquehanna river near the state line and some time ago a quantity of fishing tackle and a piece of galvanized stove pipe were taken therefrom. Yesterday he came to Sayre and went before Justice Gay who issued a warrant which authorized an officer to search the premises of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight and Mrs. John York. Constable George Fice was given the document, made the search, recovered part of the alleged stolen property and this morning placed the defendants named in the warrant under arrest.

In the meantime, Doty, the complainant, had fallen under the intoxicating influence of various malt and spirituous liquors that are sold in Sayre and was picked up late last night in a helpless condition. He spent the night in the lockup and this morning was released long enough to appear against the people whose arrest he had caused. One of the women stated that her husband was the party guilty of breaking into the shack and stealing the articles mentioned, and that he had migrated from the country when he discovered that trouble was forthcoming. As there was no evidence to hold the defendants on the charge of larceny they were released. Doty will be compelled to answer to the court on the charge of public intoxication.

BETTER MAIL SERVICE

The indications are that the Lehigh Valley will provide better morning mail service for Sayre. Recently postmaster Turner of Towanda circulated a petition asking for a morning train that would bring the Philadelphia and New York papers into this section at a seasonable hour in the morning. The petition was circulated in Sayre by deputy postmaster Price and was signed by a large number. Recently the Lehigh officials have decided to look into the matter and there are strong probabilities that favorable action will be taken.

WERE GIVEN A SURPRISE

YOUNG MAN VICTIM HUNTING ACCIDENT

While Climbing Over a Fence Gun Explodes, Causing Probably Fatal Injuries

J. Walter Wardwell of Liberty Corners, this county, met with an accident yesterday which will probably cost him his life. He was hunting rabbits and in climbing over a fence his gun was accidentally discharged. The contents of the weapon struck him in the head, behind the right ear, tearing away a portion of the skull. Physicians removed the pieces of splintered bone and dressed the wound. A hole two inches wide and four inches long was broken into the skull. The accident happened about 10 o'clock and it was two hours before doctors could reach him. He is the only son of Wm. Wardwell, who for several years has conducted a store at Liberty Corners.

PASSED THROUGH SAYRE

About two hundred Cornell students have passed through Sayre within the past twenty-four hours on their way to Princeton to attend the Princeton-Cornell foot ball game which is being played this afternoon. The Cornell team went through Sayre last night. It is composed of husky fellows who wear hair of the proper foot ball length and they look as if they would be ready to eat most anything in the shape of foot ball artists that came in their way.

HEARING ADJOURNED

The hearing in the matter of the petition to the county commissioners and county auditors to fix the fees of the county treasurer at a sum not to exceed $1,500 a year, which was held in Towanda yesterday, was adjourned until the first Monday in January, without action being taken. The county commissioners claim that this is a matter which properly belongs to the new commissioners to take action upon.
