PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Laura Wetherill of Desmond street, is confined to her home by illness.

Miss Anna Smalzer is in Tunkhannock for a few days visit with friends and relatives.

J. N. Califf, Esq., ex-register and recorder of Towanda is transacting business in Sayre today.

Geo. Morgan of Trenton, N. J. has been called to Sayre on account of the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. H. D. Morgan of Lockhart street, who has been removed to the hospital where she will undergo an operation.

Miss Floy Lilley of Towanda, who has been a guest of Mrs. S. T. Harleman for several days, returned to her home this morning. She was accompanied by Mrs. Harleman who will spend Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Kzer.

LEGITIMATE CLOTHING SALE

The sale of high grade clothing which is to be inaugurated by Murphy & Blish, the American clothiers and tailors of Sayre, on Monday next will be of a strictly legitimate nature. These well known and reliable clothiers have placed price reductions on each and every garment in their vast stock that are bona fide in each instance. They have planned for an immense sale and from present indications their stock will not last long at the prices named in the big bills and the newspapers, which they are distributing about the surrounding country and which you should read and profit thereby.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS' MONTHLY MEETING

Matter of Allowing Athens Township Pupils to Attend Sayre Schools Brought to Attention of Board, but No Action was Taken.

The regular monthly meeting of the Sayre borough school directors was held in the high school building last night, Thompson, Cook, Brainerd, Baltz and Whittle being present.

Several matters of more or less importance were called to the attention of the board and discussed by the members. It developed that the deed which was recently executed to Dr. Rice for the sale of the old school lot in West Sayre did not correctly state the boundaries, and the president and secretary are authorized to have a new deed drawn with the necessary corrections.

Attorney Paul Maynard, representing a large number of residents residing in Athens township immediately west of the Sayre borough line, presented a petition containing several signatures, which requested the borough directors to allow children residing in that portion of the township named, to attend the Sayre schools and collect the tuitions from the school authorities of the township, pursuant to a legislative enactment. The directors expressed themselves as willing to grant the request, but as the township would be compelled to pay the tuitions it was decided that the latter should present the matter to the board.

A motion was made and carried accepting the bid of the First National Bank of Sayre to take the West Sayre school building bonds at par.

A statement by Secretary Whittle that he had been unable to secure from former secretary Adam the minutes and other records of the transactions of the board now in Mr. Adam's possession caused a prolonged discussion. Director Brainerd contended that Mr. Whittle should use any means that he saw fit to get possession of the books. Mr. Whittle, however, stated that he had exhausted all his resources and asked the advice of the board. After considerable talk President Thompson volunteered to personally attend to the matter and produce the much desired records at the next regular meeting.

A large number of bills were audited and ordered paid, including the teachers' and janitors' salaries.

Superintendent Stetler's report showed that the total number of names enrolled in the various schools during the present term had been 1267. Attendance during the month, 1224, average attendance 1108.

Following the superintendent's report the board went into executive session.

"ALONG THE KENNEBEC"

One of the reasons for the success of "Along the Kennebec" which comes to the Loomis next Monday, is its peculiar quality of attracting many people besides those classed among the regular theatre goers, as there is something in the title which seems to appeal to this class of people, and after witnessing the performance they become the best advertisers as the play is devoid of any nauseating features, causing honest and hearty laughter without resorting to horse play methods, to bring out the bright comedy flashed in the play.

INITIATED FOUR CANDIDATES

Four candidates were admitted into membership in the local organization of the N. P. L. at a regular meeting held last night. A large delegation was present from the Waverly Lodge and four applications for membership were also received.

WANTS TIDINGS OF HIS LOST CHILD

Sayre Man Who Has Had No Information Concerning His Daughter For Twenty Years

For 20 years C. R. Bennett, of No. 111 Hoover street, has been anxiously awaiting tidings of his daughter, Louise Depuie Bennett, who, shortly after her mother's death, and when a mere infant was placed in charge of her grandmother who lived in Chicago. The birth of Louise occurred in 1883 and she would now be about 23 years old. When the girl baby was given to her grandmother there was an understanding that the former's father should hear from her at least once a month. For two years he was given information concerning his infant daughter. Then letters which he sent to the grandmother were unanswered, and for 20 long years Mr. Bennett has had no tidings from either the grandmother or his child. In the meantime he has resorted to every means at his command to ascertain whether she be living or dead, but every effort has proven unsuccessful. Recently Mr. Bennett told his story to Rev. F. T. Cady, rector of the Church of the Redeemer, and the clergyman promised to assist him. The Bennett family have always been connected with the Episcopal church and it was determined to advertise in the various church papers. Accordingly an advertisement was prepared about two weeks ago and has since been published, but it is too early to tell whether it will produce the desired result.

The girl has an aunt residing in Knoxville, Tenn., and also another aunt at Brunswick, Georgia. These relatives, however, are unable to give any information concerning the girl. Mr. Bennett's parents were deaf mutes. He is a hard working man who has many friends. The latter will hope that he may be successful in finding some information concerning the whereabouts of his long lost daughter.

HORSE RAN AWAY

A horse attached to a wagon, the forward running gear of which had been badly broken and twisted, was captured on South Lehigh avenue near the corner of Lockhart last night by two men and taken to Loomis' livery stable to await the appearance of the owner. It was later ascertained that the rig was owned by A. M. Ayers of Desmond street. It appears that Mr. Ayers was out driving and the horse, which is a rather spirited animal, became frightened and ran away. Mr. Ayers was thrown out and sustained a few bruises about the head and shoulders but was not seriously injured. The horse, released from restraint, ran up Desmond until captured by the two men. The forward wheels of the wagon were broken and the horse was badly cut about the hind legs.

EVERYBODY LAUGHED

Laughter, continuous and unbroken prevailed at the Loomis last night. "A Hot Old Time," presented by a rather clever company, pleased a large audience. Like all farce comedies "A Hot Old Time" is constructed for laughing purposes only and if the storms of merriment that greeted its appearance in Waverly last night can be taken as indication it fills the bill. There are three comedians in the show upon whom the greater part of the work devolves, and they took advantage of all the opportunities.

TYPO UNION MEETING

There will be a meeting of the typographical Union Monday evening, Nov. 13, at the union rooms. Business of importance will come before the meeting and a full attendance is desired.

HE WAS CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS ON

Bird Thief Was Apprehended Just As He Was in the Act of Getting Away With His Plunder.

A certain Sayre dentist who now and then becomes tired of the irksome duties connected with yanking out aching molars and delving into the hidden recesses of decayed grinders, at this particular season of the year hies himself to the woods to take a shot at the game birds which are said to be plentiful. Upon returning from one of these trips the other day he brought with him three as fine partridges as ever drummed a hollow log. Now the doctor of dental surgery is particularly interested in a fair young woman and he conceived the idea, that as he is a bachelor, and had no one to cook the birds for him, that it would be a gracious act to give them to her. Most any one would accept three fine partridges as a present, and the young woman referred to was no exception to the rule. She took the birds, with many thanks, and at once proceeded to tie their legs together. Then she hung them outside a second story window to "keep," the atmosphere of her rooms being too warm. The window referred to faces one of the busiest streets in Sayre. Presently the birds fell under the observation of a trio of young men who immediately planned to confiscate them. A hook attached to a long pole was first tried. This was unsuccessful so a long narrow box was stood upon end and one of the young men climbed to the top, and after considerable trouble succeeded in breaking the string which held the birds fast to the window sill. They fell directly into the hands of a thick set, burghularious looking fellow, who stuffed the birds under his coat with the deftness of a chicken thief, and then he hastily started to vamoose.

Before he was out of sight the young lady to whom the birds had been given thrust her head out of the window, and calling the man with the partridges by name, asked him to please return them. Pulling his shoulders well up around his ears, the thick set fellow kept on and went into Taylor's second hand store where he attempted to pawn his plunder for the price of two beers and a package of cigarette tobacco.

In the meantime the young woman got busy. She called Officer Julius Voegel and the two went in search of the thief. They found him but he had disposed of the birds. After some persuasion on the part of the officer, who threatened to land him in the bug house, the thief was induced to go to the rear of Hoag's grocery store, where he had thrown the birds, thinking to escape detection. He offered them to the owner but the young lady insisted on his carrying them back to her rooms.

In the presence of a large crowd which had collected and looking like a man who had just been released from the penitentiary, he carried the partridges to the young woman's room. She refuses to prosecute on the grounds of mental irresponsibility.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Kairon Grover of Wysox was admitted this forenoon.

Mrs. Harry Morgan of Lockhart street underwent an operation this morning.

Mrs. Ella Hudson of Sayre and Mrs. Nora Benjamin of Durelle were discharged today.

A truck loaded heavily with flues fell on John Donovan's superior and badly smashed that member.

DOINGS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

What Has Been Going on During the Week Among the Pupils in Sayre's Educational Institution

Joseph Wales, '09, is slowly recovering from an illness.

Agnes Cummings of Towanda has entered the high school.

Miss Agnes Weaver, '92, was happily married Wednesday.

E. M. Thompson, president of the board, visited the school Friday.

Howard Irving and Harry LaPlant, '05, visited the high school Tuesday.

Miss Cora Wilcox and C. L. Burlingame, former teachers, attended the lecture on Friday.

Some high school students seem to think history is a place where great men go to be forgotten.

Some instructors say that money talks, but their pupils judge they never keep it long enough to hear what it says.

W. A. Baltz, treasurer of the board, visited the schools Tuesday and incidentally handed the teachers their checks.

A very interesting and instructive lecture was given in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Audubon Society by Rev. M. S. Godshall, Ph. D., pastor of the Methodist church of Waverly, Friday afternoon. The talk was upon Nature, especially birds and insects, their habits and usefulness. The borough teachers attended in a body. The lecture was thoroughly enjoyed.
