"All the news that's fit to print"

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1905.

Sport in Kentucky.
A crowd of our most influential citizens had a hustling time Saturday evening. Raz Barlow jumped a rabbit over on Muskrat ridge and soon a large posse had joined in the race. The rabbit was at last treed under the post office, but not until all the fixtures and stock of groceries had been moved out and the floor torn up was the feet-footed little animal captured. A barbecue followed with a barrer dance.—Hogwallow Kentuckian.

Studious Monarch.
The czar has a habit of spending more time in his study than almost any other ruler in the world. The czarina is always seated with him while he is at work in this room. In this respect he stands almost alone among great monarchs, as nearly all of them prefer to have women out of the way when they are immersed in the business of state in their own private rooms.

Waverly—Officer Patrick Corcoran captured a drunk last evening who appeared on Broad street in such a condition that it was needful that the strong arm of the law render him support. His stay in the town hall over night gave him time to recover somewhat from the effect of his spree, and he was allowed to depart this morning, after paying three dollars for the entertainment accorded him.

McNITT, NOT NITT

Waverly—In a local referring to C. B. McNitt, the "Mc" was inadvertently omitted and the name appeared as Nitt. Mr. McNitt is not a minus quantity, and we wish to rectify any false impression that the error might have produced.

OPENING NIGHT OF SPAULDING'S FAIR

Attendance Good and Fine Entertainment Was Furnished During the Evening

Waverly—Spaulding Hose fair opened last evening at Stone's hall. Considering the weather and outside attractions, the attendance was very good for the opening night. The entertainment furnished by the ever popular Boys' band was much appreciated. Five door prizes were given, including a ton of coal.

The hall is very tastefully decorated with a large number of flags, and the booths are well filled. The grocery store has an air of prosperity, and the fancy booth is well stocked with many articles useful and ornamental.

There are a number of articles to be disposed of, including a two horse power steam engine, two lavatories, a steel range and a big leather davenport which several horse companies are contesting for. There are five door prizes to be given this evening, and a good entertainment is promised.

Never Saw Anything to Equal It.
That is what a Rochester lady said of Dr. Rand's Celery Remedy. "My nerves were worn, my blood weak, and I felt all run down, with no appetite. I tried Dr. Rand's Celery Remedy, and it did me so much good that I continued to take it, and I never felt better in my life." It is composed of roots, herbs and celery. Get a free package of this great herb medicine, and try it to-night. Large packages 25 and 50 cents. H. L. Gillespie and Child, Waltman & Young, Sayre.
