Lively Runaway

Athens—A farmer's team hitched to a platform wagon was standing in front of G. L. Robert's hardware store Saturday afternoon when they became frightened and broke loose, running into some washing machines which went flying into the air, and then there was a lively struggle and a general mixup.

The washing machines got tangled in the harness, the horses fell on the pavement, and the fire flew for a few moments when they got on to their feet and started on a lively run. Women and children went into Luckey's store to get out of danger. Just as the horses were getting in their best licks for a run through town E. Newton caught them and their race was ended. One of the horses was injured in the hind leg and the wagon was somewhat broken but no serious damage was done.
