CHARGES HUSBAND WITH ASSAULT

Not Content With This, Wife Says Her Spouse Is Also Guilty of "General Cussedness."

Mrs. Julia Carter made a complaint against her husband, George Carter, last evening, charging him with assault in the third degree and "general cussedness." The complainant seemed able to substantiate both charges.

Justice Hoagland issued a warrant and the officers went to Carter's residence to make the arrest. They found him in bed and he made strenuous objections to having his slumbers disturbed. His protests were of no avail, however, and he was placed in the town hall.

He was in an ugly mood this morning and demanded a trial, claiming that he was not guilty. When his wife and two sons appeared however, and he heard what they were prepared to swear to, he concluded that he was not entirely blameless and plead guilty. He was given three months and will abide at the county jail for that length of time.
