ORGAN RECITAL A GRAND SUCCESS

Large Audience Listened to an Unusually Fine Musical Program at the Methodist Church Last Night

The organ recital and concert given in the Methodist church last night, commemorative of the installation of the magnificent new pipe organ, was a most successful affair, and was attended by an audience numbering over six hundred. The church will clear in the neighborhood of one hundred dollars as a result of the enterprise, and those who attended were given an opportunity of listening to a musical program which has probably never been equalled in this valley.

The regular church choir of twenty-eight voices, assisted by the Rev. Charles Smith, baritone. Mrs. George Hill, contralto, and R. L. McAll, organist, rendered a program that was delightful. Mr. McAll is the organist of the Church of the Covenant in New York city. He came to Sayre preceded by an excellent reputation, and his work last night proved beyond a peradventure that he is entitled to all the good things that have heretofore been said concerning him. His selections were of the understandable kind. Instead of using classics that are out of reach of the ordinary individual, Mr. McAll selected themes that were for the most part familiar to every one present and therefore greatly appreciated. He is a perfect master of the pipe organ, and under his magic touch the instrument produced a volume of harmony that at times was entrancing.

The work of the choir was excellent. Under the direction of C. J. Cary several choruses were rendered in a decidedly pleasing manner. Mrs. Hill and Mr. Smith sang solos of a high order of merit, and the entire evening's entertainment was worthy of all the good things that are being said about it today.

The new instrument, which is one of the best of its kind, proved to be all that is claimed for it, and the choir and member of the congregation will wonder how they were ever able to get along without it. It reflects much credit upon those who were responsible for its installation.

LEHIGH EMPLOYEES SUFFER INJURIES

Trio of Accidents Reported at the Hospital Today—All Are of a Minor Character

While assisting in jacking up a car at Tunkhannock yesterday afternoon, Herbert E. Pratt, a Lehigh freight conductor was struck by a flying wedge and sustained a painful laceration of the nose, a cut on the upper lip, and one of his teeth was loosened. He went to the hospital where the injuries were given attention.

Frank D. Wayman, a blacksmith's helper, was struck on the right ring finger by a sledge in the hands of a fellow workman and sustained a severe laceration.

Wm. Shanburger, an employee of the shops, suffered a contusion and laceration of the right elbow while engaged in lifting a heavy iron frame.

NO QUORUM

The regular meeting of the borough council scheduled for last night failed to materialize. Seven members are necessary to do business, but at 8:10 o'clock only six were in their seats, and after vigorously using the telephone for a half hour or more in an unsuccessful effort to reach another councilman, adjournment was taken until Friday evening next.

WRECK AT HINKLES WAS EXPENSIVE

Twelve Gondolas Were Completely Demolished and the Loss to the Company Will Reach Many Thousand Dollars

The wreck which occurred on Saturday was one of the worst that the company has encountered in years. Between ten and eleven o'clock a D. S. & S. coal train consisting of fifty cars and drawn by engine No. 19 left Hazel Creek bridge for tide water. It passed through Weatherly safely, but at Black Creek a stop was made for several minutes. This stop was the cause of the wreck that followed. The train moved on and when under full headway it rounded the curve at Hinkles and crashed into the rear end of a freight train that was running at a slow rate of speed. The crew in the caboose of the forward train jumped and saved their lives. The clash of the two trains was terrific, and in an instant both tracks were covered with a mass of twisted iron and wood, splintered into a thousand pieces. Twelve expensive gondola cars were completely demolished and are almost a total loss to the company. The damage will reach many thousand dollars. It was twenty-four hours before the road was cleared for traffic.

AGED WOMAN MET SERIOUS MISHAP

Miss Parmelia Spring Fell in Her Room and Sustains Fracture of the Hip

Miss Parmelia Spring, 94 years old, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Thompson at No. 209 Spring street, fell in her room last night about nine o'clock and sustained a fracture of the hip. Dr. Harnden was called and made the injured woman as comfortable as possible but on account of the location of the fracture nothing could be done to reduce it.

Three years ago Miss Spring met with a similar misfortune by falling from a street car in Waverly. She recovered from the fall and was able to walk around. Miss Spring is a member of one of the oldest families in this section, and her father, Dr. Spring, was the first physician to settle in the valley.

ARMY OF TRAMPS INFEST THE VALLEY

Ice House in Northern Part of Town Literally Packed With Members of the Never-Sweat Fraternity

Six burly greasy looking knights of the road, members of the ancient order of Out-of-Work, and liberal patrons of the means of transportation offered by the side door palace cars, applied to the police last night for lodging. They were given quarters in the borough "bug house" and this morning were released. The men were members of a gang that has made its headquarters in an ice house in the northern part of the town for the past three or four days. Last night Officer Sisson, who is on duty in Milltown, telephoned Chief Walsh that there were twenty or more of the hobo fraternity occupying the ice house, and that they had made application to him for a night's lodging. As the borough is not equipped with the necessary means to care for a regiment the chief was forced to refuse the request of the men. Six of the men, however, came to Sayre late in the evening and as the thermometer was crowding close to the zero mark and they were thin as a clad, the chief out of the goodness of his heart gave them the privilege of occupying the narrow cells in the lockup. Just why the tramps are congregating in such numbers in this valley at the present time is not known. Nearly every train brings in two or three and unless they are routed within the next few days there will be an army of them with which to contend. It is said that they are assembling for the purpose of holding a reunion, but this would seem to be an error, as an ice house is not a particularly desirable place in which to hold one of these events. Several years ago, however, a gang of nearly one hundred gathered in the woods near East Waverly and for three or four days held high carnival. They were well supplied with eatables and liquid refreshments and made life miserable for the residents of that section. Finally the officers got after them and put them to rout. It is said that this valley offers unusual inducements to the members of the fraternity for holding these family affairs and that the recent sudden influx is likely to result in a repetition of the event which occurred some years ago.

A BAD FAMILY

Verily the offspring of Lyman Heeman of Towanda are bad ones. His seven sons have between them served fifteen terms in the penitentiaries of this state, New York, Michigan and Ohio, and yesterday Simon Johnson, aged 15 years, and a grandson of Lyman Heeman, and John Heeman, Lyman's son, aged 11, were sent to the house of refuge at Glenn's Mills. Officer Guy Hollon stated to the court that he wanted the boys to be taken away from their present home as they were liable to grow up horse thieves, if not more dangerous criminals. The family of Lyman Heeman has the worst record of any in Bradford county. Their crimes range from horse stealing down to robbing chicken coops and stealing coal from the railroad. The judge admonished the officers to keep a sharp lookout on the entire family, and especially the head of the household.

MILK BOTTLE THIEVES

Miller street residents are complaining of the depredations of milk bottle thieves. Nearly every night some one's front or back door step is visited and the milk bottle that has been left standing thereon by the milkman is missing. It is thought that tramps are responsible for the work. A watch will be kept and unless the guilty parties desist they are likely to fall into the meshes of the law.

TOWANDA BRIDGE MATTER CLOSED

Predictions Made in The Record a Week Ago Fulfilled by the Action of the Lehigh Officials

Today's Towanda Daily Review prints a long story concerning the effort that has been made by the Business Men's Association of that place to secure the location of a bridge across the Susquehanna at point farther down the stream, and thereby get a passenger station in a convenient location for the citizens of the place as well as the traveling public. The matter has been pending for some years, but today the Review announces that negotiations are closed and that the Lehigh will build a bridge and a station at points most desired by the officials of the road. In other words it means that the object for which the business men of Towanda have been striving for years has been defeated by the refusal of the company to comply with various requests.

A week or more ago The Daily Record announced the fact that the company would ultimately refuse the request of the citizens of Towanda. The Record was in possession of reliable information to that effect which is now verified by the facts. The Record also stated that the Lehigh would erect a bridge above the present one and that a new station would be located at a point above the round house. This statement has also proved to be correct as it is announced that the company's engineer has for a long time favored this plan and that it has the approval of the officials.
