DEPEW HAS RESIGNED

New York Life Chiefs Also to Retire.

AFTER INVESTIGATION IS ENDED.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew May Quit His Federal Post and Go Ahead-Nugget Probe Said to Have Gone Deep.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The resignation of Senator Chauncey M. Depew as a director of the Equitable Life Assurance society has been received by President Morton.

President Morton said that the resignation would be acted upon at a meeting of the directors on Dec. 27. Senator Depew's letter was very brief. It was dated Washington, Dec. 4, and was signed "The Hon. Chauncey M. Depew." The letter said:

"I hereby tender my resignation as director of the Equitable Life Assurance society. Senator Depew's experience as a witness before the Armstrong committee is supposed to have weakened his determination to stick. 'Our rancorous friend up the river' was a blow that he could not fend off. His admissions of the part he played in raising salaries was not pleasing to his friends, neither were they satisfied with his explanation of what he did to earn his salary of $20,000 a year, which was paid to him up to the time the Equitable troubles began.

A persistent report was current in political circles that Senator Depew had prepared his letter of resignation from the United States senate. He was deeply hurt by the sharp criticisms of his actions in the press of this state, and the report had it that he intended to quit politics and go abroad for a long stay.

Both President John A. McCall and Vice President George W. Perkins of the New York Life Insurance company are going to retire from office in that company. Mr. Perkins' retirement will probably take place soon and Mr. McCall's before the next annual election of trustees in April.

For several days there have been rumors to the effect that Mr. Perkins contemplated retiring as vice president of the company next April, but when he was questioned as to the truth of the report all he would say on the subject was, "I have nothing to say."

Mr. Perkins will probably have something to say to his fellow trustees at their next regular meeting next week. For it was said by one of his staunchest friends on the board that Mr. Perkins some time ago let the trustees know that they could have his resignation.

There is and has been for some time a division of opinion among the trustees of the New York Life as to the propriety of having President McCall or Mr. Perkins resign while the legislative committee is still doing business. The trustees of the New York Life have always contended that whatever mistakes may have been made by either Mr. McCall or Mr. Perkins were merely errors of judgment. Nothing in the way of syndicate transactions inured to the benefit of President McCall's or Vice President Perkins' pocket.

In these and many other respects Messrs. McCall and Perkins differ very much from the former Alexander-Hyde head of the Equitable and the recently deposed McCurdy regime in the Mutual, and for that reason it has for a long time been the hope of many of the trustees of the New York Life that Messrs. McCall and Perkins could remain until the annual election of officers next spring, because by so doing it would enable the New York Life company to go on record as being the only one of the big three life insurance companies of this city which got through the legislative investigation unscathed.

With that end in view the trustees have hitherto refused to listen either to President McCall or to Vice President Perkins when they began some time ago to talk of resigning.

Contrary to expectations, the trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance company failed to elect a new president at their meeting. Temporary President Frederick Cromwell came out from the meeting and said:

"We merely passed a few bylaws that were recommended at a previous meeting. Everything that was done was done unanimously, and the utmost harmony prevailed. The matter of the resignation of Robert H. McCurdy was not discussed."

"How about Charles A. Peabody? Was his name presented for president?" was asked.

"Nothing was done about that," said Mr. Cromwell.

The Gem Hotel Destroyed. SARATOGA, N. Y., Dec. 7.—The Gem hotel, owned by ex-Village Trustee Edward J. Hefferman, has been wrecked by fire. The hotel was closed for the winter. The origin of the fire is unknown. The loss is $7,500. The Gem is the property that Joseph F. Ullman and William M. Mackin of New York made an unsuccessful effort to buy last season. It adjoins their big purchase on Spring street, where they will erect a clubhouse and casino.

Hungarians Want Suffrage. BUDAPEST, Hungary, Dec. 7.—The boycott of the composers against the newspapers which are opposing universal suffrage is extending. Sixteen dailies either could not be published or appeared in restricted form.

Follow Ferve Will Not Down. HAYANA, Dec. 7.—Four new cases of yellow fever are reported here. There are now thirty-two cases under treatment.

PATRICK SENTENCED TO DIE.

Lawyer Who Has Fought Long For Makes Personal Appeal.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—After his lawyer had been arguing before Judge Roberts in the criminal branch of the supreme court for two hours Albert T. Patrick, who was brought here from Sing Sing to be sentenced to death for the murder of William Marsh Rice, an aged millionaire, arose and made an impassioned plea to the court not to pronounce the death sentence on him.

He said that he intended to carry his case to the United States court of appeals and that even if that court should pronounce the appeal would set as a stay of execution. He begged the judge not to sentence him until the court of last resort had passed on his case, and the judge was so impressed with the prisoner's earnestness that he allowed him time to consult with his counsel.

After Patrick had spoken to his lawyers for a few minutes he began to address the court again. At the conclusion of his remarks the judge sentenced him to die in the electric chair during the week beginning Jan. 22. He was then handcuffed to State Detective Jackson again for the return to Sing Sing prison.

As the court pronounced sentence Patrick calmly drew himself up and said in a quiet tone of voice, "Which the defendant accepts under the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States." Then he sat down quietly. This provision to which Patrick referred says that no person shall be deprived of their life or liberty without due process of law.

Patrick's speech in court was dramatic in the extreme. After his lawyer had finished speaking he arose to address the court. In the course of it he said: "What if William Marsh Rice should appear in court now? Such things have been known to happen." He contended that Rice had not been killed.

Patience and with but little of the old bulldog courage in his tones Patrick while on the way to the city repeated to a reporter his steadfast belief in the fact that he would eventually be set free. As he spoke, however, somebody passing remarked to a friend sitting across the aisle of the car: "There's Patrick. You know, he's the man that killed that old man—I forget his name."

Patrick later said: "When I finally leave the death house I shall do so absolutely vindicated. I shall leave a free man. I know I shall regain my liberty in the end. I shall keep on fighting for it to the very end."

EGGS FOR "DIVINE SARAH."

Quebec Residents Aligned Star of the Parliament.

QUEBEC, Dec. 7.—Mme. Bernhardt had the experience of being saluted here with bad eggs. The French actress gave three performances to crowded houses in spite of the clerical denunciations. The cause of all the trouble was an article which appeared in a French Canadian paper purporting to be an interview with Mme. Bernhardt. In it she was made to say that Canada was a magnificent country to look at, but its people had no literary or artistic tastes, no culture or refinement.

Mme. Bernhardt waded up her diatribe by asking what could be expected of a people made up of French Canadians, English Canadians, Sioux and Iroquois Canadians and Irish Canadians, whose chief attributes were their willingness to be ground under the heels of the Roman Catholic priests.

When the performance was concluded the audience went away, but about 200 men hung around the doors, and as Mr. Max, one of the performers, made his appearance he was struck with an egg.

A detachment of about fifty policemen had mustered behind the Market hall and marched down to the auditorium. A squad of ten proceeded to the Canadian Pacific railway station. This stopped the intended trouble at the auditorium, but as Mme. Bernhardt got into her sleigh eggs were thrown at her. Some of her company in open sleighs received the full force of the onslaught. Mme. Bernhardt left Quebec for Ottawa with still more fervid views on Canadian culture.

Found the Magnetic North Pole. SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 7.—Major Glassford, in charge of the government cable office here, received a message addressed to Nanzen, the Norwegian explorer, at Christiania, from Captain Ronald Amundsen of the ship Gjøra at Fort Egbert, Eagle City, Alaska, saying that Captain Amundsen, who set out in a small craft with a crew of eight men, has found the north magnetic pole, whose discovery is originally credited to Hoss in 1831, although scientists doubt that Hoss really located this elusive guide to the compasses of the world.

Mrs. Berry Captured at Last. GIRARD, Kan., Dec. 7.—Mrs. Ina Berry, the insane woman who has held the fort in a Frisco car in the yards here since Friday night, was captured and locked up in the city jail until the probate court can try her on the lunacy warrant. Ammonia was poured into the car through a broken window.

When the woman was half suffocated policemen broke down the door and overpowered her. She fired once, but the bullet went wild. There was one bullet left in her revolver.

Negro Held For Harrison's Murder. KINGSTON, N. Y., Dec. 7.—Cornell Vanagsen, the negro accused of the murder of Oscar Harrison near Woodstock on Tuesday last, was arrested last night near Cairo, Greene county.

SACHAROFF KILLED.

Ozar's Ex-Minister of War Shot by Woman.

WAS SENT TO QUELL SARATOV RIOTS

St. Petersburg Cut Off From London Since Thursday Last-Fall of M. Witte Said to Be Imminent.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in a dispatch sent by way of Eydrkubnen, East Prussia, says: "Lieutenant General Sacharoff, former minister of war, has been assassinated at Saratov."

"The government had deputed General Sacharoff to visit the province of Saratov for the purpose of quelling the agrarian riots there. 'A woman belonging to the so called 'flying columns' of the revolutionary movement called at the house of the governor of Saratov at noon and asked to see General Sacharoff."

"She fired three revolver shots at the general, killing him on the spot. 'Count Witte charged Lieutenant General Kudiger, minister of war, with the task of breaking the news to M. Sacharoff."

"The event has created a profound impression in St. Petersburg owing to fears that the revolutionists here will follow the example thus set. 'The specter of a military dictatorship under Treppoff, which has been looming on the horizon, is slowly gaining consistency and sharpness of outline."

"There is much annoyance at the American embassy over reports that the marines who have arrived here were to form a guard for the embassy. It is explained that the men were sent to perform services in the embassy, where thoroughly trustworthy men are needed.

An official report says that the foreign office has not heard from their embassy at St. Petersburg since Nov. 30. The last communication relative to the British subjects in Russia said that most of those still in that country were business men who proposed to remain there.

A St. Petersburg dispatch via Helsinki, Finland, says that the situation does not improve at all. The worst features of the extension of the troubles in the army are coming in slowly from diverse regions. The mutinies at Kiev and Voronezh are not yet quelled, and it is now reported that outbreaks have occurred among various regiments in Poland.

Premier Witte's task is hourly becoming harder, and many persons sincerely believe that his downfall is imminent. The reactionary influences are now openly clamoring for repression and a dictator.

In the meantime the distracted premier, upon whose shoulders everything falls in addition to the many problems with which he is confronted, continues his negotiations with the zemstovists, whose aid in the present crisis he regards as vital.

The government made an effort to resume the post and telegraph services, but it was a dismal failure. Not a single wire from St. Petersburg, with the exception of the line to Tarskoo-Selo, operated by military telegraphers, is working.

HOME RULERS' ULTIMATUM.

Irish Nationalists' Conditions on Which They Will Aid Liberals.

DUBLIN, Dec. 7.—The Irish national convention was opened at the Mansion House under the presidency of John Redmond. There was a good gathering of members of parliament and delegates from all parts of the country.

Special interest was taken by those present at the convention in the advent of the new Liberal administration at Westminster. In this connection the following resolution will be proposed:

"We solemnly assert that no new system of government in Ireland will be accepted as satisfactory except a legislative assembly freely elected and representative of the people, with power to make laws for Ireland, and an executive government responsible to that assembly, and this convention declares that the Irish National party cannot enter into an alliance with or give permanent support to any English party or government which does not make the question of granting such an assembly and executive to Ireland the cardinal point of its programme."

Ask Clemency For Mrs. Rogers. CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 7.—The executive board of the United Women of the Republic, in session here, sent the following telegram, signed by Mrs. Stephen Buhner, president, to Governor Bell of Vermont: "The United Women of the Republic hereby ask you to extend clemency to Mary Rogers. It would be a shame and a disgrace in this enlightened day to execute a woman who for her actions was irresponsible at all times. We pray God will show you the way to avoid the execution of this woman."

France Adopts Separation Bill. PARIS, Dec. 7.—The senate after a long debate has adopted the bill for the separation of church and state by a vote of 181 against 102. The vote was announced in an enthusiastic manner and cries of "Long live the republic!" and "Long live liberty!"

Congress of American Republics. WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The third international congress of American republics will meet in Rio Janeiro, July 21, 1908. This decision was reached at a meeting of the executive council of the bureau held, presided over by Secretary Root.

CONGRESS TALKED CANAL.

Bourke Cockran, New York Member, Criticized Hepburn's Ideas.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—With an opportunity for unlimited debate on the subject of the Panama canal the house exhausted its oratory on that subject in a long session, and finally the bill appropriating $10,500,000 for canal work, which was the subject of discussion, was read for amendment and has been placed for its final passage.

The feature of the debate was the criticism indulged in by both Republicans and Democrats regarding the incompleteness of the statement of expenditures and estimates furnished by the canal commission. Mr. Hepburn, in charge of the bill, made some effort to show that while detailed estimates might be more satisfactory, at the same time members of the house were not in a position to pass critical judgment on estimates for such work prepared by expert engineers who held responsible positions and had been selected entirely because of their fitness.

Bourke Cockran (N. Y.) took decided exception to this attitude on the part of Mr. Hepburn, applied it as affecting all matters of appropriation and announced it as decidedly the wrong attitude of legislators. To enforce his argument he read the sentiment of the president in his message for economy and scrutiny of appropriations. The so called "press agent" of the canal commission was criticized by several speakers and lack of definite information as to the existence of such a position was shown. The place was declared to carry a salary of $10,000 a year, and some curiosity was manifested to know what were its duties.

In the senate Senator Culberson introduced a bill making it a felony for an insurance company or any other corporation to contribute money or anything of value toward the election of a president or a vice president of the United States. It is likewise made a felony for any person to knowingly use for such campaign purposes any money contributed by a corporation. The bill prescribes a penalty of not less than two years or more than twenty years' imprisonment.

There were also resolutions dealing with the question of the incorporation of interstate railroad companies and the contribution of funds to political parties by national banks.

IRISH TEAM WIN.

Special Prize For Six Hour Spin Won by Keegan and Logan.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Keegan and Logan clinched their claim to the special $50 prize offered by the management of the six day bicycle race to the team leading the greatest number of laps in six hours by leading the bunch for four consecutive hours. The prize was practically given to them, however, as none of the other riders disputed the Irish team's leadership.

Both are riding strong and show in no way the strain of pacing. They raised the average hourly speed from fourteen miles at noon to about eighteen miles and maintained it steadily. Although the garden was filled with an enthusiastic crowd, there have been few sprints. Occasionally when a fresh rider comes out to relieve his partner there is a little spurt, but these do not last for long.

Little Dusout of the Swiss-French team tried to get the lead shortly after 3 o'clock, but the American riders pocketed him and were roundly hissed by the crowd for so doing. Hearing the cries of disapproval, they opened up for the little fellow, but he was evidently sore at the treatment he had received, for he refused to take advantage of the opening and dropped back to his old place at the rear. Both he and his partner are in poor condition, and it is probable that they will quit very soon. The other eleven teams appear to be in excellent condition.

Field Trials at Waynesboro.

WAYNESBORO, Ga., Dec. 7.—The first series of the all age trials of the Eastern Field Trial association has opened here. Of the nine braces entered seven were run. The dogs who ran the best of the day were Hurd Cash, Gleum and Count Gladstone; Jesse Bodfield, Count Gladstone and Lemons Rodfield.

Racing at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7.—There was a good attendance at City park track. Four favorites won. Lionel and Alice Dougherty led their riders in the steeplechase, while Jim Boman fell heavily at the tenth jump. Lawless, his jockey, was carried off the field unconscious, but it is believed by physicians that he will be all right soon.

Millionaire Charged With Fraud. CONEJO, Colo., Dec. 7.—District Attorney Pilcher of Alamosa has filed an information against Herman Schiffer, a New York millionaire; his brother, Isaac Schiffer, and their cousin, Isaac Schiffer, charging them with conspiracy to defraud in connection with the failure of the Bank of Alamosa. Abraham and Isaac Schiffer are now in the Pueblo county jail. Herman Schiffer is named in the joint information with his brother and cousin on the ground that he was one of the owners of the bank.

Leonard Confessed.

WATERBURY, Conn., Dec. 7.—The sensational part of the testimony during the trial of Charles Bassett, Edward Leonard and Joseph Cuskey, held here for the murder of Thomas C. Lockwood, was the complete confession of Leonard, who gave every detail of the plot to assault and rob the aged recluse. He said Bassett was responsible for the death of Lockwood; that he stabbed the old man until he was unconscious, Lockwood dying some days later.

BOSTON IS AROUSED

Bonaparte Proposed to Make Target of Constitution.

HISTORIC FRIGATE AS GUNNERS' MARK

Mass Meeting of Citizens to Protest Against Naval Secretary's Plan. Notable Men to Speak in Opposition.

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—Acting Mayor Daniel A. Whelton has issued a call for a mass meeting of citizens to protest against the suggestion contained in the annual report of the secretary of the navy as to the historic frigate Constitution, which is now tied up at the Charlestown navy yard.

In his report Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte suggested that so much of the materials of the present Constitution as can be shown to belong to the original Constitution be transferred to a new vessel to be named the Constitution and that the remainder of the ship be broken up.

The secretary further stated that if for purely sentimental reasons it be thought that the ship is entitled to a nautical end it might be used as a target for some of the ships of the north Atlantic fleet and sunk by their fire. The secretary's suggestions have been met by protests from many citizens of Boston.

Acting Mayor Whelton sent the following letter last night to about twenty prominent citizens of Boston and vicinity:

"You are invited to attend and to address a public meeting of citizens to be held in Faneuil hall on Saturday evening, Dec. 9, to protest against the carrying into effect of the suggestion of the secretary of the navy to make a target of the frigate Constitution and thus destroy her at sea."

"I believe that such an act by the United States government would be an outrage upon the patriotic sentiment of the people of Boston, who treasure the glorious memories of her prowess in the great struggle for the honor and dignity of the nation nearly a century ago."

Among those to whom this letter was sent were Governor William L. Douglass, Lieutenant Governor Curtis Guild, Jr.; Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the United States supreme court, President Charles W. Elliot of Harvard university, Colonel Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Bishop William Lawrence of Massachusetts and all the Massachusetts senators and representatives to congress.

Mayor Whelton said that the meeting was for all citizens, who by their presence would protest "against the monstrous suggestion of the secretary of the navy."

DECISION FOR RECOUNT.

In New York Election Case Judgment Favors W. H. Hearst.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The appellate division of the supreme court has handed down a decision in the matter of the opening of ballot boxes and recounting of the votes in connection with William H. Hearst's contest of the mayoralty.

Hearst had appealed from that part of Justice Amend's order opening the ballot boxes which limited the proceedings to a verification of the election of officers' figures and prohibited the throwing out of void ballots. Corporation Counsel Delany had appealed from the entire order.

The decision affirmed the original order of Justice Amend and directs the casting out of void ballots. The decision was written by Justice Laughlin and concurred in by Presiding Justices O'Brien, Clarke, Ingraham and Patterson.

The decision holds that the election inspectors are to proceed de novo to perform their statutory duty as of original night and to make and file an original statement of the canvass and certified copies thereof, as if none had been made.

A stay of proceedings, however, is granted in order that counsel for Mayor McClellan may take the case before the court of appeals.

Police Helped in Shanghai.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7.—Carrying his broken arm in a sling and showing evidence of having been roughly handled, Edward Casey, aged nineteen years, of this city called at detective headquarters and told the authorities that he had been slaughtered and brutally treated on board an oyster boat in Chesapeake bay. He implicated a man already under arrest here charged with slaughtering and two Philadelphia policemen who, he said, were instrumental in getting him and another man to go to Baltimore under promise of work in a restaurant. They were given liquor and later found themselves on an oyster panga named Sadie E. R. Gibson. He says that he and his comrade were brutally treated by a colored mate and that he was forced to work with his broken arm. They managed to get ashore. He says he can identify the policemen and all others in the plot.

Indictments Against Boston Officials.

BOSTON, Dec. 7.—The federal grand jury before Judge Dodge in the United States court here has returned an indictment against Timothy J. Swift, formerly assistant custodian of the federal building on the charge of having taken money as a consideration for procuring a contract for supplies for the building. The jury reported an indictment also against Abraham Forsyth of New York, who was charged with committing perjury before a board of special inquiry of the immigration bureau.
