QUEER TELEPHONE USES.

Norwegian Fishermen Drop Lines Into the Sea to Get Trace of the Fish.

Abundance of amusing as well as statistical proof of the approach of such an era of universal telephony as is implied in 20 per cent. development is not hard to find. Newspapers give publicity to all sorts of ingenious schemes for utilizing Mr. Bell's invention in heretofore unheard of ways. The instrument, says F. W. Coburn, in Atlantic, has come to be of assistance in about all the vocations and avocations of the everyday world. Not only has it annihilated time and space on the superficial earth, but the Norwegian fishermen drop into the ocean depth a line with telephonic attachment by which the swish of the approaching herring, codfish or mackerel is communicated to the anxious listeners above. In some of the most delicate operations of hospital surgery the telephone proves helpful, and in ordinary medical practice the country mother raises the baby to the transmitter in order that the physician in the village may determine whether or not the cough is croupy. Concerts have been transmitted more or less successfully over the wires, and Sunday morning preaching effectively conveyed. After a recent revival, in which scores of eager "seekers" had put in their requests for prayers, the evangelist handed his secretary a list of names with their telephone numbers and with the instruction: "Just call up each one of these sisters and brothers to-morrow morning and ask them how it goes with their souls. Tell them to keep on with their prayers and inform them that I am praying for them right along."

NOT THE BOSS AFTER ALL

Story That Illustrates a Condition Quite Common in Matrimonial Alliances.

Once upon a time a youth, who had commenced to navigate the sea of matrimony, went to his father and said: "Father, who should be boss, I or my wife?"

Then the old man smiled and said: "Here are 100 chickens and a team of horses. Hitch up the horses, load the chickens into the wagon and wherever you can find a man and his wife dwelling, stop and make inquiry as to who is the boss. Wherever you find a woman running things leave a chicken. If you come to a place where the man is in control, give him one of the horses."

After 79 chickens had been disposed of he came to a house and made the usual inquiry, says the San Francisco Chronicle.

"I'm the boss of this ranch," said the man.
"Got to show me."

So the wife was called, and she affirmed her husband's assertion.

"Take whichever horse you want," was the boy's reply.
So the husband said: "I'll take the bay." But the wife didn't like the bay horse, and she called her husband aside and talked to him. He returned and said: "I believe I'll take the gray horse."

"Not much," said Missouri. "You'll take a chicken."

Russians Made Beer.

A correspondent in the far east writes: "Although the Russian prisoners at Nagoya, Japan, are not allowed to have intoxicants, a number of them got very drunk recently, to the surprise of the Japanese. The latter wondered where the Russians got their liquor, investigated and at last discovered a beer brewery in the Russian compound. With flour, hops and crushed potatoes the Russians had succeeded in making a very effective beer. The brewery was dismantled."

Heat from Big Guns.

The heat developed by the firing of heavy guns is remarkable. During some recent tests a gun that had been fired 75 times melted solder placed upon the chase, while another was hot enough to soften lead, indicating a temperature of 600 degrees Fahrenheit.

hour. As soon as the motor was started up, the machine rose by the force of the propellers and mounted in a vertical and well-balanced flight up to the roof of the shed, which was as far as it could go, and it was retained by a trail-rope. In the open air there is no doubt that it would have risen to a considerable height. This experiment was made several times, with equal success. Many experienced aeronauts, and especially those who are interested in the aeroplane method, were present, and they were greatly impressed with the way the new machine acted. As at present constructed, the apparatus is only one part of a complete flying machine, and will be used for the lifting movement. Afterward the inventors are to add an aeroplane which will provide for the horizontal movement. Messrs. Dufaux are now engaged in building a complete aviator on the same lines, but this is to be a large machine and will carry an aeronaut. It is to have a motor of 100 horsepower.

New Croton Reservoir.

The new Croton reservoir to supply water to New York city has as one of its main features a great wall 160 feet above the ground and 140 feet below it. It is 100 feet thick at the ground level and 20 feet at the top. When it is done it will have taken 13 years to build. It will back up the water for 20 miles, compelling the reconstruction of many miles of roads, and will hold 30,000,000,000 gallons of water. The present consumption of water by New York city is about 300,000,000 gallons a day.

CENTER SHOTS.

Liquid courage is apt to evaporate. People with high tempers when unduly excited are inclined to indulge in low language.

The husband of a society leader gets a lot more sympathy than he knows anything about.

The misanthrope who feels that he hasn't a friend in the world might just as well be a book agent.

The fellow who goes out of his way to put you on to a sure thing will generally bear watching.

The great trouble with the artistic temperament is that it revolts at the idea of making a living.

Millions of Cigars.

Key West sent to the north the first six months of this year about 15,000,000 cigars; Porto Rico threw into the United States during the same period about 40,000,000 cigars, while there came from Cuba during that time 25,000,000 cigars.

Mushrooms in England.

There is an unpleasant boom in mushrooms this year in England. So abundant is the crop in some parts of East Norfolk that they are being mowed down with scythes to save the labor of hand-picking.

Fine Figuring.

A man with eight children got three cheques from the president. We're glad to get the proportion. That would figure out about 24 singles and triplets and three times three and a tiger.—Newark Commercial.

Bosnian Weapons.

The Bosnian is as celebrated in Europe for the firearms, sabers and knives which he manufactures as the inhabitants of Spanish Toledo are for their fine-edged blades.

Origin of Phrase.

To "dance attendance" is an expression borrowed from the mediæval custom which compelled a bride to dance at her wedding with anyone who asked her.

Seri Beds.

The Seri Indians make an odd-shaped contrivance of plaited wicker work, with a hole at the top, through which the occupier crawls at night to sleep.
