HISTORICAL GLEANINGS.

One of the fads of 1770 was the wearing of two watches.

Cabbages were introduced into Engand in the sixteenth century. Pottery is the oldest and most widely known of the human arts. The drum is said to have been the first musical instrument of the human race.

Four shillings per annum was the rent of a five-roomed house in Henry VIII.'s time.

Records of Firfax county, Virginia, show that eGorge Washington owned at the age of 27 50,000 acres of land, and in 1790 the Washington family had killed 150 hogs for their use.

New York was first called Gotham by Washington Irving and J. K. Paulding in their humorous work "Salmagundi," in sarcastic allusion to the singular wisdom of its inhabitants. There is a Gotham in England, seven miles from Nottingham, the people of which are usually styled "the wise men of Gotham," because for hundreds of years they have been credited with saying and doing the most foolish things.

Automatic cooking boxts were in general use among the Hebrews nearly 2,000 years ago. The Greek and Roman writers frequently refer to them. in his edition of "Juvenal," for example, Friedlander cites a commentator who refers to "the Jews who, a day before the Sabbath, put their viands hot into the cooking boxes, the pots being covered with napkins and wrapped about with hay, so that they may have warm food on the Sabbath."

Miss Ellen Stone, the American missionary who was captured by brigands several years ago, will open female college at Monastir, which will be conducted on American ideas.

Rhodes scholars at Oxford university, England, have come to be known as "Rhodesters." This is not in any way a term of reproach, for so far the young men have been conspicuously successful both intellectually and socially. The Ramsbottom (England) education committee granted all the school children of the town a half holiday on the occasion of the visit of a circus, in order "to give the poorer children an opportunity of seeing unfamiliar animals." A remarkably successful attempt is making in Germany to instill in the public school children a love for plant culture. Last year a gardening assotbrook hous.
