Employees of Great Monopoly Follow Lead of Their Chief-Hadley Wante to Be Governor, Says Chief Witness.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. - Henry H. Rogers, vice president of the Standard Oil company, had a lively tilt while on eral Hadley of Missouri, who is seeking evidence against the all trust to be state of Missouri for the purpose of which claim to be independent.

Despite the evident annoyance of Mr. Rogers over the inquiry in general and his part in particular, he apparently enjoyed hugely his encounter with the ATTORNEY GENERAL HADLEY attorney general, who undertook to "call him down" vigorously for his apparently contemptuous attitude toward the inquisitor.

The tilt occurred when Mr. Rogers smiled broadly after answering evasively a question put to him

"Does this matter seem funny to you?" asked the attorney general sharp-

You were smiling," said the witness "I was not smiling," rejoined Mr. Hadley. "I asked you a question, and it would be seemly for you to show a proper appreciation of the gravity of your position and the proceeding that is going forward here."

"Thank you; thank you," said Mr Rogers, with mock gratitude. You are not under obligation to me

There is a possibility that Thomas W the Standard Oil "system." may appear as a witness at an early date. Mr. Hadley wired to Lawson asking him to come to New York.

The telegram rend as follows "If you can give any information as to relations between Standard Oil company of Indiana, Republic Oil company and Waters Pierce Oil company, ur gently request you come and testify." Mr. Rogers was the first witness. He will be followed by several of the magnates of the Standard Oil company, incarriers of automobiles in serving their cluding W. G. Rockefeller, J. D. Arch bold, Wade Hampton and others.

Mr. Rogers was on band early, and before he went on the stand he express ed himself rather forcefully regarding the treatment to which he had been subjected by Attorney General Hadley since the hearing began last Friday. "It seems to me," said he, "that they have done everything possible to dis commode me and keep me away from my business. Lawson Replies to Hadley.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.-In repty to a request from Attorney General Hadley of Missouri asking him to give any information in his possession regarding the relations between the Standard Oil company of Indiana and two other oil producing corporations Thomas W. Lawson of this city has sent a lengthy telegrain to Mr. Hadley saying: "While I have no personal knowledge of the three things of which your telegram treats. I have sufficient general knowledge of the subject matter of your investigation to make it appear farcical to me that you, with the power of the great state of Missouri at your back, should want the testimony of any one other than the band of conspirators at 26 Broadway and their hirelings to prove any case in which the name 'Standard off' appears."

Panama Canal Matters to Be Fully Investigated.

Visit lethmus to Investigate Work Being Done and Situation In the Canal Zone. WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.-Thorough investigation of all phases of the canal question is now assured. At a meeting of the senate interoceanic canal committee a resolution was drafted and Wool Blankets reported favorably authorizing the committee, or a subcommittee thereof, to investigate "all matters relating to the 2.68 Panama canal and the gayernment of the canal zone and the management of 3.38 the Panama Railroad company."

The committee is empowered to send for persons and papers, administer 4.28 oaths, employ stenographers and to hold special sessions during sessions of 4.58 the senate. Chairman Millard later introduced the resolution in the senate. 5.58 The resolution is in line with what many senators have urged. It is precipitated by the president's letter, in which he challenged inquiry, and by Secretary Taft's strictures on Chairman Shonts for the $028,000 Panams railroad bonds issue and the Mar- 2.78 kel payment.

It is likely the investigation will be prolonged and will extend to a committee visit to the isthmus. It is said that 4.28 in the end congress will legislate to strip the president of plenary power over the canal, will fix salaries and keep a close eye on expenditures. When the committee was called to order there were present Senators Millard, chairman; Kittredge, Hopkins, Knox, Morgan, Taliaferro and Gorman, The formation of a programme in regard to canal affairs was then considered. Senator Gorman said he believed an investigation of canal matters should be entered upon at once, especially as an inquiry had been "courtsehind the left ear. He was a right ed" by the president in his message handed man, and the first joint of the transmitting to the senate the report of the isthmian canal commission which was read and discussed on Monately after the shot. All members of the committee agreed that there should be an inquiry, and the scope was considered at length There seemed to be a sentiment in favor of reviewing the work of the canal commission from its inception, Sena tor Gorman drafted a resolution for in troduction in the senate by Chairman Millard giving the committee authority to engage in such an inquiry.

CHARGES AGAINST MERRILL.

Chief Clerk of Tax Bureau Accused of Discrimination. ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 10.-Acting on the advice of his attorneys, former Asalstant District Attorney James W. Os-borne of New York and former Cor-Troy, Frank W. White of this city, who preferred charges against John J. Merrill, chief clerk of the corporation tax bureau in the state comptroller's department, withdrew from the investigation of those charges begun by Attorney General Mayer. The charges against Merrill, which allege that he had shown favoritism in the administration of the affairs of his department and had reduced the corporation taxes on alleged favored corporations, were comptroller to the attorney general for investigation. When the investigation opened Mr. White secured an adjournment to consult with his attorneys on a course of procedure. At the reopening of the bearing Mr. White withdrew with his attorneys, giving several reasons for his action. He claimed that the attorney general had no jurisdiction to conduct the investigation, no power to administer oaths, issue subpoenas, require the attendance of witnesses or the pro- mention in detail, but we offer some duction of papers and that his decision rare values a few of which we item would have no more force or effect ize below.

than that of a private individual. He alleged that the comptroller had the power to investigate the charges personally and come to a conclusion which might satisfy his conscience and which he could carry into effect. A general investigation, Mr. White held, ing 59c could not be made either by the attorney general or the comptroller and only by a committee of the legislature. He suggested that if the comptroller had wanted a general investigation he should have called upon the legislature

Mr. Osborne said later: "As far as this information is concerned we are finished. Any investigation which the attorney general may make should be interesting in its way, but it won't be official. He has no jurisdiction."

The representatives of the corporations were called, and they denied having had any collusion with Mr. Merrill relative to the tax levied on their corporations. Some of them said that Mr. Merrill had been overzealous in securing for the state more than what the corporations believed was justly due it.
