SENSIBLE REASONING ISN'T IT?

A live business depends upon buying and selling and not hoarding. That's our policy briefly told. Between buying for cash, with 40 other large stores, selling for cash and a determined effort to lower our stocks at least one-fourth before Feb. 1, (our time for inventory.)

We have repriced much of our merchandise, some lines moving slowly on account of the mild winter thus far, but we have used the knife liberally and cut to the bone prices that will bring shoppers for miles to save the much that this big store makes possible. Thus making our interests mutual.

Edward C. Stokes in his message to the New Jersey legislature says, among other things

"The corruption of the ballot has been the subject of frequent legislation. The purity of the ballot is neces sary to safe and honest government. Between the bribe giver and the bribe taker let there be no distinction. Each s morally culpable. To condemu one and justify the other is a remedy that compromises with crime. The difficulty with our laws against bribery is that by making both bribe taker and bribe giver punishable at the same time both are driven to take refuge under the right to refuse to testify on the ground of self incrimination. Under these conditions conviction is difficult.
