ROMANCE FOLLOWS COASTING ACCIDENT

An Elmira Nurse, Well Known in Sayre, Weds Wealthy Cornell Undergraduate

The many Sayre friends of Miss Leonora Sullivan, a former Elmira nurse who has visited this place frequently, will read with interest the announcement of her marriage on Wednesday evening, January 10, to Orrin R. Knowlton, a wealthy Cornell undergraduate.

Miss Sullivan's marriage is the culmination of a romance which began with a coasting accident which occurred in Ithaca about a year ago. Mr. Knowlton and a party of friends were coasting on Buffalo hill when the steersman of the sled which was conveying them down the slope missed his bearings and plunged the party into a curb. Several of the party were seriously injured and among them Mr. Knowlton. Medical examination disclosed the fact that he was quite seriously injured and instructions were given to have him sent to the nearest hospital. He was taken to the hospital and the care that was bestowed upon him by one of the nurses in the institution was of such a character that after he had been restored to health Mr. Knowlton decided that he could no longer do without it. The nurse whose ministrations were partly responsible for his recovery was Miss Sullivan. A courtship followed and on Wednesday last culminated in a wedding. The happy couple are forever blessing Buffalo hill, coasting sleds, erratic steersmen, and all other agencies that contributed in any way to bringing them together.

Miss Sullivan is an orphan, and on account of the many visits she has made to Sayre, has a host of friends in this place, all of whom will unite in wishing her happiness and extending to her husband congratulations upon his good fortune.

MAY BE MAUDE HAYNES

The residents of Callicoon in Wayne county are more or less excited over the appearance of a strange girl about 12 years old, who, it is said, has been living in a barn and has been acting as though demented. Glass of the Erie police force, and the police of Susquehanna have been notified.

RECEIVED INVITATION

The members of the Sayre Aerie of Eagles have received an invitation from the Aerie at Geneva, N. Y., to attend an entertainment and smoker to be given in that city on tomorrow evening. SAYRE'S OLDEST RESIDENT DEAD

Mrs. Caroline H. Newell, Aged 94 Years, 7 Months and 20 Days, Expired Last Night

Mrs. Caroline H. Newell, aged 94 years, 7 months and 20 days, died last night at 7:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. F. Smiley of 205 Stevenson street. Mrs. Newell had been in failing health for a long time and her death was due to the infirmities accompanying old age. The funeral will be held from her daughter's home tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, the Rev. J. F. Warner officiating, and the remains will be taken to Springfield, this county, for interment.

Mrs. Newell's maiden name was Caroline Burr, and she was Sayre's oldest resident, she being a few weeks the senior of Miss Spring, who now resides on Mill street in Milltown, and after whom the street was named. Mrs. Newell was born May 25, 1811, in Walbraham, Hampden county, Mass. When she was 14 years old her parents drove to Albany, N. Y., where they resided for a time, and later removed to Rockland, N. Y. From Rockland Mrs. Newell accompanied her parents to Covington, Tioga county, Pa., making the trip by wagon. At that time the country through which they passed was a howling wilderness. At the age of 21 she was married to Calvin Newell who afterward became a minister of the gospel, but who died about twenty years ago. Since the death of her husband Mrs. Newell has been living with her daughter and had been a resident of Sayre about 8 years. She was a woman of many admirable qualities and her recollections of the past were listened to with great interest by those with whom she became acquainted.

She is survived by her two daughters, Mrs. O. F. Smiley and Mrs. Amy Gustin, both of whom reside in Sayre, and also by two brothers, who are also advanced in years, and who reside in western states.

After his disappearance every asylum and county institution in the state was searched, and his friends had given up the task as hopeless. Hibbard is believed to be of unsound mind.
