San Francisco Liner on Rocks Near Cape Beale.

ONE MUNDRED OR MORE PERISHED

Ill Pated Ship Sailed With Ninety four Passengers and Crew of Sixty. One Boat With Nine Men Safe Ashore.

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 24 -- A dispatch from Cape Beale says that the steamer Valencia has been wrecked near there and 100 people drowned. Our specialty is prompt service Nine survivors have reached Cape Beale lighthouse.

Cape Beale is on Vancouver Island at the southern side of the entrance to Barclay sound.

The steamer was en route from San Francisco with ninety-four passengers and a crew of sixty and went ashore at midnight during a thick fog, and many were drowned when attempting to leave the ship. The steamer is on the rocks against a high cliff and is likely to go to pieces at any time. One boat's crew has reached Cape Beale, and nine men got ashore near the telegraph but, about fifteen miles from the lighthouse. Two men are prisoners on the face of the cliff near which the steamer went ashore and cannot get up the cliff or return to the wreck. The sea will probably reach them when the tide is high. The men sport some painful scenes. One woman dropped her child into the sea when trying to hand it to her husband.

who was in one of the boats. When the boat's crew left there was a little boy running about the deck erying for his mother, who was among the drowned. There are still about fortyfive persons on the wreck, with almost certain death staring them in the face.

The steamer Queen, which arrived here from San Francisco, landed ber passengers and left at once for the scene of the wreck. She should reach the scene of the wreck in a few hours. Urgent messages are being received for assistance. The news of the disaster on the Vancouver Island coast is meager, being confined to the message received by Captain Gaudin, agent of the marine service, from Lighthouse Keeper Patterson at Cape Beale, saying: "Steamer wrecked between here and Cloose. about 100 drowned, nine reached telegraph but Will wire more particulars as soon as possible."

The wrecking steamer Salvor bas gone to assist the wrecked Valencia. She is in a bad place. The steamer Valencia, which belongs to the Pacific Coast Steamship company, sailed from San Francisco on Jan. 20 for Puget Sound ports with many passengers and a cargo of general merchandise.

LOSS OF THE TROJAN.

secochee Rammed and Sank Be BOSTON, Jan. 24.—The loss of the steamboat Trojan of the Boston and Philadelphia line in collision with the steamboat Nacoochee of the Savannah line in Vineyard sound is reported here by the Nacoochee, which arrived, having on board the captain and crew of the Trojan. The accident was due to fog. The Nacoochee struck the Trojan amidships, and the latter went to the bottom with in three-quarters of an hour, but Captain Thatcher and the crew of twentyseven men of the Trojan were taken off by men from the Nacoochee. The Nacoochee sustained only a slight damage to the bow. Both ships were bound northward, the Nacoochee from Savannah for Boston and the Trojan from Philadelphia, also for Boston. The powerful prow of the Nacoochee. which is an iron ship, struck the Trojan fairly amidships, cutting a big hole in her side. In a moment the Trojan began to list badly, and it was apparent that she had been injured below the water line. Realizing that the Trojan had receiv ed a fatal blow, Captain Diehl of the Nacoochee signaled "Full speed shead" to his engineer so as to keep the prow of his vessel in the sperture in the Trojan's side. This, it is believed, prevented loss of life, for the men on the sinking craft were able to save themselves by climbing over the bow. The escape of the crew of the Trejan s described as thrilling by spectators. The Trojan was struck on the port side, the sharp prow of the Nacoochee cut through her guard, main deck and plankshear, penetrated to the coal bunkers and keeled the Trojan to starboard until it was feared that she would turn over. Almost in a moment the Trojan's fires were extinguished and the engine room was baif full of-

Seventeen of the Trojan's crew were isleep in their bunks below. All rushed on deck to find their fellow seamen clinging to the rigging. Captain Diehl of the Nacoochee shouted to the men to crawl over his bow. On account of the listing of the Trojan this was no easy task, and it could not be accomplished by some until lines had been thrown them from the Nacoochee. Not one man was injured.

Chief Engineer Blasdell had a narrow escape. Before he could get out of the engine room the water was up to his waist. There was some excitement among the coal passers, who were prin- solid gold brick, supposed to be worth cipally Greeks, but the officers maintained discipline among them. Hardly been stolen and hidden there by some had the last man left the Trojan when she plunged forward and disappeared latter was in operation ten years ago. n sixteen fathoms of water.

The ship's papers and everything else in board went down with her.
The lost steamer Trojan was valued by her owners at $250,000 and her carA STATE INVESTIGATION.

Kilburn's Demand For Inquiry Is Banking Department to Be Met. ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 24.-Following what was practically a demand by Superintendent Kilburn of the state banking department made on Speaker Wadsworth, resolutions were introluced in the senate and assembly calling for a legislative investigation of the state insurance and banking depart-

Superintendent Kilburn and Governor Higgins had a conference and the request to the speaker followed. The uperintendent's letter was as follows: "In view of current suggestions that a legislative investigation of the affairs of the banking department should be had, I desire to state that I shall if the legislature sees fit to institute such investigation, welcome the same and give the legislature all possible assistance.'

Assemblyman Palmer, the minority one investigation in the assembly, with the declaration that Governor Higgins gan? had tried to interfere with the legislature's privileges in saying that It had not power to take up investigations of the state departments when as a senator he voted for such a general investigation. The resolution called for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the state insurance department. At the same time Senator Marks introduced a concurrent resolution demanding an investigation of the insurance department, banking depart- not gone to some other banker. ment and the corporation tax bureau of the state comptroller's office.

An investigation of the railroad com nission is the next in line, and probably within a day or two a resolution calling for it will be introduced.

Colonel Denby was chosen for this work on account of his knowledge of the Chinese language and customs.

The commission consists of about sixty persons, several of whom are servants and secretaries. The leaders of the commission are Tuan Fang, the governor of the Shansi province, and Tai Hing Tse, one of China's leading scholars. Yung Kwal, the secretaryinterpreter of the Chinese legation in this city, accompanied the commission, having gone to Chicago to meet them; and the party traveled under the care of Professor Jenks of Cornell university, who was appointed by the United States government as its special representative to receive the commission in San Francisco and look after their interests while in this cou

The party was driven to the Arlington, the Chinese legation not being large enough for so many guests. In the afternoon the members called upon Secretary of State Root and visited the state, war and navy departments.

BERIBERI IN EXPEDITION.

Deaths From Eastern Plague en Board Vessels Towing the Dewey. WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.-Two memers of the crew of the Caesar, one of the tugs which is towing the dry dock Dewey, have died from beriberi. This news reached the navy department in a cablegram from the battleship Maine, dated San Juan and signed by Admiral Evans. He stated that a message had seen received from the West Virginia, which had intercepted the following:

"We have made 601 miles in six days. Position: Latitude, 28; longitude, 44 degrees, 15 minutes. Everything all right. Two of Caesar's Chinese dead; one more (suffering from) beribert. Heading east. With best wishes from Admiral Evans says the message was probably being sent from the Glacier o the Maryland when intercepted.
