Disaster to Steamer Meade In San Francisco Harbor.

THREE DEAD AND OVER FIFTY INJURED

With Soldiers and Laden With Was Badly Burned.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2 - Three men were killed and over tifty injured and a number of others are missing on board the United States transport Meade in the harbor here. The steamer, which was anchored off shore with soldiers and supplies for the Philippines, caught are and flamed up from stem to stern, with the flames spurting from her hold. The smoke was so dense that many of those on board who tried to rescue their comrades fell unconscious, while others staggered about like drunken men.

The dead are Captain Charles Dakin of Engine Company No. 4, G. Wallace, third officer of the Meade, and Thomas Hennessy, fireman, Charles Gill, operator for Chief Feranndez; George Brown of engine No. 12. W. Reagan of engine No. 12 and one of the sailors of the Meade, name unknown, are missing.

Captain George Wilson of the Meade had his shoulder broken. First Officer Lasack of the Meade, H. Dahl, second officer of the United States transport service; Battalion Chief Fernandez of the fire department and nearly fifty socks. Their bare knees would have other men were injured.

The Meade, on which were 1,000 men all ready to sail for the Philippines, was anchored off Folsom street when the fire started in the forward part of the hold. The fire spread in a second to every part of the hold of the ship. It blazed up through the batchways, and before the officers and men on board were fully aroused from sleep the entire ship was a furnace.

The alarm of fire was sounded through the city, and every available fire fighting apparatus was sent to the sea front.

Eight hundred barrels of lime were stored on the fore deck of the Meade. The fumes from the burning lime made it next to impossible for the firemen to get close to the burning ship. Some of them fell over, their lungs being filled with the poison, The men in the fire department risk ed their lives to save the men on the After a dozen engines had numped water into the hold, assisted by the fireboats, the fire was under control. The men on the Mcade were composed of the Second infantry and the Eighth and Thirteenth batteries of

The fore part of the ship, where the fire started, contained the personal effects of the officers and men of the first. Opening at 40 to 1 and played regiments en route to Manila. The ves- down to 15 to 1, Seven Full gave the set also had on board a cargo of 3.000 talent a surprise by winning the first supplies consigned to the Philippines. While the fire was at its height the men who were fighting the blaze were in constant fear of an explosion, believing the flames would reach the ammunition. The fire ate its way through the ammunition The spread of the flames to the powder was prevented only by the strenuone work of those tighting the blaze. The property loss caused by the fire which destroyed nearly all the personal effects of the officers of the outgoing regiments, is $50,000. The damage to the steamer itself will not exceed $2,-

The cause of the fire is unknown, but rumor that the fire might have been the result of a plot to blow up the Meade has found no confirmation.

NEW ZEALANDERS ON GRIDIRON.

Exhibition of Open Football Made American Players Take Notice. NEW YORK, Feb. 2.-At Washingn park, Brooklyu, the visiting team of New Zealand football players gave an exhibition of their skill in the sport which aroused very much enthusiasm among the spectators. The team is returning home from a victorious tour of England, having met and defeated the best of the British players. The visitors played against a team composed partly of New York players and partly from among the substitutes of the visiting team.

The game was an exhibition of 'open" football that made the American college men present sit up and take notice. Running in the form of a triangle, with the man carrying the ball at the apex, the New Zealanders swept up the field forty yards, passing the ball from one to another as they were threatened by opposing tacklers before they were stopped.

As soon as the runner carrying the ball stopped the two teams formed a 'scrum," or circle, by locking arms. Into this the ball was tossed and kicked about until a New Zealand forward snapped it back with his foot to a halfback in waiting. Then ensued the rush up the field again, and in short order a "try" was scored, which is similar to the touchdown in the intercollegiate game.

The visitors presented a peculiar appearance when ready for play as com pared with the American football play er. They were no protective armor of any kind, wearing only jersey and running trunks, with light shoes and short offered a fine chance for opposing players to inflict injuries, but the game, it was said, is entirely free from roughness of that sort, and the play ers scouted the suggestion that any protection was needed. The final score was 46 to 13 in favor of the New Zealanders.

Fifteen men played on each side, and the halves were of thirty-five minutes duration. The quick passing of the visitors, their kicking and precision in all manner of plays, won the admiration of the many collegiate football play ers among the spectators.

Violent Scenes In Parisian Cathedrals; Fifty Arrests.

BARRICADES TAKEN BY ASSAULT.

Operation of French Separation Bill Has Aroused a Storm of Protest and Much Active Opposition.

PARIS, Feb. 2. - Everywhere in France the actual putting into operation of the clause of the church and state separation bill which provides for the making of inventories of the property of the churches has aroused a storm of protest. In several provincial parishes Catholics have gathered in the churches and made such strong resistance that the government commissioners were unable to enter the edifices.

In Paris violent scenes took place in several churches, notably those of St. Roch and St. Clothilde. An inventory of the property of the church of St. Roch has not yet been made owing to the opposition of the congregation, but the defenders of the church of St. Clothilde succumbed before the energetic assault of an armed force, which acted on the avowed intention of the government to use every means at its disposal to compel obedience to the enactment.

Before the government commissioner appeared at St. Gotbilde church a poe official who attempted to induce the dergy to permit an inventory to be taken received severe maitreatment. while outside the policemen and mounted municipal guards were compelled to adopt the sternest measures in order to Yerkes. disperse the turbulent crowd

Repeated charges occurred, leading to fifty arrests. Among those taken into custody were two priests. The crowd eventually became, so violent in the Rue de Grenelle that the police drew their swords, which, however, they did not use. Many persons, including some policemen, were injured during the

Two fire engines were ordered to take up a position near the church so as to be able if necessary to drench the crowd, which obstinately refused to move, the women showing the greatest determination, opening umbrellas for their protection and in the meanwhile chanting psalms.

M. Lepine, perfect of police, ordered the municipal guards and police to enter the church. Under a shower of our 40 minutes 55 seconds, with a broken chairs the officers broke down the rallings in front of the entrance. He also nominated Brigadier General on them. Then the firemen burst in the doors, and the police and municipal
