VALLEY TRACTION COMPANY LOST

Railroad Commission Grants Trolley Franchise to Elmira, Corning & Waverly Street Car Company

The New York Railroad Commission held a meeting in Buffalo yesterday, at which all the members were present. The commission granted a certificate to the Elmira, Corning & Waverly Street Car Company, giving them permission to construct, maintain and operate an electric trolley car line between Corning and Waverly. It is announced by the people back of these interests that a working agreement has been made with the Water, Light and Railroad Company to operate cars over its lines through and in the vicinity of Elmira.

The decision of the Railroad Commission means that the first great step in the construction of a line of trolley roads which will connect all the cities and towns in this section, and which will be of inestimable value to the people in southern New York, has been taken. It also apparently terminates a long and unceasing struggle which has been in progress for three years between the Chemung Valley Traction Company and other trolley companies. The decision practically puts the Chemung Valley people out of the race.

Of the Elmira, Corning & Waverly line, G. Tracy Rogers, president of the Binghamton Railroad Company; James A. Powers, of Troy; one of the owners of the Corning & Painted Post line; Assemblyman Arthur S. Wade, president of the Waverly, Sayre & Athens line, and A. M. Broadhead, of Jamestown, are prominent.

It was announced in Binghamton yesterday that work would be begun at once on the road and that many hundreds tons of steel rails for the construction of the line have already been purchased.

The announcement that work is to be begun at once must be taken with some salt. Securing a franchise and the actual building of the line are two entirely different matters. Those who have followed trolley matters in Sayre will recollect that the granting of a franchise does not necessarily mean that construction will follow.

"BILL BROWN" WAS DRUNK

A man who gave his name as "Bill Brown," probably fictitious, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Chief Walsh and taken to the borough lockup to meditate upon the error of his ways, and in the meantime to sleep away a large sized jag with which he was burdened. Later in the day he was brought before Justice C. S. Gay and given the alternative of contributing to the borough treasury or indulging in the invigorating exercise of sawing wood. He parted with the coin and was released.

DECISION RENDERED IN LICENSE CASES

Application of Vail Brothers Granted While that of John Fletcher is refused

At Towanda this morning, Judge Fanning, sitting as a license court, granted a license to Vail Brothers to conduct a saloon in Sayre, and refused the applications of John Fletcher, of Sayre, and E. J. Rockett, of Athens.

The action of the court in refusing a license to Fletcher has disposed of a question which has been agitating those interested in the matter in Sayre for the past three weeks. A year ago last summer Fletcher, who formerly conducted a bakery, remodeled his building on Lockhart street in such a manner as to make it available for hotel purposes. He applied for a license and depositions were taken during the summer before the late John R. Murray. A remonstrance was presented against the granting of the license, as it was contended that Sayre had enough hotels and drinking places. The application was refused. This winter Mr. Fletcher renewed his application for license and again met with opposition. Depositions were taken before Attorney Paul Maynard, and six witnesses were sworn on each side. The contention that Sayre has enough hotels to accommodate the traveling public and strangers was again urged by the remonstrants, and appears to have met with favor by Judge Fanning.

E. J. Rockett, who was also refused a license, is a former Sayre liquor dealer, who last spring disposed of his business in this place to E. A. Wilbur, of Austin, Pa.

FREE ANTI-TOXIN

Though it may not be generally known anti-toxin can be secured free by Sayre people if they want to take advantage of the law which was recently passed providing for free distribution. In cases of diphtheria the physicians are coming to look upon anti-toxin as almost indispensable, but among the poorer classes or even those with moderate income the prices for the preparation are almost prohibitive. Especially is this the case among the very poor. It requires $1.50 worth of anti-toxin to immunize a child while it costs in the neighborhood of $5.00 for a quantity sufficient to treat a well developed case once or twice. To these prices is also added the physician's fees which usually vary from one dollar to three.

THE COLD WAVE

The entire country is in the grasp of a severe cold wave, and while the blizzard predicted in the beginning has failed to show up, the mercury stands at low ebb. In Sayre this morning many thermometers registered ten below. At Elmira it was eight degrees below the zero mark, while Watertown and Saratoga furnished the coldest weather. In the last two places mentioned the thermometer registered 30 degrees below.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS MET LAST EVENING

Aside From Paying Bills There Was But Little Business to Transact

The Sayre borough school directors held their regular monthly meeting in the high school building last evening, but aside from paying a few bills there was but little business to transact. Messrs. Baltz, Thompson, Whittle, Brainerd and Cook answered to roll call.

A matter which called forth considerable discussion was brought to the attention of the board by Director Brainerd. Mr. Brainerd said that recently he had been conversing with one of the female teachers employed in the high school and that she took exceptions to the board's rule of deducting absent time from the pay of teachers. Under the rule if a teacher is absent for a part or whole day the amount pro rata is deducted from his or her salary. The teacher referred to claims that this works an injustice. She asserts that when a teacher intends to be absent from the school even for a half day it is necessary for her to prepare the work for the supply teacher and then go over the papers upon her return. For this the teacher claims she gets no pay. Mr. Brainerd suggested that there might be a way to adjust the matter on more satisfactory terms for the teachers. Superintendent Stetler, however, stated that were teachers paid for time lost it would be an incentive for many of them to take advantage of the fact, and that the present plan of deducting it from their wages had been found to be the most efficacious. No action was taken.

Another matter which was brought to the attention of the board and which caused considerable discussion was the statement that about a year ago the children of Fred Mitchell, an Italian who resides on Third street in Milltown, had been allowed to attend the Milltown school, although they were nonresidents, the street referred to not being in the borough limits. The Mitchells were the only family residing on the street at the time, but now another family has moved on the same street and they have asked the same privilege granted to the Mitchell children. The matter was referred to the committee.

The truant officer reported that a boy in West Sayre persisted in refusing to attend school. The board instructed the secretary to notify the boy's parents that he must attend school regularly or that they would be prosecuted under the compulsory education law.

Superintendent Stetler reported that the utmost precautionary measures were being used with reference to contagious and infectious diseases and that children coming from homes that had been under quarantine were not allowed to enter school until thirty days after such home had been fumigated.

The following bills were audited and ordered paid:

- American Book Company $71.52
- Bolich Bro's 23.35
- J. D. Arntz, truant officer . . . 4.50
- Benjamin Forbes75
- Gas Company 26.70
- Charles Kitchen 2.00
- Ginn & Co. 57.20
- Allen & Bacon 15.00
- D. Clary Coal Company . . . 15.00
- J. W. Bishop 3.20
- J. G. Howe 50
- I. S. Hart 1.18
- J. L. Shea 78.68
- Sayre Water Company . . . 29.73

The treasurer's report was received and placed on file, and the board adjourned.
