The disease usually appears in epidemic form and about a year ago there were hundreds of cases in the city of New York. The medical fraternity have never been able to demonstrate its cause, nor is it claimed to be contagious, but it usually makes it appearance in epidemic form. It broke out in this country first among the Indians previous to the Revolutionary War, and was called "spotted fever" by the physicians of that day from the fact that red spots appear upon the chest usually in a few days after the attack. Later day science developed the fact that the disease Totally Destroyed by Fire Last was the result of an inflammation Night --- Loss Is Partly Covered of the spinal cord and the meninges, hence the name "cerebro spinal PUBLIC

Was it not this Tennyson had in mind when he said you not close your eyes and with the sal by some old master? Ah, what a company of saints have I known here, who now are known to God and have been welcomed and are beloved by those who stand about Him! What marks on the human face, stamped there forever by the angels of peace and of pity! What lines of loveliness lent by those artists named sympathy and kindness! What loveliness is lent by the angel of sacrifice and service! What image shall I find rich enough to set forth the character of some men and women who have met the angel of God in the way, and are not! I will liken them unto some cathedral in a foreign city on a dark night. Coming around the corner of that narrow street in Cologne suddenly the cathedral rose before me, glorious as a temple let down out of heaven from God. Its lofty arches and towering pinnacles seemed like candle flames suddenly frozen in their upward flight toward the throne of God. The lights within lent luster to windows, holding the faces of angels and seraphs. Fragrance from the waving censors filled the air and floated skyward and from within came the sound of organ music, with peal on peal rising as if in search of those singers that on the midnight air sang of peace on earth, good will to men. Oh, glorious catheoral! illuminated cathedral, home of music, eloquence and beauty, with all thy bells pealing hope forth upon a weary world! to the end of life, thou shalt be the image of these great hearts that rise God's true temples, for his worship!
