ON THE WEDDING EVE

Miss Roosevelt and Longworth to Marry in Floral Bower.

PONCA INDIANS DONATE A VEST.

White House Will Present Dazzling Scene—Diplomatic, Military and Naval Uniforms to Vie With Elaborate Society Gowns.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The wedding of Miss Roosevelt and Nicholas Longworth is the absorbing topic here. The wedding is to be a floral one, and the greenhouses of Washington and, in fact, of all this section of the country have been practically stripped for the occasion.

At the suggestion of Miss Roosevelt these flowers will be sent to the hospitals of Washington immediately after the wedding.

The personal gift of the emperor of Germany to Miss Roosevelt has reached Washington. It is a novel and finely wrought bracelet of great value.

A Ponca Indian delegation called on President Roosevelt to pay their respects to the "great white father." Incidentally Eagle Horse, the chief of the band of Poncas, presented to the president their gift for his future son-in-law.

Another gift in which Miss Roosevelt is deeply interested is that of ex-Deputy Mayor of New Mexico. This is the finest turquoise ever mined in the United States.

Henry C. Frick of Pittsburgh has sent a priceless but evanescent gift in the shape of a consignment of Princess Alice pears. They grow on the Princess Alice pear tree, and there is only one Princess Alice pear tree in the world at this time.

Miss Roosevelt has decided to defy superstition and have her photograph taken in her bridal gown before the wedding. A woman photographer has been told that she may take the picture if she will appear at the White House today.

It was a unique bachelor dinner that Representative Nicholas Longworth gave last night to his friends who have not yet joined the ranks of the bachelors. It departed so far from the usual precedent that a prospective father-in-law and a prospective brother-in-law, as well as the best man at Mr. Longworth's coming wedding, were present.

It established a precedent for the president, too, for he is not in the habit of accepting the hospitality of his friends except in an official capacity. But this was an extraordinary occasion, so the president, who is very fond of his future son-in-law, consented and was on hand at the Washington home of the Longworths last night.

This evening the bachelor friends of Miss Roosevelt will entertain at dinner in honor of the couple in the Alibi club, and that will be the last entertainment given in honor of the bride before her marriage.

Secretary and Mrs. Taft's present to the bridal couple was a pair of elaborately chased table vases of American manufacture.

Twenty members of the Metropolitan club united in presenting a square beaten silver salver of antique design, with autographic reproduction of the signatures of the donors.

The present of the members of the Taft party, with which Miss Roosevelt traveled to the east, was a gold necklace, the alternate links set with diamonds, and a pendant of aqua marine of wondrous size and translucency surrounded by diamonds.

The east room and the lower rooms of the White House, which ordinarily are open to visitors, are closed to the public for the remainder of the week. The east room, in which the ceremony is to be performed, has been decorated, and the platform for the wedding party is in place.

CHINESE UPRISING

Mobs at Canton and Nanking Get Beyond Control.

ANTIFOREIGN SENTIMENT SPREADS.

In Riots at Shanghai Two Hundred Were Killed—An Englishwoman Attacked—Trade Conditions Described as Frightful.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Officers of the steamship Doric, just in from Chinese ports, say that just before the Doric left Shanghai it was reported that there had been an uprising in the Suning district, near Canton, and that the magistrate and many people had been killed.

C. E. Young, an eyewitness of the recent riot in Shanghai, was a passenger on the Doric. He tells of the intense antiforeign sentiment that exists among the Chinese. Young says that 200 Chinese were killed in the riot in Shanghai and that only the presence of the foreign gunboats prevented the wholesale slaughter of Americans and Englishmen.

The rioters ran from street to street, searching for foreigners. Revolvers and rifles were used by the Americans, and the Chinese answered with volleys of stones. Many were hurt by the flying missiles, but I heard of no fatalities among the Americans or English.

One Englishwoman was attacked and dragged by the hair. She was rescued by a party of her countrymen. "I know of one instance where a party of foreigners were driven to bay by the mob and were compelled to kill six of their assailants before they put them to flight."

"It was only the warships that brought the affair to a speedy termination. "That there will be trouble in China is almost a certainty. The hatred of foreigners is there, and all the populace want is some one to stir them to repeat the atrocities of the Boxer uprising. The foreigner who visits Canton at present does so at the risk of his life. The crowds of natives and foreigners in the streets of the city, and on several occasions I have seen women insulted by the Chinese."

PLEA FOR SUFFRAGE.

Senate Stopped by Women Who Want Right to Vote.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Two or three hundred women members of the National Equal Suffrage association gathered in the senate marble room to make their annual plea to the senate committee on woman suffrage for the right to exercise the franchise.

Elizabeth Bacon of Connecticut made a plea for suffrage largely on the ground of property right. She said that there were many ladies in her state who desired the franchise, but that it is denied them, notwithstanding that women property owners are rapidly increasing in the state.

Mary Bentley Thomas of Maryland asked for suffrage in the right to assist in the full capacity in promoting the interests of the race. She said that Maryland protects its terrapin, but not its women. Rev. Antoinette Brown Blackwell, eighty years old, who was introduced as the first ordained woman minister of the country, made an special plea for purity in the press and expressed the opinion that if women were given their proper position they could have a wholesome influence in that respect.

Senator Hildobro of Chile made a plea for "the beautiful right of the ballot," which, she said, would bring the women their just dues through the front door and save them the trouble of seeking them in another way. She warned the committee that if the United States was not expeditious the women of Chile and Argentina would secure their rights in advance of the women of this country, as their constitutions contain nothing to prohibit equal suffrage.

BERLIN GOVERNMENT PROPOSAL to Go Before Reichstag.

FAVORED TREATMENT FOR A YEAR

Will Give United States Same Trade Agreement as Is Given Countries With Which She Has Reciprocal Treaties.

BERLIN, Feb. 16.—The government will go before the reichstag with a proposal to give the United States the same treatment under the new tariff, which becomes operative on March 1, as that given to countries with whom Germany has arranged reciprocal trade treaties.

The precise terms of the government's bill will depend somewhat on the result of negotiations which are still continuing at Washington between Ambassador Speck von Sternburg and the state department as to modifications in the American system of including and valuing, some features of which are considered by German exporters as unduly exacting. Information regarding exactly what the United States will do in this respect is expected by the foreign office from Washington.

THE GERMAN TARIFF

Berlin Government Proposal to Go Before Reichstag.

FAVORED TREATMENT FOR A YEAR

Will Give United States Same Trade Agreement as Is Given Countries With Which She Has Reciprocal Treaties.

BERLIN, Feb. 16.—The government will go before the reichstag with a proposal to give the United States the same treatment under the new tariff, which becomes operative on March 1, as that given to countries with whom Germany has arranged reciprocal trade treaties.

The precise terms of the government's bill will depend somewhat on the result of negotiations which are still continuing at Washington between Ambassador Speck von Sternburg and the state department as to modifications in the American system of including and valuing, some features of which are considered by German exporters as unduly exacting.

The position of the German government is one of uncommon difficulty because both industrial and agricultural interests have been pouring in memorials and petitions to the chancellor and other ministers urging the government to stand firm and not hand over to the United States for nothing or next to nothing privileges for which other countries have given equal returns in kind.

The government therefore faces a reichstag nearly as unfriendly to tariff concessions as the United States senate. The government has been harassing the members for several days in an endeavor to find a majority for its proposition. This is still a matter of doubt, but if they asked the reichstag for authority to enter upon a tariff fight with the United States it would be a far more popular suggestion, as the commercial interests seem to prefer a trade war.

The government's view is political rather than economic, preferring not to insist on concessions of an extensive character from the United States when it is known that the president is powerless to obtain them from the senate and to enter upon a short term arrangement with the United States in the hope of making better terms later.

German Merchants' Plea Refused.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—A conference at the White House between the president and merchants' appraisers and other officials resulted in a refusal of the application of certain importing interests to have the right of open hearings in cases of contested valuations. This was desired by the German merchants, and the refusal will have an important effect upon the plans of the German government relative to the application of the new German tariff.

BONI DENIES.

PARIS, Feb. 16.—The financial negotiations in the Castellane case do not relate to Count Boni's allowance after separation from his wife, formerly Anna Gouin of New York, as he has simplified this branch by stating that he does not expect a large amount. The count's announcement was made to one of the lawyers of the countess. It was most emphatic and is substantially in the following terms: "I declare to you, and I swear to the exactness of my declaration, that I not only do not demand but that I will not accept any sum beyond that small amount which constituted my income before my marriage."

The count thus disposes of the statement to the effect that he contemptuously refused $40,000 a year on the ground that it was not sufficient for his pocket money.

The attitude of the count leaves the lawyers of the countess to consider only his outstanding indebtedness, which reaches an enormous sum.
