UNKNOWN MAN HIT BY LEHIGH TRAIN

Sustains Frightful Fracture of the Skull and Will Probably Not Recover

At 6:15 o'clock this morning BJ4, a Lehigh Valley eastbound freight train, struck an unknown man while passing under the Erie bridge just north of this place. The man was walking along the east bound track going in the same direction as the freight. As he passed under the bridge an Erie freight was also passing over the bridge. At that moment BJ4 came up behind the man and on account of the rumbling noise made by the train passing overhead he did not hear the engineer's warning signal. The pilot struck him and threw his body to one side of the track. When the trainmen reached him he was bleeding from a terrible crush in the forehead, but he was still alive. The injured man was placed on a switch engine and brought to the local station from which place he was taken to the hospital in the ambulance. An examination by the surgeons disclosed the fact that he was suffering from a severe fracture on the left side of the forehead and a number of minor bruises. His recovery is in doubt.

Later—This afternoon the injured man was identified as Bert Townsend, an air brake inspector for the Lehigh who lives at East Waverly. He was on his way to work when he met with the accident.

HORSE THIEF TAKEN IN CUSTODY HERE

Man Wanted by New York State Authorities is Located in Sayre by Chief Walsh

A man who gave his name as Charles White and then changed it to William Ferris was arrested last night together with another man who says his name is Earl Leach. Both men were wanted in connection with a horse stealing affair which occurred near Dryden, N. Y., one day last week. The two men were found at the Brundage House by Chief Walsh, the latter having received information from the New York state authorities to take the men in custody and hold them. When arrested both men claimed that they were not the men wanted but that they could take the Chief to Waverly and in that place locate the guilty man as they were to meet the man at Dell Vaughn's saloon. The chief accompanied the men to Waverly and leaving White in Vaughn's saloon he went with Leach to find the other fellow. Once outside of the saloon, Leach declared that White was really the guilty party. Officer Corcoran was then called and White was again placed under arrest and is now in the borough lockup at Waverly.

Leach was released, he having satisfied the officers that he was in no way connected with the affair.

CASEY ASSIGNED WORK IN OFFICE

Elmira Murderer Will Be Given Good Job at Auburn Prison

Harry Casey, the young musician who was convicted of murder in the second degree at Elmira and sent to Auburn prison for life, has been assigned to duties as an office clerk in the prison. The prison authorities were in need of a long term man whom they could put to work on the office books and as Casey is possessed of a good education it is thought that he will fill the bill. He will be given an opportunity at least and if he "makes good" the job will be his. It will mean that he will get better food than the other prisoners, will have more liberties, and will be allowed the privilege of using tobacco and cigars. The man with an education is on top of the heap, even if in prison.

KILLED AT MAUCH CHUNK

Charles Allis, at one time in the employ of the Lehigh Valley as assistant yardmaster in the Packer yard under the regime of Yardmaster R. F. Gould, was killed on the Central railroad at Mauch Chunk during Friday night by being caught between two cars. His death was most horrible, his body having been literally crushed to a pulp. The dead man was about 45 years old and resided at Mauch Chunk.

FELL ON ICY INCLINE

Mrs. W. C. Walker of Olive street, who was injured in falling about a week ago, is able to be about her home on crutches. Mrs. Walker was crossing through the fields from Chemung to Hayden street, when she slipped on an icy incline which a number of boys had used for coasting purposes. She fell heavily on her right foot causing a detachment of the ligaments.

BOROUGH COUNCIL MET LAST NIGHT

Several Petitions Presented, Among Them Being a Request for a Franchise to Establish an Acetylene Gas Plant

Two sessions of the borough council were held last evening. First the council convened in the town hall, but as the election booths had been placed and the room was in a crowded condition, after being in session a half hour or so, it was deemed advisable to adjourn to more convenient quarters. Accordingly the Business Men's Association rooms were secured, to which place the councilmen wended their way and the business of the session proceeded without further interruption.

J. H. Rush of Canandaigua, a promoter of acetylene gas plants, appeared before the council with a petition signed by 72 residents of Sayre asking for a franchise to establish a plant in Sayre borough. Mr. Rush also presented a franchise which he had prepared for the purpose and asked that the council take action in the matter at once. He also exhibited a lamp and gave a practical demonstration of the light furnished by acetylene. While making the demonstration, the illuminating gas in the council chamber for some unknown reason refused to burn, and had it not been for the brilliant rays of the demonstrator's lamp the room would have been in total darkness. The request of Mr. Rush was referred to a committee consisting of Councilmen West, Lacey and Ademy.

A petition from the Sayre Heat, Light & Power company, signed by a number of citizens, asking for a franchise to do business in Sayre was also presented to the council and the matter was referred.

Residents residing in the vicinity of Woodward and Hopkins street reported that no light had been placed at the corner of the streets mentioned although one had been ordered some time ago. The residents stated that the corner was still in darkness and asked the council to shed a little light on the subject.

A check for $125 was received from the Waverly Gas Company, it being their yearly taxes due the borough for permission to do business under their franchise.

Taxes for 1904 to the amount of $403.93, and $217.59 for the year 1905 were exonerated and some were returned to the county commissioners.

The yearly appropriation of $150 to each fire company was made and after paying a few bills the council adjourned.

CRASHED INTO BLACK DIAMOND

Engine of Freight Train Plunged Into Rear Coach, Slightly Injuring It and Shaking Up Passengers

The rear car on the eastbound Black Diamond express was badly damaged and the passengers rudely shaken up by a collision which occurred between Penn Haven and Glen Onoko on Sunday afternoon. The collision was the result of the engineer on the freight train mistaking a torch in the hands of a workman for a signal.

The workman had climbed a signal tower to repair the same just as the freight train pulled into the block running close behind the Black Diamond. The workmen used a torch, which is said to be contrary to orders. The light displayed was white and the engineman supposing that he had a clear track ahead proceeded. A short distance farther on before he could stop his train the engine crashed into the rear car on the Black Diamond express. The rear platform was badly damaged and the passengers were thrown from their seats. One or two were somewhat bruised but their injuries were not of a serious nature.

TRAIN RIDER ARRESTED

Tunkhannock Young Man Met With an Unfortunate Accident Last Night

Henry Preuman, 22 years old and a resident of Tunkhannock, attempted to jump on a Lehigh Valley freight train at that place last night. He missed his hold on the "grab handles" and fell beneath the moving cars. The wheels on one of the trucks passed over his left arm severing the member just above the elbow. Dr. Beidleman of Tunkhannock was called and gave the injured man temporary attention, after which he was placed on board a train and sent to the Packer hospital at this place. At the hospital an operation was performed and today he is resting quietly. It is not expected that serious results will follow.

TODAY'S ELECTION IS HOTLY CONTESTED

One of the Warmest Fights for Municipal Offices That Sayre Has Seen in Years

Today's election has been hotly contested from the time of the opening of the polls at seven o'clock this morning. In fact it has been one of the warmest fights for municipal offices that Sayre borough has seen in years. Never before have both parties been so well organized as they have been during the campaign which is closing today with the battle of the ballots. Immediately after the nominations were made the Republicans held a meeting and effected a permanent organization, which has been active ever since. The democrats followed suit and the opposing forces have contested every inch of the ground. Until Friday afternoon last, there was not much doing, but from that time on until the present, the fight has waxed warm. All day yesterday groups of men were congregated here and there in the business center discussion the situation and working for this and that candidate. Today, matters have moved along quietly but to the casual observer it was evident that both sides have put up a strong fight. The counting of the ballots can alone tell the story. The vote will be a large one, and it can be safely asserted that the count will show one of the biggest polled-in years.
