NANCHANG OUTRAGE

Cruiser Cincinnati Ordered to Chinese Port.

OUR MISSION DESTROYED BY RIOTERS Six French and Two British Missionaries Killed by Boxy Mob as Result of a Religious Dispute.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—As a result of cablegrams received at the state department from United States Consul General Rodgers at Shanghai announcing that American missionaries Nanchang had been attacked by Boxy mob, fourteen missionaries forced to flee and six French Jesuits and two members of the Kiangnan family, English missionaries, killed, orders were given for the dispatch immediately to Cincinnati, now at Cavite, in the Philippines. This move is regarded as significant.

Mr. Rodgers sent two cablegrams. In the first he said that during the riots the American mission stations at Nanchang had been destroyed and that the fourteen American missionaries there had escaped. The Kiangnan family, consisting of two adults and two children, were reported killed.

The Methodist mission at Nanchang is in charge of the Rev. Edward James and Mrs. James, who are from Wisconsin. With Rev. James is M. R. Charles and Mrs. Charles, both physicians. Dr. Charles is from Ada, O., and his wife is from San Francisco.

In addition to these are five women missionaries of the Methodist Women's Foreign Missionary society. They are Misses Gertrude Howe, Jennie Y. Hughes, Alta Newbury, Kate L. Osborne and Ida Kahn, M. D., a young Chinese woman physician.

According to a dispatch from Bishop Bashford, the American missionaries escaped on boats down the Yangtze-kiang river to a place of safety several hundred miles below Nanchang, where they told the news of the attack and their escape.

The Methodists had in Nanchang a church, a dispensary and living buildings for the missionaries. Mr. Rodgers later cabled that the Nanchang trouble originated in a dispute between the French Jesuits and Chinese officials. A Chinese magistrate was at first reported to have been stabbed by a Catholic missionary, but it is now claimed that the magistrate stabbed himself. In the riot which occurred six Jesuits and two members of the Kiangnan family were killed.

Chinese troops were protecting the refugees, who are going to Kiangnan. The American mission building is understood to have been saved, and order is now restored. Mr. Rodgers adds that all is quiet in Shanghai. He believes the trouble is entirely local.

The American gunboat El Cano at Nanchang has been ordered to proceed immediately to Kiangnan, where she will probably arrive tomorrow. The scene of the trouble is about 400 miles up the Yangtze river.

A cablegram from Commander Fletcher, the senior officer of the Raleigh, at Shanghai, received at the navy department confirms substantially Consul General Rodgers' report. The officials here accept Consul General Rodgers' suggestion that the trouble at Nanchang is local, but it is realized that the incident itself appears to justify such preparations as are now under way from a military point of view.

The report that English subjects have been killed is the most serious phase of the affair, for it is said that this fact may be made the basis of forcible measures on the part of the British government that might inflame the entire Chinese population.

Peking Dispatch Confirms Murders. PEKING, Feb. 27.—The British legation here has received notice that four English missionaries, a man, his wife and their two children, have been massacred at Nanchang, in the province of Kiangsi. The city is the prefectural capital, and with the troops there foreigners should be assured of protection.

FIGHTING AT WARSAW.

West Russian Parliament to Meet on May 10 at St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 27.—A special dispatch from Warsaw says that thirty-one persons were killed and fifteen wounded there as the result of a fight between Socialists and Nationalists.

The Nationalists were holding a political meeting when the Socialists interrupted the proceedings, force fighting following. The cabinet has recommended that the first meeting of the Russian parliament be held on May 10 next, and the long expected imperial ukase to that effect has been promulgated. This definite announcement furnished a convincing answer to the revolutionary argument that the government had no intention of convoking the national assembly. It is expected to do far more toward completing the tranquillization of the country than all the repressive measures of Interior Minister Durnovo, of whose waning power the ukase is but one of several indications.

Many of the members, including representatives of the Caucasus, Siberia, parts of Poland, the Baltic provinces and even of important cities like Kiev will probably not be chosen in time to participate in the organization of the national assembly and its opening session, but the urgent need for a speedy convocation of the new parliament in order to reassure the country regarding the intentions of the government overweighed the disadvantages of incomplete representation. A second ukase annuls the requirement of a simultaneous election throughout the empire.

The place for the convocation of the national assembly is the historic Kremlin palace here, built by Catherine II, for her favorite, Prince Potemkin, and the extensive alterations necessary for adapting it to the use of a parliament are nearing completion. The paintings which adorn the walls were executed under the direction of a commission of well known Russian artists, and expensive chairs and other furniture have been provided for the members. This has drawn the fire of the radical press, which claims that Spartan simplicity should have been the keynote of the new assembly.

For the first time in the history of Russian public architecture accommodations have been provided for press correspondents. The principal Russian papers and foreign news agencies will be seated in the press gallery of the national assembly overlooking the main floor of the assembly.

Mopburn Bill Reported to Senate. WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The Hepburn railroad rate bill was reported to the senate by Senator Tillman in accordance with the action of the senate committee on interstate commerce. Large crowds assembled in the galleries, anticipating a field day of debate, but were disappointed. A brief statement from Mr. Tillman was the necessary arrangement for printing the report of the hearings before the committee and a promise that a formal report would be made later was followed by a few remarks from Mr. Aldrich showing the position of the five Republicans who opposed the bill as reported.

Captain Areutz stated that the voyage was the worst in his long experience.

THE CANAL INQUIRY

Cromwell, Testifying, Has Frequent Tilts With Morgan.

"SENATE WAS THE ONLY SAFE PLACE"

Morgan & Co. Got $35,700 For Paying Over Forty Millions Purchase Money—Told of Wallace Resignation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The examination of William Nelson Cromwell, who has figured largely in connection with the sale of the Panama canal property to the United States, was begun by the senate committee on inter-oceanic canals. His testimony has been looked forward to with much interest, and nearly all the members of the committee were present. Senator Platt of New York appearing for the first time since the hearing began.

Many of the questions asked Mr. Cromwell related to the interview at the Manhattan hotel in New York regarding the resignation of Ma Wallace when Secretary Taft, Mr. Wallace and Mr. Cromwell were present. Mr. Cromwell denied that his firm had ever had any connection with the De Lesseps company, which failed in 1889.

He detailed the circumstances of the transfer of the Panama canal property to the United States, together with 98 per cent of the stock of the Panama railroad. He declared that the expense of transmitting the $40,000,000 purchase money was $35,700, which was paid to J. P. Morgan & Co.

There were frequent tilts between the witness and Senator Morgan because the former was not more specific in his answers to questions by the senator. It culminated dramatically at the close of the day when Mr. Cromwell refused to answer various questions asked by the senator and the latter declared he would deal with the witness in the senate when the facts regarding the resignation of Mr. Wallace came out. Mr. Cromwell replied, with some warmth, that that was the "only safe place to do it."

Mr. Cromwell in his statement declared that every penny of the money paid by the United States government for the purchase of Panama railway stock and for the French canal property had been accounted for. He stated that he had declined to accept the position of counsel for the canal commission and that his activity had been largely upon the invitation of the president and the secretary of war.

A feature of Mr. Cromwell's statement and upon which he was closely questioned was with reference to the retirement of Chief Engineer Wallace and the testimony which Mr. Wallace had given before the committee. He said that the explanation which Mr. Wallace gave the committee was radically different from that which he gave at the time he retired, which was that he had been offered a larger salary; that his reasons given after the Manhattan hotel interview made no reference to Cromwell; that in a letter to Chairman Shonts the day after the interview no allusion was made to Cromwell.

Will Sue to Recover Gratuitous. CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 27.—County Prosecutor Rullison announces that he will begin civil action to recover money that was paid to county treasurers by banks as interest on public deposits. Y., Feb. 27.—Governor Higgins has signed three bills of Senator Gates amending the military code so as to provide for the establishment of a field hospital in connection with national guard headquarters. HAUGHTON RACKET CHAMPION.

Fayne Whitney, New York Expert, Beaten Three Games to Two.

BOSTON, Feb. 27.—In a dashing, up hill contest Percy D. Haughton of the Boston Tennis and Racket club won the national amateur racket championship at the Boston Athletic association, defeating Fayne Whitney of the New York Tennis and Racket club three games to two. The scores were as follows: 12-15, 9-15, 15-12, 15-13, 15-13.

Whitney was the favorite and had the match apparently almost won with the games two to love and the points 5 to 1 on the third game. A brief let-up in his play gave the Boston man a chance to tie the score, and although Whitney played desperately and had the lead in the last game, Haughton's steadiness enabled him to run out the game and capture the championship.

Haughton's longer reach and his strength in the rallies won him the match. Whitney's service, especially in the second game, was severer than Haughton's, but the Boston man nevertheless took the last two points of the match on the New Yorker's service. Whitney played desperately, but could not recover his service, while Haughton's work in the rallies earned for him many points.

In the last game, with the score 14 to 13 in Whitney's favor, Haughton refused a set on his opponent's service. Whitney was unable to score the necessary ace, while Haughton placed two beautiful shots far out of Whitney's reach and ran out the game, which gave him the championship.

PRINCE EITEL WEDS

Kaiser and Empress Celebrate Their Silver Wedding.

BRIILLIANT SCENES IN BERLIN.

German Emperor Refused All Gifts Except Money For Charitable Uses. Donations to Hospitals, Etc., Estimated at $20,000,000.

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—Prince Eitel Friedrich, second son of William of Germany, was married here today to the Duchess Sophie Charlotte, eldest daughter of the grand duke of Oldenburg, with three royal ceremonies. The wedding was coincident with the celebration of the silver wedding anniversary of the emperor and empress. A magnificent punch bowl, a gift of the German societies of the United States, was presented to the Kaiser and his wife.

The Duchess Sophie as part of the pageant entered Berlin, proceeding through a flower and banner bedecked way to the castle, where the emperor, surrounded by his family and numerous German princes, welcomed her. The grandmother of the duchess, Princess Friedrich Karl of Prussia, drove with her in the royal entry into Berlin instead of the empress, who is indisposed.

The wedding was attended by members of the minor German royal families, of whom there were from fifty to a hundred. They and their gorgeous suits filled up the boxes at the gala opera performance last evening, occupied the principal places at the banquet in the great white hall of the castle and formed a rich setting of costumes and uniforms for the wedding ceremonies, of which there were three—the signing of the marriage contract under the statutes of the house of Hohenzollern, the administering of the civil law oath to the young couple an hour later and the religious rites in the chapel of the castle by Dr. Dryander, the court chaplain, who in his ten minute sermon alluded to the silver wedding anniversary of the emperor and empress.

Their majesties received many congratulatory deputations, but according to their resolutions announced months ago they did not receive presents from their subjects except money for charitable uses, which many municipalities and numerous mercantile companies and private individuals voted or donated out of respect for the emperor and empress for new hospital institutions or for founding new institutions for the relief of suffering, estimated at from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000. Such an outpouring of donations is quite without precedent in Germany. About 100 annexes or new foundations were dedicated throughout Prussia today, all receiving the names of the emperor or the empress.

War at the Whim of the Kaiser. LONDON, Feb. 27.—Most alarming views with reference to the relations between Germany and France prevail in certain diplomatic quarters, where the situation is considered to be extremely tense and a conflict by no means unlikely. The ambassador of one great European power has stated that war, in his opinion, was inevitable and had, in fact, already been decided upon. "It is said," added the diplomat, who is not ranked among the admirers of Emperor William, "that for the whims of one man Europe must be plunged into the horrors of war."

The Mardi Gras at New Orleans. NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 27.—Proteus, in celebration of his silver jubilee, marking twenty-five consecutive parades, appeared in an exceptionally brilliant pageant here. The ball of the Krewe at the French opera at the close of the parade was a social and artistic triumph.
