LOCAL BREVITIES

D. F. Edmonds of Chestnut street, is ill.

"Skat," best hand soap known for mechanics and railroad men. Sold by W. S. Wright at 10 cents a box. 271-3

W. I. Teed & Son's store will be closed all day tomorrow, Wednesday, for the purpose of taking inventory.

The sleighing throughout this section is a thing of the past, the south wind and sun of yesterday having bared the roads.

The D. S. & S. engines will shortly be transferred from Drifton to Hazleton. Preparations are now being made for the reception at the locomotive round house.

A strong south wind accompanied by more or less rain has caused the snow to disappear rapidly within the past twenty-four hours. Warmer weather is predicted.

Many of the foreigners, principally Italians, are leaving this section for Pittsburg and West Virginia, where they say they have been promised steady employment at good wages by the employment bureaus.

ZIMMERMAN DISCHARGED

The case of John Zimmerman, charged by Joe Palumbo, an Italian, with having hit him in the forehead with a stone, came up for a hearing in police court this morning. The evidence showed that the Italian had been hit by a stone, but as there was nothing to indicate that Zimmerman had thrown the missile he was discharged.

EXPIRED SUDDENLY IN DOCTOR'S OFFICE

While Having His Tonsils Removed Benjamin Bentley's Heart Ceased to Beat

Benjamin Bentley, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bentley of No. 315 West Lockhart street, died very suddenly yesterday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock in the office rooms of Dr. H. S. Fish, where the lad had gone to have his tonsils removed. Death was due to heart collapse and occurred immediately after the tonsils had been taken out by the surgeon's knife. A condition of the blood known to the medical fraternity as hemophilia, but commonly termed "bleeder," is given as the cause of the lad's sudden collapse.

For some time the boy has been suffering from enlarged tonsils and yesterday afternoon was the time designated for him to go to the doctor's office and have them removed. The operation itself is considered a most trivial one by surgeons, and is accepted as such by the laity. Previous to his departure for the doctor's office, the lad and his father, who is the well known Lehigh Valley conductor, had been playing checkers at their Lockhart street home, and when the boy left a game which they had just started was to be completed upon his return. Upon the boy's arrival at the office Doctor Fish, assisted by Miss Emily McCreight, director of nurses at the Packer hospital, at once proceeded with the operation. Miss McCreight administered the chloroform at about 3:25 o'clock, and five minutes later the tonsils were removed. At the conclusion of the operation the boy collapsed, and his heart ceased to beat. Doctor Fish at once telephoned to the hospital, and a few minutes later Doctor Ott, accompanied by another nurse, arrived and the doctor's and nurses immediately went to work to resuscitate the boy.

Artificial respiration and every means known to medical science were resorted to, but after an hour of heroic work on the part of the physicians and nurses they were forced to admit that further effort would be useless, the lad in all probability having died almost instantly. Once or twice the means resorted to by the physicians produced breathing in the lad's body, but it was only of a temporary nature.

A subsequent examination developed the fact that the boy's blood lacked the necessary constituents to form coagulation, and as stated above is known to medical science as hemophilia. Previous to performing the operation Dr. Fish examined the boy's heart with a stethoscope and the organ was found to be in a normal condition, its sudden collapse being an entirely unlooked-for occurrence.

The body was later removed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bentley, who were nearly distracted with grief. Benjamin was their only child and his sudden death has been indeed a hard blow to his parents.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 12 o'clock from the house, and 12:30 at the Lutheran church, Rev. E. M. Beysher, pastor of the Lutheran church, officiating. The remains will be taken to Towanda for interment on a special car attached to the milk train.

The deceased lad was a student in the Sayre high school and was particularly bright and well liked by his schoolmates and for that matter by all with whom he had acquaintance.

Miss Maude Willis, of the Lock Haven normal school, will give a series of readings at the High school hall next Saturday evening. Miss Willis is a reader of rare talent and ability, and her work is regarded very highly by those who have had the good fortune to hear her.

EAGLES PLANNING FOR A BIG TIME

Entertainment and Refreshments Will Follow the Special Meeting to Be Held Next Thursday Night

The Sayre Aerie of Eagles are making preparations for a fine time at the special meeting to be held on Thursday evening next. There are 25 candidates to be initiated into the mysteries of the order, and after the work has been finished an entertainment and smoker will follow. As is well known the Eagles have among their members several first-class vaudeville artists and they will provide a program on Thursday evening which every member of the Aerie should see. Refreshments will be served and a general good time is assured.

In connection with other important arrangements the Sayre Aerie of Eagles are also preparing to attend the installation of an Aerie which is to occur at Towanda on Wednesday evening, April 4th. The degree team of the local Aerie will do the installation work at Towanda, and a fine banquet will probably follow. In fact it is intimated that the Towanda Eagles will outdo themselves in providing entertainment for their Sayre brethren. The Sayre contingent will leave this place on Lehigh train No. 122 and those who have the matter in charge are trying to arrange for a special car to be run from the upper station at Towanda to the Washington street depot.

THE POWER OF MUSIC

"Music soothes the savage breast," according to the poet, and it also stills the crying child, fires the soldier to martial vigor, and inspires men and maiden to sweet thoughts of love and kindred joys. However, a new demonstration of the power of music was given in St. Petersburg, when Sousa and his American band played there not long ago.

The morning after the concert a uniformed lackey left a small package at Sousa's hotel, and when the bandmaster undid the fastenings, he found a pair of long, white, ladies' gloves, and a note addressed to himself, written on crested and perfumed note paper. It read as follows, in English:

"Dear Mr. Sousa: I had the pleasure of being at your concert last evening and derived great enjoyment from your beautiful music and your playing of it—too much enjoyment by far, I fear, as the accompanying enclosure will testify. I wore the gloves last evening, and feel sure that every lady went home in the same state. However, I feel that my sacrifice was but a very small one, in the cause of true art. Ruelfully, and yet gratefully yours, Olga W."

Sousa drew forth the gloves, and found that they were split into shreds. He vowed that his native gallantry would have forced him to send the enthusiastic lady a new pair of the finest gloves, had she not with true Russian delicacy, omitted to put her address in the letter. The fair Sousa auditors of the future should note the moral of this narrative and take the popular band master at his word.

MINOR ACCIDENTS

Hugh Duggan, an employe of the shop, while running a shaper, sustained a laceration of the left thumb. The injury was treated at the hospital.

George Marcey, employed in the new shops, was operating an emory wheel yesterday afternoon when his left hand came in contact with the wheel, causing a deep cut in the back of the member.

AGED RESIDENT DIED YESTERDAY

Marshall Bradley, Twenty-Six Years a Resident of Sayre, Expires at the Home of His Daughter

Marshall Bradley, aged 79 years, died yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. P. Kramer, of No. 308 Keystone avenue, after an illness of three weeks of pneumonia. The deceased was born in Springfield, Mass., but when a young boy removed to Owego where he resided for many years, but for the past 26 years has been a resident of Sayre. He was a member of the Methodist church, a devout Christian and highly respected by all who knew him. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Emma Morgan of Philadelphia, Mrs. D. H. Utter of Sayre, and one son, George Bradley of Athens.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at the house, the Rev. J. F. Warner, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. The burial will take place at Tioga Point cemetery.

GEORGE JR., REPUBLIC WANTS THIS BOY

He Was Apprehended in Sayre This Morning at the Lehigh Valley Station

Chester Benton, a lad about 17 years old, was apprehended here today by W. R. George, son of the George Jr., Republic for boys, located at Freeville, N. Y. Benton has been in charge of the school authorities for some time and is wanted there for theft. He was given a hearing in the court conducted by the boys at the school and was held in the sum of $100 bail. Yesterday it is alleged that he jumped bail. Today W. R. George was going to New York over the Lehigh Valley and when his train arrived at this place he got off the car. As he stepped out on the platform he saw a boy answering the description of Benton leap from the bumpers between blind baggage cars. Mr. George called the police and had the youth taken into custody, he proving to be the one wanted at the school. He was taken to the borough lock-up and will be held pending the arrival of the school authorities.

NOT EVEN A RIPPLE

The Hon. Mial E. Lilley, Congressman from this district, and erstwhile political boss and dictator of the Republican cohorts in this county, was a Sayre visitor last night. When the Hon. Mial has visited this town on former occasions willing henchmen have congregated in large numbers at the depot platform to await his coming, and when he stepped from the passenger coach would greet him with cordial handshakes and smiles, but what a noticeable difference there was on the occasion of his visit last night! There was not a single former lieutenant in sight, and the Hon. Gentleman saw not a single hand to clasp in his own. In fact his coming to Sayre didn't create even a ripple, and those who had formerly worshipped at his shrine were conspicuous by their absence. Throughout the evening Mial made several ineffectual efforts to get into communication with most any one that had a vestige of political influence left, but up to a late hour last night the only ones who had paid any attention to him whatever were a Democrat and an obsolete "Mugwump." Verily Mial's political fences which have been going to decay with amazing rapidity within the past three months will in all probability never be rebuilt. The following that he once had is engaged in other business.
