BOUGHT HUMAN FOOT

Athens—Mrs. Barney Kain brought a petrified human foot to town yesterday which they had plowed up on their farm. If the specimen ever belonged to a human being it must have been in the age when giants and mastodons inhabited this region, for it is large enough for a No. 19 shoe.

HELD A MEETING

Athens—The Mining & Development Company held a meeting last evening and paid up their bills. Today they pulled up the casings and plugged the well. At the time work stopped the drill was in a sand and shale formation but some of the scientific operators think they would soon have reached the sand rock they were looking for. The shale seemed a substratum and was over a hundred feet thick.

His Fame Is Safe.

Admirers of Edgar Allan Poe are preparing to wage a vigorous campaign for the reconsecration of his grave by the hall of fame judges. Why do it? asks the Pittsburg Gazette. Poe's memory doesn't need a tablet in the hall of fame any more than true heroism is exalted by receiving a medal.

Of Ancient Date

Holland has just celebrated an unusual journalistic festival. Haarlem has the distinction of possessing one of the oldest newspapers in the world, the Haarlemse Courant, founded 250 years ago. A copy of the first issue was exhibited.

FIVE ARRESTS AT PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, March 27—Five arrests were made here as a result of the failure of the Enterprise National bank of Allegheny, which suddenly closed its doors following the sensational suicide of its cashier, T. Lee Clark.

United States marshals took into custody Forest B. Nichols, private secretary to William H. Andrews; Charles Menzemer, George R. Ralston and Edward P. McMillan, employees of the Enterprise bank, and George E. Cook, an alleged partner of Cashier Clark in several real estate deals.

The charge against Menzemer is that as clerk of the bank he certified checks drawn upon the bank by persons who had not sufficient funds on deposit with the bank to meet the checks drawn and so certified, thus constituting a false certification.

Nichols is charged with conspiring with an officer of the bank, who is not named, to abstract and willfully apply unlawfully money, funds and credits of the bank. Ralston and McMillan, who were clerks in the bank, are charged with making false entries in the books to defraud the bank, while Cook is charged with conspiring to defraud the bank by getting false credits.

The arrests are a climax in one of the most sensational financial collapses that has occurred in western Pennsylvania and are the result of the investigation made by Bank Examiner Edward P. Mosley, who furnished the information to United States Commissioner William T. Lindsey. The information was based on the alleged conspiracy of Nichols to use funds of the Enterprise bank in the interest of the Santa Fe Central Railroad company and the Pennsylvania Construction company.

The story of the failure of the Enterprise bank is one of tragedy throughout.

NINE DEAD IN WASHOUT.

Heavy Steel Tank Crashes Caboose Near Casper, Wyo.

CASPER, Wyo., March 27—On the Chicago and Northwestern railway's new branch an accommodation train ran into a washout on the prairie twenty-six miles west of here, and in the smashup which followed nine persons were killed and thirteen injured. Most of the killed were in a caboose at the rear of the train. Back of the caboose was a ponderous steel water tank car. The caboose sank deep into the mud, and the tank car plunged into and crushed it like an eggshell, catching the victims in a trap.

At about the same time that the accident occurred the middle of the big railroad bridge across the Platte river near this city went out, the result of floods, and it became impossible to send trains to the scene. A big force was at once put to work on the bridge.

In the meantime Superintendent C. E. Gillon and Dr. Green, Gillman and Keith crossed the river by a wagon bridge, secured a hand car and started for the scene of the accident. A severe snowstorm came up, and after going six miles the car was blocked.

The physicians then drove to the wreck. The wreck occurred on the new line being constructed from Casper to the Shoshone reservation, which is to be thrown open to settlement next August.

Most of the persons killed and injured were workmen on their way to the grading camps.

Turtle 350 Years Old.

About the time the Galapagos islands were discovered a young turtle was born there. He died the other day in the zoological gardens, London. He was at least 350 years old. When he was feeling well he would eat as much grass as an average cow.

SHIPS LOST IN THE ARTIC.

Explorers Deprived of Their Shelter and Provisions by Parting of Glacier.

December was a dark month. There was no difference between day and night. We missed the cheery illumination of the electric arc, and under the light of numerous little oil lamps we labored, sewing our fur clothing for the sledging trip and making harness, writes Anthony Flais, in McClure's.

Christmas and New Year passed happily. We celebrated the anniversary with banquets, to which our hard-working steward contributed many delicacies. A Christmas edition of "The Arctic Eagle," our camp newspaper, was printed, Assistant Commissary Stewart making up the forms and running the press, and Sean Monrois, who had once been a printer, acting as compositor.

Storms were many, and the members of the scientific staff in their walks to and from the observatories often had to face winds of high velocity, with driving snow and low temperatures. At the Magnetic observatory it was generally necessary for an observer to carry a shovel and dig his way into the hut so as to free the man he relieved on watch.

His Thoroughness. Gladys Beautigirl—Young Dr. Huggins explained to me last night that a blush is "a temporary erythema and caloric effluence of the physiognomy, stigmatized by the perceptiveness of the sensorium when in a predicament of 'inequilibrium.'"

Yending. Mr. Faintart—Miss Flyrt, I thought to propose— Miss Flyrt—Really, Mr. Faintart, I'm sorry, but— Mr. Faintart—That we have some ice cream— Miss Flyrt—Oh! I should be delighted to— Mr. Faintart—Some evening when the weather is warmer.—Philadelphia Press.
