VOLIVA RULES ZION

Mass Meeting of Six Thousand Supports New "Prophet."

"SPENDTHRIFT, LIAR AND TRAITOR"

Wife of Elijah III. Applauds Scathing Words of New Huler Against Her Husband, Who Comes Tomorrow Vowing Vengeance.

ZION CITY, Ill., April 9.—With the approval of thousands of Dowlites in an open meeting General Overseer Glenn Voliva denounced John Alexander Dowie as a spendthrift, liar and traitor and was in turn promised support as leader of the Christian Catholic church in Zion City, Ill. The pieces of the founder of the church, now deposed and on his way from Mexico to fight for his rights. When, after denouncing Dowie, Overseer Voliva suddenly demanded a decision of the audience which crowded Shiloh tabernacle as to who should be their future leader, the 6,000 persons in the auditorium rose as one person and signified their willingness to follow Voliva to the end.

On the platform with Voliva were Mrs. John Alexander Dowie, Judge Barnes, head of the law department of Zion City, and Overseers Spelcher, Excell, Cantel and Granger. At the conclusion of a short prayer by Overseer Spelcher the new leader of Zion, clad in a robe of simple white and black, a decided departure from the gaudy ediment assumed by the first apostle on similar occasions, stepped to the front of the platform and in a slow, calm and studied voice made the announcement that he was going to take advantage of the meeting "to tell a few truths" about the man whom they had so faithfully followed for several years.

Voliva then told the audience of the "deplorable" conditions he found at Zion City when he arrived a month ago from Australia and took up the management of Zion's interests at Dowie's command. The speaker did not mince words, but spoke bluntly of the "perfidy" of John Alexander.

When most bitter in the denunciation of his former master there was no one in the tabernacle who showed more approval of Voliva's remarks than Overseer Mrs. Jane Dowie. When Voliva angrily exclaimed, "I will see that all the costly furniture and expensive library adorning Dowie's Zion City residence and which were purchased by that hypocrite while many of his people were in need of food are sold and the money turned into Zion storehouses," Mrs. Dowie half rose and with her voice and hands loudly applauded the words.

Overseer Voliva in justification of the overthrow of Zion's first apostle told how money had been squandered foolishly for Dowie's own comfort while the creditors and the people of Zion were calling loudly for money. He then asked what had become of all this money that has been flowing into Zion for so many years.

In replying to his question he said that the greater portion of these funds had been squandered recklessly by Dowie, a great deal of it having been used by Zion's former leader for his own personal comfort and a few of his favorites. He then asked his congregation if they wished to return to the Dowie regime or preferred to follow him and the business committee of twelve overseers which he had appointed and all of whom were a staff in the deposing of Dowie. The audience acquiesced in all that had been done for Zion since the movement against Dowie was begun. In bringing his denouncement of Dowie to a close Overseer Voliva said:

"Alexander Granger owns this tabernacle. He owns this entire estate. What I want you to do is to send all titles and offerings to Zion in the name of Overseer Granger instead of in the name of John Alexander Dowie."

A message was received from Dowie stating that he would reach Zion City tomorrow morning and ordering Elijah house, his residence in Zion City, to be prepared for his homecoming. Voliva, after reading this message, vowed that Dowie would not be allowed to enter the door of what formerly was his Zion City house.

Voliva requested all present to keep away from the railway station when Dowie reaches Zion City.

DOWIE AT SAN ANTONIO.

Told His Story to Eleuther, Bitterly Attacking His Wife.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 9.—John Alexander Dowie and his party left last night for Chicago. The train was delayed at San Antonio, and this was taken advantage of by the local Zionites, who arranged for a meeting of Zionites.

As Dowie entered the hall the audience rose and sang a hymn of praise. Dowie walked down the center aisle, bowing and uttering, "God be with thee." For ten minutes Dowie and the audience prayed together to banish the devil from Zion. Then Dowie told his story to the expectant people. His entire address was centered about the subjects of polygamy and the conduct of his wife. The audience was with him in all that he said, even when he bitterly disparaged Mrs. Dowie.

A PANIC AT NAPLES

Earthquakes Shake City of the Beautiful Bay.

VEVUSIUS DESTROYS BOSCOCREASE

Forty Thousand Flee From Torrents of Liquid Fire on Blazing Mountain's Declivities—Royal Observatory Destroyed.

NAPLES, April 9.—Streams of molten lava are pouring from Vevusius out of many new openings, and the village of Boscocrease, on its southern declivity, has been transformed into a gray ruin by the ashes from the crater of the volcano. Torrents of liquid fire, resembling yellow and black scalds, are coursing in all directions and rumblings, detonations and earth tremblings, while a cloud of sulphurous smoke that hovers over all makes breathing difficult.

King Victor Emmanuel, who was born in Naples, spent his youth there, and as crown prince of Italy bore the title of prince of Naples, has expressed his intention of visiting the afflicted districts.

The hope that Mount Vevusius was becoming calm has been dissipated, as the volcano has become more active than ever.

The panic has spread to Naples. Two strong earthquake shocks, which shattered window panes and cracked the walls of buildings, were experienced last night. The entire population rushed to the streets in terror, many persons crying: "The Madonna has forsaken us! The end of the world has come!"

No trace remains of Boscocrease, where up to forty-eight hours ago 10,000 persons lived, and Torre Annapoli, on the shores of the gulf of Naples, on the shoreward, is almost surrounded by the invading lava and has been evacuated by its 30,000 inhabitants. The people were brought to Naples by train, street cars, military carts and steamships. Like transportation facilities have been sent to Torre del Greco to take away the people.

As yet it is impossible to count the craters that have opened and from which streams of lava have flooded the beautiful, prosperous and happy land lying on the southeast shores of the gulf of Naples.

The atmosphere is heavily charged with electricity, and now and then the flashes of lightning are blinding, while the detonations from the volcano resemble in sound a terrible explosion.

The danger and horror of the situation is, however, lessened by the most splendid sight imaginable. The streams of lava snarl like pigs, and the trunks of great trees and blight the peach blossoms before the trees have been reached. Many homes of peasants have been razed.

Everywhere in the neighborhood of the volcano pitiful scenes are witnessed. Artillery carts have been sent to the assistance of the fleeing peasants, and the Duke of Aosta, Cardinal Joseph Prisco and all the authorities went to the threatened region in order to succor or comfort the people. Bosco Resia, the village which is in the greatest danger of destruction, is the birthplace of the cardinal.

The engineers and soldiers to erect parapets and dig trenches in order to change the course of the lava streams and took part in the work. Cardinal Prisco distributed food and money to the peasants and even gave away the rings he wore on his fingers. The statue of St. Anne, which was taken to the mountainside to confront the lava, is frequently moved backward as the tide advances.

Considerable apprehension is caused by the earthquake shocks, which are growing stronger and are felt even at Castellammare, fifteen miles southeast of this city. Each shock is accompanied by heavy detonations.

Ottajano, at the northeast foot of the mountain, is threatened by a stream of lava, and the people are beginning to desert the town. The inhabitants of Torre Annunziata, at the south foot, have requested that night trains be run to the town. This request has been granted, and trains are now ready in case of need.

It is estimated that 2,000 acres of land under cultivation have been destroyed by the eruption.

The observatory has been destroyed, and Signor Matteucci, the director, and the employees had narrow escapes. They passed the night in the darkness save for the frequent flashes of lightning, as the gas works and electric lighting plant also were destroyed. The restaurant of the Funicular railroad, too, has been obliterated.

Prisoners in jails on the mountain-side went mad with terror and mutilated and were only partially quieted by being brought here. But their fears have been communicated to the prisoners here, who may rebel at any moment. The situation is critical.

Breathing is momentarily becoming more difficult because of the poisonous fumes and smoke, while the hot ashes which are still falling tend to make life a burden.

Pope Pius Chafes at Imprisonment. ROME, April 9.—Pope Pius is greatly distressed by the calamity wrought by the eruption of Mount Vevusius. In talking to his secretary he said, "These are moments when my imprisonment is irksome." His holiness personally will not be able to go to the scene, but he has sent a letter to Cardinal Prisco, archbishop of Naples, expressing his grief for the sufferers by the disaster and instructing him to distribute relief among them.

WANTS NEW CRUSADE

Rev. A. J. Haynes Tells Yale of Up to Date Religion.

CALLS FOR CIVIC REFORM WARFARE

Church Must Find Something to Set Earnest Young Men on Fire With Zeal—Mistake to Preach Old Woman's Sermon to Them.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 9.—In speaking to the Yale students at Hattell chapel Rev. Artemus J. Haynes of this city commented on the attitude of the young man toward the church of today and declared that if the church would save herself she must boldly commit herself to a new crusade. He declared that the new crusade would be a thing of schools and hospitals, concern itself with the material welfare of the cities and demand that the poor have more and the rich less.

In part he said: "There is religion for the old and religion for the young, for the strong and for the weak. To mix these religions is a mistake. It is a mistake to preach an old man's religion to young men. It is worse to preach an old woman's religion to young men."

"The twentieth century religion must find something to set earnest young men on fire with zeal. The church, if she would save herself, must boldly commit herself to a new crusade. If she does that she will find that there is no dearth of young men within her membership. Fortunately we find the cause ready at hand in the salvation of our country. This calls for civic warfare. It calls for a high standard and type of patriotism. It is to be a thing of schools and hospitals. It will concern itself with the material welfare of our cities and communities, with well built houses, with clean streets, with law and order, with a demand that the poor have more and that the rich have less. The day of the hero on horseback is past, and the day of the hero with civic righteousness is at hand."

"Democracy has never in all history demonstrated by trial its right to be called the ideal form of self government. We are conducting an experiment in democracy here. Democracy creates problems, but it has not solved them. It is even possible that our American experiment may utterly fail unless Christianity and high patriotism takes a strong hold. One way in which we can all help in the salvation of our country is to help in the salvation of the city in which we live, or of the ward in which we vote, or of the street in which our home is. Christ never saved a man for the sake of getting him into heaven. But he saved men to have them do something."

Professor Saved a Lynching. MERIDIAN, Miss., April 9.—The coolness of Professor J. F. Beeson of the Meridian college prevented the lynching of a negro who shot Branscomb Farmer, a street car conductor here. A mob of not less than a hundred men and boys located the negro at the college, where he has been employed, and prepared to make an attack. Professor Beeson secreted the negro and argued the mob into dispersing by promising to deliver the negro to the police on Monday. The shooting occurred over the refusal of the negro to pay fare for a twelve-year-old boy who accompanied him on the car. The conductor, it is believed, will recover.

Three Drowned at McCall's Ferry. LANCASTER, Pa., April 9.—The search for the bodies of the three men drowned in the Susquehanna river at McCall's Ferry, where they were at work on the big dam being erected by the McCall's Ferry Power company, has been discontinued owing to the high stage of the water. Gauges of men dragged the river all night, but the search was fruitless, and it is now believed that the bodies have been washed several miles down the river. The names of the dead men are Martin Lee, Frederick Hegette and John Connolly, all of Portland, Me.

Bambanta Escaped British Force. DURBAN, Natal, April 9.—Chief Bambanta has escaped into Zululand with a bodyguard of seventy warriors. Colonel Leuchar of the colonial punitive force is in pursuit. After an arduous night march the colonial troops occupied a point overlooking Impanzana and shelled several kraals. Chief Bambanta was now surrounded, and the guns of the colonials were posted in splendid positions, but the chief, with some followers, slipped through the lines and got away.

Funeral of Edwin C. Swift. BEVERLY, Mass., April 9.—The funeral of Edwin C. Swift of the firm of Swift & Co., the Chicago meat packers, who died at the Quincey House in Beverly Farms, was held at Beverly Farms. The body was taken to Forest Hills cemetery and placed in the receiving vault to await the arrival of Mrs. Swift from Europe.

Murderers Saved Prison Bars. HELENA, Ga., April 9.—The following prisoners made their escape during the night from the jail here by sawing the bars: Ike Rawlings, George Moon and Oliver Wilcox, colored, all being held under the charge of murder. Their escape was not discovered until early morning.

Tornado at Fayette, Mo. FAYETTE, Mo., April 9.—A tornado passed over Fayette, doing much damage. Many houses were unroofed and blown from their foundations, and barns and small buildings were blown away.

Cuba Ranks Second in Trade. WASHINGTON, April 9.—A report issued by the department of commerce and labor on the Cuban trade says: "Cuba ranks second in importance in the trade relations of the United States with other American countries. The total trade of the United States with the principal countries of America in the fiscal year 1905 was: With Canada, $208,000,000; Cuba, $123,000,000; Brazil, $111,000,000; Mexico, $92,000,000; Argentina, $80,000,000."

Mrs. Roosevelt and Children Home. WASHINGTON, April 9.—Mrs. Roosevelt and her three children arrived here from Savannah, Ga., on the Southern railroad on her return from the cruise in the Mayflower to Cuba.

VALE DEFEATED, BUT HAPPY.

Old Bill Team Scored Three Runs Against the Giants.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Solemnly the Yale frog croaked a gleeful gurgle of satisfied ambition at the Polo grounds when Camp, the bespectacled, square shouldered second baseman, charged down the base path from third to home and crossed the plate with the first run against the Giants.

"For we didn't expect to win, far be it from that," confided a first year man who had traveled down from New Haven to watch the nine, "but we did want to score. It is better to have scored and lost than never to have scored at all." Even that was not all the story of Yale's success, as the deer food and stalwart athletes of Old Eli's school, O'Brien and Kinney, crossed the home plate before the task of beating them was completed.

True, neither McGlinchy, the man of metal, nor Taylor, whose arms play a skit dance every time he throws the ball, put on extra steam to baffle the college men, but what of that so long as Yale scored? There is a heap of insulating confidence inoculated into the systems of the college boys when they can make runs against the professionals. It is almost as good as beating one's dearest enemy.

Yale has a smart baseball nine. It shows a heap of promise. Ball players who are fast and ball players who have strong muscles, deep chests, well molded legs and arms of steel constitute it.

All told the Giants made ten runs, it doesn't matter much how they made them. It may add a trifle to history to say that they got their first three because Jackson Ruske couldn't locate the plate, and the other seven were the result of good batting and base running. Score, 10 to 3.

Curriculum Captures Nursery Stakes. WASHINGTON, April 9.—August Belmont's colors were at the front by a narrow margin at the finish of the race for the Washington Nursery stakes here, but the winner was not Okelite, as expected, with whom Mr. Belmont had placed the first three and "second string" Curriculum. Okelite finished just outside the first three and never dattered the hopes of those who thought he would win like a colt of his class and greatly disappointed his admirers. Curriculum was in front all the way, but was stopping so fast that Lady Vera ran Curriculum to a head, while Okelite finished six lengths behind Lady Vera.

New Yorkers Won at Traps. BOSTON, April 9.—Final honors in the big trap shooting tournament between the members of the Crescent Athletic club of New York and the Boston Athletic association were awarded the New Yorkers by the narrow margin of eleven targets at the conclusion of the match held on the Boston Athletic association grounds at Riverside.

Donald Ross Leads Golfers. PINEHURST, N. C., April 9.—Donald Ross, the home professional, with a score of 148, won the thirty-six hole open golf tournament here. His brother, Alec Ross, and Arthur H. Fenn tied for second place, with 150 each.

Normal College Girls Victors. NEW YORK, April 9.—Normal college girls kept up their winning streak at basket ball when they defeated the Manual Training High school five on the latter's court. The score was 25 to 7.

Vanderbilt Won Blangy Stakes. PARIS, April 9.—At Longchamps William K. Vanderbilt's Turbulon won the Blangy stakes, a selling event, and his Maitenon the Hocquet stakes.

Providence Badly Beaten. PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 9.—The New York National defeated the Providence baseball team of the Eastern league by a score of 15 to 2.

Bishop of Oregon Dead. PORTLAND, Ore., April 9.—Benjamin Wistar Morris, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church for the diocese of Oregon, is dead. Benjamin Wistar Morris was born at Wallerboro, Pa., on May 30, 1819, and was pastor and rector of churches at Sunbury, Pa.; Manayunk, Pa.; and Germantown, Pa., from 1847 to 1868, when he was consecrated missionary bishop of Oregon and Washington. He is said to have been the oldest bishop in the United States.

Towboat Blows Up Off Portland, O. HAVENWOOD, W. Va., April 9.—While on the way up the Ohio river from Cincinnati to Pittsburgh with twelve empty barges the boiler of the towboat H. M. Hoxie of Pittsburgh blew up, and the boat sunk within five minutes off Portland, O. John Moran of Pittsburgh, a fireman, is missing and is thought to be drowned. Joseph Wheeler, another fireman, was scalded by steam and will die, and three others of the crew had limbs broken and were also scalded.

Cuba Ranks Second in Trade. WASHINGTON, April 9.—A report issued by the department of commerce and labor on the Cuban trade says: "Cuba ranks second in importance in the trade relations of the United States with other American countries. The total trade of the United States with the principal countries of America in the fiscal year 1905 was: With Canada, $208,000,000; Cuba, $123,000,000; Brazil, $111,000,000; Mexico, $92,000,000; Argentina, $80,000,000."
