STREET FIGHTERS RAISED RUMPUS

Disgraceful Row on East Packer Avenue Results in the Two Principals Being Arrested and Fined

A disgraceful row which aroused nearly the entire neighborhood, and for which the two principal participants paid a high price, occurred on East Packer avenue shortly before midnight Saturday night, and ended in the arrest of Theodore Fleischutt, better known to his associates as Charley Fleischutt, and Harvey Keener, both of whom were arraigned yesterday in police court on charges of fighting and disorderly conduct.

The stories told by the two men differ, as to the cause of the row which ended in their arrest. Fleischutt and his wife and Keener board at the home of Nelson Cole on East Packer avenue, and Fleischutt claims that early Saturday evening he purchased a half pint of whiskey which he took to his boarding house and which was later stolen. The missing whiskey, Fleischutt says, precipitated a disturbance, in which nearly all the members of the household took part, finally ending in Fleischutt being ejected into the street. Outside of the house he and Keener came together and exchanged a number of blows when Officer Voegel appeared on the scene and put a stop to further hostilities by placing Fleischutt under arrest. Keener evidently caught sight of the blue coated official and vanished.

Keener tells another story of the affair. He says that Fleischutt came to the Cole house drunk. He found his wife there and wanted to kiss her, but that lady didn't appear to desire the caresses of her husband just at that time and a disturbance followed. A keg of beer which had been brought to the house in the early part of the evening assisted in furnishing the courage for a jangle which lasted until nearly midnight when Fleischutt was thrown out of the house. He went up the street a short distance and in the meantime several inmates of the household came into the street, among them being Keener. A tirade of indecent and profane language followed, and in the meantime the residents of the neighborhood arose from their beds to see who was being murdered. Officer Voegel was sent for and arrived in time to catch Fleischutt and Keener handing each other divers and sundry wallops.

Fleischutt was taken to the lock-up after he had received a few taps from the officer's club, just as a reminder that the officer wouldn't stand any foolishness. Warrants for the arrest of both men, charging them with disorderly conduct and breach of the peace, were issued, and upon being arraigned they pleaded guilty. Fleischutt was fined ten dollars and costs or the privilege of sojourning in the county jail for a period of 30 days, and Keener was fined five dollars and costs or ten days in jail. Later a dusky son of Italy appeared and paid the fines of the two men and the latter were released.

Fleischutt is well known in police circles as an old offender. The last time he appeared here was before the late John R. Murray. He was charged with chicken stealing, but gave bail for his appearance at court.

IN A PITIABLE PLIGHT

Martin Kelley, a man well along in years, who lost his leg in a railway accident several years ago, and who has since been wandering from place to place, was found lying in a helpless condition in a switch shanty in the lower yards this morning. Officer Bob Degroff went to the shanty to investigate and found that the man was seriously ill. Chief Walsh was notified and had Kelley taken to the hospital. He is suffering from a bad case of the grip and exposure.

SIX DUMB BRUTES PERISH IN FLAMES

Two Horses and Four Cows Consumed in a Conflagration Early Yesterday Morning

Yesterday morning between 5 and 6 o'clock fire broke out in a barn situated along the Auburn branch of the Lehigh on the Milltown road just outside the borough limits. Two horses, valued at $100 each, four cows, 30 tons of hay, 300 bushels oats, 100 bushels of corn, three farm wagons, and a quantity of farm implements were consumed. The barn was owned by Charles Lloyd, the well known mail agent, who runs on the Lehigh between this place and New York. J. S. and H. T. Werts, brothers, occupied the farm as tenants and the contents of the barn was owned by them. There was no insurance and the loss is estimated at nearly $3,000.

About 5 o'clock the borough fire alarm sounded, but when it was ascertained where the conflagration was located the companies did not respond as the apparatus would have been useless on account of being unable to secure water. The fire department from the Lehigh Valley power house, however, run an engine to the scene of the fire but when the firemen arrived they could do but little. Before the flames were discovered they had made such headway that it was impossible to release the animals, and the dumb brutes perished in their stalls.

A few minutes after the fire broke out several strangers, evidently tramps, were seen to leave the burning building, and walk rapidly up the Auburn branch. It is thought that these men may have been smoking in the building and that they carelessly dropped a lighted match.

DIES SUDDENLY OF HEART DISEASE

Mrs. Samantha Shipman Expired Last Night While Sitting in Her Chair Conversing With Her Son

Mrs. Samantha Shipman, 80 years old, mother of E.H. Shipman, assistant chief engineer of the Lehigh Valley's civil engineer corps, died suddenly at her son's home at 410 South Wilbur avenue, last night about 11 o'clock. Mrs. Shipman was seated in a chair talking to her son, George Shipman, who on Saturday evening had come from Wilkes-Barre to visit her, when suddenly her head fell forward and she expired almost instantly. Her son immediately summoned assistance from neighbors residing nearby and Dr. C. A. Haines was sent for. He arrived without delay and after making an examination stated that she had died instantly upon being attacked. Heart disease is assigned as the cause of the death.

Mrs. Shipman came to Sayre over two years ago with her son, E. H. Shipman, he having charge of the engineer work on the shop plot. Previous to her living in Sayre she had been a resident of New Jersey, having spent the greater part of her long life in that state. Her husband died about 28 years ago and since that time she has been living with her son. At the time of her death Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Shipman were absent on a visit to New York.

She is survived by her two sons, E. H. and George Shipman and one daughter, Mrs. Horace M. Walton, a resident of California. The arrangements for the funeral are in charge of J. W. Grumme's undertaking establishment and will be announced later.

Lehigh Valley Easter Excursion to Buffalo and Niagara Falls. Tickets will be sold April 15; return limit April 16. Fare round trip from Sayre, $3.00. See Lehigh Valley Agents for further particulars.

WILL DISCUSS PLANS FOR SEWER

Sayre Gentlemen to Go to Harrisburg on Wednesday to Confer with State Department of Health

George W. Heverley, chairman of sewer committee of the Sayre borough council, C. C. West, a member of the committee, and N. F. Walker, the engineer who made the field survey for a sewer in this place, will go to Harrisburg on Wednesday of this week at the request of the secretary of the State Department of Health. Some time ago the plans which were drawn by a New York firm were submitted to the State department of Health and that body has promised to give the local authorities all assistance possible in determining upon what is best for the town. Accordingly the gentlemen above named will meet with the officials of the health department on Wednesday next and the situation will be thoroughly discussed. It is not thought that the committee will come back with a recommendation, but it is quite likely that considerable progress will be made.

One important matter which will doubtless be given impetus is the question of emptying the sewage into the Susquehanna river. In order to do this the local authorities must first secure permission from the governor, and the governor is usually actuated by the position taken by the State Department of Health. Hence when Messrs. Heverley, West and Walker have gone over the plans with the officials at Harrisburg they will then present a request that the borough of Sayre be allowed to empty sewage into the Susquehanna river.

Unless this matter can be adjusted in this manner it will necessitate the borough building a plant for the disposal of sewage, provided a sewer line is constructed. This would mean the expenditure of considerable money.

RAN AWAY DURING HUSBAND'S ABSENCE

Wilkes-Barre Woman Leaves Home in that Place While Her Husband is in Sayre

Hayes Thorp, a machinist, who lately came from Wilkes-Barre to Sayre to work in the Lehigh shops, upon returning to his home at Wilkes-Barre on Saturday found his wife and eight-year-old son, Edward, missing. The woman had left no clue as to where she had gone, but later he learned that Mrs. Charles McGroaty, a woman who resided nearby, was also looking for her husband who had been missing since Friday morning. Then it was ascertained that Mrs. Thorp and Mr. McGroaty had both bought tickets for New York, and now Mr. Thorp is in that city looking for the pair. Mrs. Thorp is about 28 years old, wears glasses and is fairly good looking, while the man with whom it is believed she has ran away, is a clerk in one of Wilkes-Barre's department stores.

ARRANGING FOR CONTRACTS

On account of pressing business J. K. Rush, the gas plant promoter, was unable to reach Sayre last week. He notifies parties interested in Sayre that he has been in Philadelphia looking up the contractors who are to lay the gas pipes in the streets here. He says that the plant will probably be much larger than first anticipated. Mr. Rush also says that there will be no stock offered for sale until the state charter is received. An application was made to the governor for a charter a few days ago and it is quite likely that the same will be granted in the course of a week or ten days. Mr. Rush will come to Sayre the latter part of this week or the first of next.
