A STORMY VOYAGE

Athens—Sherm Dubois had a very rough time of it yesterday piloting his duck hunters down the river. It was a stormy voyage from beginning to end, and when he returned last evening with two diminutive specimens of game, there was a look of despair resting on his usually serene countenance. It rained and snowed and blowed all day, and several times there was reason to fear that he would be obliged to resort to the life saving equipment of his flagship.

NEW LODGE ORGANIZED

Athens—Trinity lodge, No. 51, N. P. A., was organized last evening by F. E. Bullard with about seventy-five members. Perkins; noble grand, Ira Merrill; vice grand, Percy Perkins; treasurer, Mrs. Catlin; conductor, Mrs. M. B. Vargason; secretary, B. J. Overfield.

Mrs. Snow gave a patriotic recitation and George Washington (colored) recited the Barbara Fritchie poem. A double quartet sang patriotic songs. It was an inspiring meeting and will serve to keep in remembrance the patriotic lessons of the great war.

HORSE GOT EXCITED

Athens—A horse attached to a carriage was standing hitched to a telephone pole in front of the Campbell house yesterday noon, and when a trolley car came down the street he became excited, reared, and broke his halter.
