CLIMBED POLE AND SLID DOWN

Little Girl Severely Injured While at Play Yesterday

Last night while several girls were returning from school, one of the number dared the others to climb a telephone pole at the corner of Spring and Cayuta street. One of the girls, the 11-year-old daughter of Elmer Keyes, of Spring street, who was more daring than the others, climbed the pole a short distance and then slid down. She lost her grip and struck the ground with considerable force, injuring her right knee badly. The sac which contains the fluid for lubricating the knee joint was ruptured and the little girl will be laid up for some days, though it is not thought a permanent injury has resulted from the fall. Her mother is lying in bed as the result of injuries sustained by falling down stairs some days ago.

ALLEGED TO HAVE BEATEN HIS WIFE

Thomas Holmes Keeps Up Disturbance at His Home and Lands in Durance Vile

Thomas Holmes, a resident of Spring street, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Chief Walsh on a charge of kicking up a disturbance at his home. It is alleged that Holmes indulges persistently in wet goods and that when he is in his cups he proceeds to break up the furniture and do other stunts that makes life miserable for the inmates of the household and the peaceful residents of that vicinity. When arrested Holmes was in a helpless state of intoxication. His wife made the complaint and alleged that he had violently beat and otherwise maltreated her.

DISAPPOINTING

Thus far the trout season, which opened on Monday, has been a disappointment to fishermen. The rain Saturday and Sunday spoiled the first day's sport. The water in the streams where trout abound was high, and where it wasn't muddy it was cloudy. Fly fishing was out of the question. The anglers who did go out attempted to fish with worms, but it was so raw and chilly that the speckled beauties wouldn't bite. It is known, however, that there is plenty of trout in the streams, and if the weather gets favorable, there will be some fine fishing for those who enjoy this sport.

SPRING IS HERE

Spring has arrived. There is no longer any doubt of it. This noon a man who has long since passed three score and ten, whose hair and beard were white from the frost of many winters, appeared on the streets of Sayre. He carried a violin and stopped in front of the business places and proceeded to work. Despite the fact that the old man's playing was of a decidedly doubtful nature, and his fingers failed to "stop" at the right places, he was highly successful in gathering in the nickles and dimes.

RAILWAY MEN HERE

G. Tracy Rogers, J. B. E. Clark and W. H. Clark, street railway magnates of Binghamton, accompanied by Superintendent W. E. Case of the W. S. & A. Traction company, are in Sayre today looking over the company's line.

JOHNSON'S TRIAL TO COMMENCE MAY 7

Large Number of Jurors Have Been Subpoenaed for This Important Case

The trial of Charles Johnson, charged with the murder of Mrs. Maggie Johnson and Annie Benjamin, will commence before Judge Fanning at Towanda on Monday, May 7. A panel of 70 jurors has been subpoenaed to appear on that date, and it is barely possible that an extra panel will have to be summoned before a jury is secured. The attorneys for Charles are prepared to put up a stiff fight to save their client from the hangman's noose, and therefore will exercise great care in selecting talismen.

Charles is now allowed the liberties of the jail. He has proven to be an exemplary prisoner and has given the officials of the county prison no trouble whatever.

ERIE BRAKEMAN KILLED AT OWEGO

The Manner in Which He Met Death Is Somewhat of a Mystery

William Green of Addison, N.Y., employed as a freight brakeman on the Erie, was killed yesterday by his train a short distance below Owego. When last seen by his crew he was standing on top of one of the box cars a few cars from the engine. How he met his death is a mystery. He was found lying alongside the tracks by a crew going west, and it is presumed that he fell between the cars while attempting to pass from one car to another. He was alive when found but died in the owego depot a few hours later. He had worked for the Erie for 15 years. His remains were taken to Addison.

HIGGINS-HARRIGAN

Dr. William J. Higgins, who has practiced medicine here for the past four years, and Miss Leonora Harrigan, were married last night at the Church of the Epiphany, the Rev. J. L. Shanley officiating. Michael Higgins acted as best man, while the bride was attended by Miss Nellie Costello. Both are well known young people and have scores of friends who will extend congratulations. The groom is numbered among Sayre's best citizens while his bride is a young woman of most estimable character. The happy couple left shortly after the ceremony for eastern points on a brief wedding trip.

MRS. J. J. HOLLERAN

Mrs. John J. Holleran died at her home on Seneca street, this morning at 4:30 o'clock, after a long illness. Mrs. Holleran was formerly Miss Mary Lambert and was one of Sayre's most popular and highly respected women. She has been ill since February 7, at which time a daughter was born to her. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Hannah Lambert, three brothers, Robert, Charles and Bernard, all of Sayre. The funeral will be held on Friday morning at nine o'clock.

WHO WAS HE?

The Hazelton Standard contains the following: "A Beaver Meadow tinner, who went to Sayre to secure employment, has returned home. He could obtain employment, but as he was not affiliated with a trades union, the union men refused to work with him and it was very lonely to continue work under the circumstances, so he decided to return home. He desired to join the sheet metal worker's union, but the initiation, $25, was beyond his means."

HOW TO OBTAIN A PIANO FREE

Facts About the D. S. Andrus & Co. Word Building Contest

The work of propagating a "Word-Building Contest" is just beginning to be realized by D. S. Andrus & Co. Extra office help has been added. Inquiry follows inquiry. One of the most prominent queries is if the word "and" is included in the contest. It is, and will help swell the list of words materially. Representatives of D. S. Andrus & Co. are busy all the while answering questions—which they cheerfully do. Said a prominent and well known man to Mr. M. Doyle Marx, the Elmira representative of the firm, yesterday: "I am going into that contest, because I know when D. S. Andrus & Co. say they will do a thing, they will do it." Such bursts of confidence are truly appreciated. For when such extraordinary unperturbings are inaugurated—there are skeptical people who doubt. No one need fear, for the largest correct list of words compiled from the firm name of "D. S. Andrus and Company" will receive the grand prize of a D. S. Andrus & Co. Cabinet Grand Upright Piano valued at $450.00, and the second largest list will receive a Doyle-Marx Concert Grand Upright Piano valued at $350.00, and the other prizes will be distributed as advertised. Get busy and send in your lists. Read over the rules carefully. Particulars and circulars can be had for the asking at the D. S. Andrus & Co. store, 114 Baldwin street, Elmira, or at the Sayre, Ithaca or Printed Post stores.

PERSONAL MENTION

Dr. and Mrs. H. Tuttle of Covington, Pa., are Sayre visitors today. The doctor is considering the advisability of locating here.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Weller and daughters have returned from Scranton where they spent Easter. Miss Florence Sperry accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Dubois left last night for Ulster county, N. Y., to attend the funeral of their brother, Daniel Coddington, who died yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Grant went to New York city this morning for a few days visit. Jacqueline Wiles, their little granddaughter, who has been visiting them for several days, returned with them.

HEAVY TRAFFIC

The passenger traffic on the Lehigh Valley is enormous. Monday and Tuesday nearly all the through passenger trains carried extra coaches. The reason for the increase in traffic in this department at this season of the year, is because of the migration of so many foreigners who are leaving for the soft coal fields and other places where they have obtained work for the summer.
