FIRE BOARD HELD MEETING LAST NIGHT

Arrangements Made for a Grand Ball to Be Given on May 19

At a meeting of the fire board held in the Packer hose rooms last night important preliminary steps were taken in connection with the plans for the firemen's parade which is to be held in Sayre this year. Secretaries of all the companies were instructed to send in reports of the number of members in good standing in each of the companies and measures were taken to provide a fund to pay expenses of the parade. A meeting will be held on Tuesday evening, May 15th, at which time the secretaries are requested to report. In fact the secretaries are urged to attend to this matter, as it is of the utmost importance.

It was decided to give a ball on the evening of May 19, in the Wheelock hall. Supper will be served by the ladies in the Packer hose rooms. The price of the tickets for the ball has been placed at one dollar and supper will be served for twenty-five cents. The proceeds of the ball will be used to assist in paying the expenses of the parade. The fire board has decided that this is a better plan for the raising of money than soliciting subscriptions.

ATTEND THE GAME

The ball game which will occur on Friday afternoon for the benefit of the San Francisco fire sufferers will be worth going miles to see. There will be absolutely no danger of being hit by a batted ball as not a man engaged in the game would be able to hit a flock of balloons with a fish pole. It has been suggested that the stores close while the game is in progress, thus giving everybody an opportunity to be present.

One of the worst calamities yet suffered by San Francisco is the poetry that has been published about the fire. Some driveling idiot can always be relied upon to spew several yards of verse on a catastrophe of that sort, and the would-be rhymster brands it poetry.

TRAVELER LOST IN YELLOWSTONE PARK

THRILLING EXPERIENCE OF A GERMAN TRAVELER

SEES WONDERFUL SIGHTS.

Reaches Safety Furnished and Foot-Sore and Almost Frozen—Forced to Pawn Wearing Apparel for Food.

Helena, Mont.—Without garments of any kind suitable to withstand the rigors of wintry weather, Max Haw, a German journalist and newspaper man, arrived in Helena, fresh from a nine-days' tour of hardship in Yellowstone National park.

Without friends or acquaintances of any sort, and without a dollar in his pocket, Mr. Haw has had an experience which he will never forget. He is one of a few men, and the only German writer who has ever attempted a winter tour of the park.

Haw was compelled to walk from Mammoth Hot Springs to Livingston, where he pawned his gloves, watch and shoes for four dollars. This he used in obtaining sufficient food to keep body and soul together while he made his way from Livingston to Helena, covering the entire distance on foot.

He is a representative of the Berlin Illustrated News, Koelnische Volks Zeitung, and a number of other German papers, which commissioned him to come to the United States to study German-American conditions, and especially to tour the park in winter.

Haw came to the park, and in spite of the efforts of the commissariat at Fort Yellowstone to dissuade him, undertook the winter journey into Wonderland, so fraught with hardship and peril.

Haw arrived in New York in February and had letters of introduction to various German newspapers in Chicago and St. Paul, and made his headquarters in the latter place.

It was arranged that Haw should be accompanied by a German soldier named Reinholdt, and a man named Graham, one of the best known park guides. The entire party were outfitted with skis, and the start was made. The weather was cold and the landscape was covered with snow.

Upon his return the faithful correspondent discovered that his notes, purse and sketches were missing. He immediately set out alone to find them. He went back over the trail, but they were nowhere to be found. He soon discovered that he was walking in a circle, that he had lost every idea of the way he had come, and was hopelessly lost.

Lost in Upper Geyser Basin in the dead of winter without food or proper clothing was no pleasant prospect, but undaunted Mr. Haw endeavored to find some avenue whereby he might return to civilization. So cold was it that he was almost frozen, and only with the greatest difficulty could he go further.

"I was up to my neck in snow at times," said he, "and blood came from my nose and mouth. I was almost famished and could go but little further when I discovered tracks we had made during the forenoon. Reaching one of the geysers I began washing my hands and face in hot water, when suddenly I heard a rumbling sound and there was a big eruption of all the geysers in the vicinity.

"Frightened, I rushed away with all speed possible, and from a distance beheld one of the most wonderful sights man ever saw—eruption of geysers in the dead of winter. I followed the tracks I discovered, and reached Fountain the following morning, half frozen, and starving."

The leading Germans of Helena took Haw in charge, and will care for him until he can make suitable arrangements for his return to St. Paul.

Wire Holds Heart in Place. Columbus, O.—Louis Qyrlum left Mount Carmel hospital the other day with 17 feet of silver wire in his body. He entered the hospital in such a condition that it was thought he would never leave it alive. He was injured in a street car accident in Chicago and was "twisted up" internally. Dr. G. S. Hamilton took the case in hand and several weeks ago performed a most remarkable operation. Thyrium had a lung and his heart displaced by being hit by the car, and was not expected to live.

On the Bias. London women have a new walk. The chin is held high and the head is turned over the left or right shoulder, one hand grasping the skirt. The Express remarks: "It is advisable to give the new walk a wide berth, as the walker moves sideways."
