HEARING ON BRIDGE CASE

Waverly—State Railroad Commissioner Frank M. Baker presided at the hearing at town hall Saturday in the matter of the application of the trustees of the village for a bridge at East Waverly over the Lehigh tracks.

The witnesses sworn by the village were President Lawrence, Trustees Farley and Howard, J. G. Dodge, Nelson Lyons and C. M. Frisbie for the village; E. N. Kinney was sworn for the Lehigh Valley railroad.

F. A. Bell appeared for the village, and G. N. Clifton of New York city represented the Lehigh.

The testimony produced tended to show that the crossing was much used, dangerous, and that a bridge was needed. The present plans will call for an expenditure of $10,000.

DEMENTED WOMAN TAKEN IN CUSTODY

Waverly—A woman named Newell, who formerly resided in Waverly, and who is demented came to Waverly yesterday, it is thought from Binghamton. Later she went to Sayre, where she wandered about, and was taken in charge by the police at that place, and sent by them to Waverly. She was then placed in charge of Superintendent of the Poor George Miller, who found lodging for her over night with friends in South Waverly. It is said that the woman has a son in Waverly but that he refused to give any aid or even to see his mother. This morning she was taken to the county house, where she will stay until it is determined where she belongs.

FARMER KILLED NEAR WAVERLY

William Washburn Struck by Lehigh Train and Sustains Fatal Injuries

Waverly—William Washburn, a farmer, residing at Ellistown, was struck Saturday afternoon by the Lehigh passenger train that runs between Sayre and Waverly to meet the Erie train, and received injuries from which he died about an hour later. The accident happened just east of the Pennsylvania bridge. The Lehigh train was coming north to meet Erie train No. 1, which reaches Waverly at 3:45, and it is thought that the deceased stepped from in front of No. 1, in front of the Lehigh train. He was brought to the Erie station and when examined by Drs. W. E. Johnson and L. S. Betowski it was found that several ribs were crushed and that he had a bad wound on the head.

The identity of the injured man was established by his son in law, who had come to the station out of curiosity.

Deceased lived with his son, Frank Washburn, on the Pennell farm. He is also survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. Brink, of Waverly.

The funeral was held from his late home at Ellistown this morning; burial was at Nichols and was in charge of the Odd Fellows of that place.

FEAR MAY DAY RIOTS

Paris Struck Over Attempt to Destroy Argentine Bridge.

PARIS, April 30.—The civic and military authorities have completed final preparations for dealing with the May day situation and are confident that the day will pass without serious disorder, but at the same time the public, which is not in the least reassured by the elaborate military concentration, is again showing great uneasiness as the list of May approaches.

This uneasiness was accentuated by the explosion of a bomb Friday night under the railway bridge at Argenteuil, in the suburbs of Paris, which links the capital with Havre, and by an attempt later of a band of a hundred striking jewelers to penetrate the populous center of the Place de l'Opera for the purpose of making a demonstration before the great jewelry establishments in the Rue de la Paix.

The activity of the police in making more searches and seizures, although designed to insure the public safety, also has had the effect of increasing public apprehension, many persons believing that such extraordinary efforts indicate the seriousness of the situation. Government, military and police officials give the most positive assurance that order will be maintained, and the calmer heads accept these statements.

But the nervous element of the city is hardly preparing for eventualities, some persons leaving town and taking their valuables with them and others laying in stores for an emergency. The scenes at the great supply stores are unprecedented, hundreds of persons invading them and clamoring for emergency supplies.

The explosion of the bomb under the Argenteuil bridge is the first overt act in what the revolutionaries term "direct action." The bridge is a massive structure crossing the Seine six miles outside the St. Lazare station, and hundreds of trains cross it daily. The military reinforcements that have been brought to Paris crossed the river on this bridge.

Dispatches from the provinces show that most active preparations are being made for the May day disorders. At Lyons 20,000 men have quit work. Reinforcements of troops have been sent to all the big cities.

Scholarly Prelate.

Cardinal Perraud, bishop of Autun, France, who died recently, was noted as one of the most scholarly prelates of Europe. He was made an immortal in days when the sacerdotal habit had already come to be a poor recommendation for public honor, but the cardinal, who, like Newman in England, was the head of the Oratorians in France, never had any difficulty in maintaining a position of quiet dignity.

Revered the Elder.

Henry D. Moorman, 28 years old, the youngest county judge in Kentucky, was recently elected in Cloverport, and a few days ago performed his first marriage ceremony. He says it will be his last, also, for he thinks marriage is too sacred a ceremony for judges to perform. Says Judge Moorman: "I attach a sacredness above my office to this thing of linking two lives. The seriousness, the sacredness, the solemnity of the thing is not there when an officer of the law ties the knot."

Friend of the Drama.

The bishop of London, generally regarded as one of the wisest prelates of the Church of England, has proclaimed himself an ardent friend and patron of the drama. The bishop holds that one of the chief difficulties facing the social reformer is to keep poor people out of mischief, and he declares that he has seen thousands "dragged from the public house by the simpler forms of play."

The book tells clearly and truthfully the story of the catastrophe, which, without warning, in the early hours of the morning destroyed human beings, residence, public and commercial buildings in San Francisco and numerous nearby cities.

The book will be complete in every respect, containing hundreds of illustrations made from photographs actually taken while the conflagration was in progress, together with many views of the city and its fine buildings before it was devastated by fire.
