Murray Clark went to Elmira yesterday and visited the Arnot-Ogden hospital where his son Floyd is confined and found him gaining rapidly and very comfortable and cheerful. The nurse in attendance said that everything was favorable for his recovery.

At the Congregational and church meeting at the Presbyterian church last evening F. A. Gillette was elected trustee to succeed himself, and J. W. Beaman was elected to succeed George Peck, whose term expired. Reports were received from all of the bands and societies of the church.

When M. L. Linley, the gentlemanly clerk at the Campbell House opened the front door this morning a bird flew in and lit on his shoulder. The gentle songster was attracted by his cheerful countenance and warbled a sweet melody and then flew away. Mr. Linley thinks it is a harbinger of good luck to him.

An old man, either of unsound mind or possessed of a Satanic disposition, entered the Campbell house yesterday afternoon and called for a drink. On being refused he proceeded to "clean house." He knocked John Davig out of time and sent the other occupants flying to cover. He then rushed out of the door vowing to have the house deprived of its license, just because a "man couldn't get a drink when he needed it."

ATHEENS--The directors of our high school evidently appreciate the splendid work of Miss Ethel Gray in the recent Cinderella concert, as evidenced by their meeting Monday evening, when they adopted the following unanimously: "At a meeting of the board of school directors, held May 7, the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That we wish to show our appreciation for the efficient services and extra work of Miss Ethel Gray, supervisor of music and drawing, as well as the teacher who assisted her in preparing the excellent musical entertainment recently given, and we tender our thanks and congratulations both to Miss Gray and her associates for the success which crowned their labors. Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Athens and Sayre papers, and a copy be presented to Miss Gray and her associates. Attest: E. M. Cowell, President. M. B. Loomis, Secretary.

Tall Wireless Mast. A steel tower 400 feet high is being erected at Machrihanish, on the Kintyre coast of Argyllshire, for the transmission of Marconi signals across the Atlantic. From this tower it will be possible to hold communication with all vessels suitably fitted between Great Britain and North America.

One Way of Keeping Count. First Street Arab--What's them numbers on the motor car for, Jim? Second Ditto--Why, that's the feller's score. It shows how many folks he's run over.--Stray Stories.

Fewer Floral Decorations. Florists are complaining that there is no longer any demand for the elaborate house decorations they used to supply during the season in New York. The extravagant and complicated floral pieces formerly popular at weddings or dances in private houses are now used only when such functions occur at restaurants and hotels.

No English Leader. It has been noted as a curious fact that at the present time no party in the English house of commons is led by an Englishman. The prime minister, the leader of the opposition and the leader of the labor party are Scots and the Irish and Welsh contingents of course have their own leaders.

Suez Canal Too Narrow. It is urged by the Liverpool Underwriters' association that the Suez canal be doubled in breadth or else that an entirely new canal be built.
