From Colorado Expressed Diabelief In Any Good Resulting From Disputed Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 12.-When the rate bill was taken up in the senate Senator Allison was prompt in presenting the first of his compromise amendments. This amendment strikes out the words "fairly remunerative" from the fourth section of the bill as descriptive of the rates which the interstate commerce commission may prescribe. The amendment was adopted without debate or division.

Sanator La Follette made objection to the second amendment, limiting to we years the continuance of the comnission's orders. He moved to strike out the limitation and spoke in support of his motion, saying be could see straining orders in rate cases. "I de not believe it will do what the president expects or what 90 per cent of the American people believe it will do. I do not believe the friends of this

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 12. - The United States government secured an unconditional surrender of the so called paper trust in the United States circuit court before Judge Sanborn. The attorney general began a suit on Dec. 27, 1904, to dissolve an alleged combination between the General Paper company and twenty-three other defendants on the ground that an agreement had been entered into by the defendants in restraint of interstate commerce.

Attorney Kellogg for the government and Attorney Flanders for the defendants appeared before Judge Sanborn, sitting as a circuit judge, and Mr. Kellogg moved that the mandate from the United States supreme court affirming was not convinced, and he proceeded the order that the witness must testify by declaring his conviction to be that be filed. President of Russian Parliament Talks With Ozar.

WOULD EURB COUNCIL OF EMPIRE

Muromiseff After an Interview With Emperor Nicholas Testified to Extreme Courtesy With Which He Had Been Received.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 12.-The new council of the empire, or upper house of parliament, was opened by Count Solsky, its president, with elaborate ceremonies and much autocratic Professor Muromtseff went to Peterhof and notified the emperor of his election to the presidency of the lower house of parliament. He spoke plainly to the czar about the views of the country and demanded amnesty for those engaged in the late troubles throughout Russia.

The Constitutional Democrats hope for much good from the audience.

Besides demanding amnesty, Professor Muromtseff presented in behalf of the Constitutione Democrats a majority suggestion that the council of the empire be made a purely consultative body, with no right to stand between the representatives of the people and the sovereign. Professor Muromitseff returned to St. Petersburg from the audience apparently much impressed by the emperor's earnest interest in the problems of the country. Though the radical botheads had been praying that Professor Muromtseff would lay down the law to the emperor and make a scene, the half hour's conversation was skillfully guided both by the sovereign and the parliamentary chief so that friction was avoided. To the Constitutional Democratic members of the house who awaited his return from Peterhof at the Constitutional club Professor Muromtseff spoke only briefly, laying especial emphasis on the emperor's courtesy and consideration.

It is officially announced that M. Iswolsky, recently Russian minister at Copenhagen has been appointed suc-cessor to Count Lamadorff as minister of foreign affairs and that the latter has been nominated a member of the council of the empire.

The honor of making the first speech in the lower house went to Ivan Petrunkevitch, the old idol of the Liberals, who mounted the tribune and voiced everybody's mind in an appeal for amnesty for those who had suffered in the cause of liberty. The members went mad with enthusiasm. They applauded, rose to their feet, clapped their hands, cheered and finally yelled and shouted. Petrunkevitch declared that the first words to be pronounced in an assem bly of representatives of the Russian people should be freedom and a demand for the amnesty of those who had fought for the cause.

Members of the lower house of the parliament have declined an invitation of the St. Petersburg municipality to a solree in their honor on the ground that fetes are impossible until sinnesty has been obtained for political convicts.
