NEW HOUSE REVOLTS

Russian Radicals in Douma Wanted to Wire Czar.

AMNESTY BURNING QUESTION NOW.

St. Petersburg Experts Riots and Disorder Today, the Muscovite May Day—Capital is Strongly Patrolled.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 14.—Another of the incipient radical revolts with which it is apparent the Constitutional Democratic majority must continually contend broke out in the lower house of parliament when Labor members introduced resolutions for the immediate submission to Emperor Nicholas by telegraph of a demand that amnesty be proclaimed at once.

In view of today's May-day demonstrations and the arrests that are expected in consequence the Constitutional Democratic leaders were scarcely able to stave off so precipitate a move, which would undo all the results of their moderation, by sending their best orators into the fray when Professor Kovalevsky, a free lance member, proposed that instead of telegraphing the emperor the house send President Murovstov to Peterhof with the request for immediate amnesty.

This threatened to sweep the house, but the Constitutional Democrats by sharp politics managed to sidetrack the matter until after the selection of a commission, which, according to Russian procedure, occupied several hours, and then were able to defeat it.

After this incident the lower house adjourned until tomorrow. May day was not mentioned, but abandonment of the session today was dictated out of respect for the socialistic holiday as well as with the desire to give the commission adequate time to draft the reply to the speech from the throne.

The Polish deputies began their campaign for autonomy by introducing a resolution for the inclusion of a paragraph on that subject in reply to the speech from the throne, pointing out that the fundamental law, which establishes the special position of Finland, does not mention the relations of Poland to the empire, and the government's attitude in regard to the absorption of Poland as an accomplished fact is thereby manifested. The house turned over the resolution to a commission without recommendation.

Though the socialists and workmen of St. Petersburg have proclaimed their intention of celebrating May day peaceably today, the government has made preparations on a large scale to meet possible disorders. Patrols fill many streets in the industrial quarters, and all disorder will be at once put down by police and military.

An imperial rescript has been issued expressing appreciation of Count Lamsdorf's services and efforts to strengthen the ties of friendship between Russia and the foreign powers. The emperor expresses the hope that he will be able to take advantage of Count Lamsdorf's great experience in the future.

The police at Tiflis have discovered an underground storehouse containing 250 loaded bombs.

FIND GAPON'S BODY.

Mystery of Disappearance of Famous Priest Cleared Up.

OSZERKI, Finland, May 14.—The mystery of the fate of Father Gapon apparently has been cleared up by the discovery of a corpse which has almost positively been identified as that of the former priest hanging in the upper chamber of a lonely villa in the summer suburb of Ozkerki. The villa was rented April 8 for the summer and a deposit paid by an unknown man from St. Petersburg, who, after visiting the house several times in company with a young workman, disappeared April 11, taking the key with him.

The proprietress of the villa, alarmed at the non-appearance of the tenant, notified the police, who entered the house. Breaking down a door, they were confronted by a body in a long coat hanging from a nail, the foot touching the floor. Decomposition of the face made positive identification difficult, but the features resembled those of Gapon, and the clothing corresponded with that worn by the missing labor leader.

As the usual symptoms of strangulation were absent, it is conjectured that the man was killed elsewhere and his body brought to the villa on the night of April 10. This would agree with the date of the execution of Gapon given in information of the secret police and with the death sentence of the former priest as announced in recent dispatches from Berlin.

Plot to Invade Santo Domingo. WASHINGTON, May 14.—Word was received at the state department to the effect that a movement was being organized in Porto Rico to invade Santo Domingo. Former President Morales and the former minister of foreign affairs, Senor Sanchez, were said to be at the head of the movement.

Matucos Reports From Vesuvius. NAPLES, May 14.—Professor Matucos, director of the royal observatory on Mount Vesuvius, telegraphs that the volcano is in slight eruption. Thick vapors and sand are being expelled, and the electrical phenomenon continues, but he says the situation is not grave.

Two Jersey Firemen Meet Death. TRENTON, N. J., May 14.—Two firemen, Frank Riley and Charles Howell, lost their lives by being crushed under a falling floor in a fire at the New Jersey Pulp Plant company's plant on New York avenue. The monetary loss was $25,000.

Chandler Deceased In Safety. PHILADELPHIA, May 14.—A. N. Chandler, who made a balloon ascension here, landed safely at South Amboy, N. J.

DEAD LIE UNBURIED.

New York Hearse Drivers' Strike Ties Up Funerals.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Except on the battlefield or in a city visited by some great calamity, never in this country have the bodies of the dead been conveyed to their last resting places under such extraordinary and in some instances grotesque conditions as are being witnessed in New York.

The drivers of hearses and funeral coaches say they cannot support themselves and their families on $12 a week. They have asked for $2 more and for shorter hours. The owners have refused, and 200 bodies are lying unburied in the city, and the board of health regards the situation as a serious one.

One body, that of a woman, was taken to the cemetery in a "seeing New York" automobile. Perched in the high seats of the same vehicle were the dead woman's relatives and friends. The funeral had already been postponed twenty-four hours. Wherever a hearse belonging to a member of the association was taken out it was driven by the owner or some member of his family and a policeman sat by his side.

Many bodies were conveyed to the Long Island cemetery in undertakers' black wagons or in delivery wagons, while the weeping relatives walked through the streets. All day the board of health was besieged by undertakers appealing for permission to postpone funerals.

With few exceptions it is the families of the working classes that are affected by the strike. Among them an undertaker is usually employed who does not own his hearse. He is obliged to go to a second man who makes a business of supplying hearses and coaches at an established price, and his drivers are all members of the union.

In case a settlement is not reached at an early date every cab driver in the city will be ordered to stop down from his box if the employers still decline to yield.

There is a strong probability, however, that a compromise settlement will soon be reached.

Four Drownings Near Greenfield.

GREENFIELD, Mass., May 14.—Four drownings are reported in this vicinity. At Turner's Falls Alameda Belmont, Daniel Shea and Eugene Bordeaux, whose ages ranged from twenty-one to twenty-three years, started out in a flat bottomed boat for an outing on the Connecticut river. The craft was caught in an eddy, swept over the falls and all the occupants of the boat were drowned. Ernest Shaw, aged twenty-five years, was drowned in the Deerfield river at Shelburne Falls. He had shot a hawk, the bird falling into the water. In wading out to secure the hawk Shaw went beyond his depth and was drowned.

Why People Cough at Plays.

LONDON, May 14.—The principal cause of coughing in theaters has been explained on scientific lines by a Harley street specialist. "People in theaters," he said, "do not cough because they want to. They cough because they actors do not speak loudly enough and because they cannot hear. Two nerves connect the tympanum of the ear and the back of the throat, with the result that if the ears are strained through, say, an actor's faulty enunciation, it produces irritation in the throat, which sets up coughing."

Two Girls Drowned in Mullica River.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 14.—Rosie Davis and Kate Walter, both about eighteen years old, were drowned at Clark's Landing on the Mullica river by the upsetting of a sailboat in which they were passengers. Frank Sharp and Henry Grice, who were with the girls, state that the rudder became unfastened as a sudden squall overturned the boat. They say the girls were caught under the boat and did not resurface. The men succeeded in swimming ashore.

Boy of Tunis Buried.

TUNIS, May 14.—The funeral of Sidli Mohammed El Hadj, bey of Tunis, took place here before an enormous gathering of natives and Europeans and the French military and civil authorities. The ceremony was a magnificent display of Mohammedan rites, the crowds chanting dirges and many of the Arabs touching the garments of the dead boy with the expectation of obtaining pardon for condemned relatives. The burial took place in the beylical mausoleum.

Naval Stores Plant Destroyed.

GULFPORT, Miss., May 14.—The enormous plant of the New Orleans Naval Stores company and S. Shottler & Co. here were totally destroyed by fire, six acres occupied by the resin yards, warehouses, commissary and storage rooms being entirely swept by the flames. The fire is supposed to have originated in loose hay in the commissary. The loss is about $400,000.

Fire Destroys Ice.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., May 14.—The McCormick ice house, containing 30,000 tons of ice, was set afire by sparks of a passing train and destroyed. The loss will seriously affect the city's ice supply during the summer. The damage was $11,000.

An Electric Trust at New York.

NEW YORK, May 14.—A gigantic electric properties trust controlled by the Ryan interests has been incorporated with a capital stock of $12,000,000, of which $4,000,000 is preferred and $8,000,000 common.

ATTACKS ROOSEVELT

Senator Bailey Calls President "Man of Clay, Not Iron."

GIVES TILLMAN LIE BY TELEPHONE

Rate Bill Causes a Big Rumpus Between the Senate and the White House—All Allison Amendments Carried.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The volcano of wrath which has been smoking and emitting noxious odors ever since it became obvious that Republican harmony would rob the minority of that political capital which it had hoped to gain from the railway rate legislation broke loose in the senate. Party leaders threw off all restraint and gave full vent to their untrammelled indignation, indulging in a flood of abuse and invective against the president. Senator Bailey finally shouting out: "Let us have no more talk in the senate and in the country about this iron man. He is clay and very common clay at that."

When Mr. Bailey had finished his violent remarks Senator Tillman played the last card on behalf of his party, representing the president, on the authority of a third person, of course, as having severely criticized Senators Forsaker, Knox and Spooner and as having characterized them as enemies of railway rate legislation, an assertion which utterly failed of its purpose and which brought a prompt denial from the White House.

No one of the senators named rose to Mr. Tillman's bait, and Senator Lodge, who immediately consulted the president by telephone, quickly informed the senate that President Roosevelt had pronounced the assertion to be "an unqualified falsehood." Mr. Lodge further quoted the president as having expressed sentiments in direct opposition to those attributed to him by Mr. Tillman on the alleged authority of ex-Senator Chandler and as having declared himself to be heartily in favor of the Spooner amendment.

During the day the senate adopted the four remaining amendments contained in the Allison compromise and voted down several propositions and amendments offered, apparently for the mere purpose of delaying the bill or of advertising their respective authors.

In one of the bitterest attacks that has been made upon President Roosevelt during the debate on the railroad rate bill Senator Bailey charged that the executive had surrendered his position advocating "an effective measure" and had abandoned his demands for tariff revision. The Texas senator charged that the president's arraignment of trusts had been made after his election and that before that time he had been as "silent as the grave" upon the subject of regulating the railroads.

The speech was in reply to Senator Carter, who had defended the president against criticism, saying that no one could charge him with cowardice. In the course of his remarks Senator Carter referred to the Democratic party as a party of negotiation and nothing more. He declared that the party had been frightened into a shell at the prospect of action. He charged that neither Senators Bailey nor Ryan in all their congressional career had done anything to secure effective railroad rate legislation.

When Senator Bailey gained the floor he charged that the Montana senator's ebullience was due to the fact that he had not been mentioned by Senator Ryan in his speech a few days ago as one of the president's special ambassadors.

He defended his own record on the ground that during his congressional service his party had been in power only the first four years. He repeated charges of inconsistency on the part of the president in his legislative program, saying that the "absolute rate" first contended for had been deserted for the "maximum rate" and that the president had changed his position on the subject of suspension of rates pending a reversal by the courts.

Senator Lodge dined at the White House last night with the president. Subsequently Secretaries Root and Taft arrived at the White House and joined the president and Senator Lodge.

Turkey Wanted a Redaction.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 14.—The porte replied to Germany's protest against the boarding and detention of the German sailing ship Odysseus by Turkish officials recently while the vessel was discharging cargo at Chibukku. The reply expresses regret at the occurrence and promises to punish the officials responsible for it, but it proposes a reduction of the indemnity of $3,000 which Germany demanded.

Veteran, Despondent, Shot Himself.

FITCHBURG, Mass., May 14.—Captain James H. Blanchard, formerly a member of the printing firm of Blanchard & Brown and an overseer of the poor, committed suicide by shooting himself. He was sixty-six years old and a veteran of the civil war. Despondency due to illness is supposed to have led to his suicide.

Miners Resume Work.

SCRANTON, Pa., May 14.—Work was generally resumed today at practically all of the anthracite collieries. All of the imported men have been shipped away and almost all evidence of their occupancy of the collieries has been removed.

Reid Memorial Dedicated.

RICHMOND, Ind., May 14.—The Reid Memorial United Presbyterian church, erected by Daniel G. Reid of New York at a cost of $200,000, was dedicated yesterday. Many prominent clergymen took part.

GORKY'S WIFE CABLES.

Recounts American Treatment of Her Husband and Mme. Andrieva.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Resenting what she thus terms the unwarrantable intrusion of a certain portion of the public into her husband's personal affairs, Ekaterina Peshkoff, at Yalta, Crimea, Russia, wife of Maxim Gorky, now separated from him, who has just learned of the hostility which the press here of Mme. Andrieva as Gorky's wife aroused, has addressed the following cable dispatch to the New York Herald, in which she sets forth her views on the subject in no uncertain manner. The letter says: "I have received a letter from Alexis Maximovitch Peshkoff (Maxim Gorky) which confirms the news communicated by newspaper telegrams regarding the reception given to him by America. I am very indignant at the intrusion into the personal and intimate life of a man and astonished that the Americans, citizens of a free country enjoying such large political liberties, are not free from the prejudices dead already even with us in Russia."

When Maxim Gorky was informed of the receipt of the dispatch he seemed surprised that it had been sent and was very eager to suppress its publication. Although friends pointed out that such a defense from the woman he was put in the position of having wronged would go far toward rectifying any mistaken views that might still be held, he was insistent that the subject be not reopened.

Those close to him knew he was much hurt at the attitude assumed toward Mme. Andrieva and himself, especially after his declaration that he considered her his wife in every sense of the word.

Field Day at Vassar. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 14.—At the twelfth annual field day at Vassar college there was as much enthusiasm as fully 1,000 young women could make. The new stumps which were established were: Standing broad jump, former record, 7 feet 7 inches, by D. E. Merrill, 1902, broken by Alice Belding, 1907, of Poughkeepsie, who made 7 feet 8 inches. Miss Belding also holds the basal ball throwing record of 195 feet 3 inches, made two years ago.

Giants' Hitting Did It. CINCINNATI, May 14.—Superior hitting with men on bases won for the New York Nationals in the game with Cincinnati. Weiner was knocked out of the box in the third inning, having been slightly hurt in a previous inning by being hit with a pitched ball. Because of the immense crowd hits beyond the fielders counted for three bases. Score, 8 to 4.

Yale Won Athletic Meet. NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 14.—Yale's track athletes defeated Princeton in their annual dual meet on Yale field by a point score of 78 to 224. Princeton's team was not well balanced. Armstrong and Gamble being the only winners of first places. Armstrong won both of the hurdle races, and Gamble took the 220 yard dash. Yale established two new records.

Travis Won Golf Championship. GARDEN CITY, N. Y., May 14.—Walter J. Travis after a battle royal literally won the post from Jerome D. Travers in the final for the chief cup of the golf tournament. The actual margin was 2 up after the Nassau player in an effort to bring off a long put to win the hole in 2 had overrun the cup some feet. It was a grand struggle from the start.

Stricklett Pitched Strong Game. CHICAGO, May 14.—The Brooklyn Nationals defeated Chicago, overcoming the apparently safe lead in the eighth inning on a triple, a single, Pfeister's wild throw and a long fly. Stricklett pitched a strong game after the fifth inning, allowing but three scattered hits. Score, 5 to 4.

St. Louis Pitcher Was Tired. ST. LOUIS, May 14.—The Boston Nationals defeated St. Louis by a score of 3 to 1 in twelve innings.
