Gardening Ants.

Brazilian ants make little gardens in the tree tops and sow them with pine-apple and other seeds. The gardens are found of all sizes, from a single sprouting seed surrounded by a little earth to a densely overgrown ball as large as a man's head.

Decided Mix-Up in the Street Fakir Case at Waverly

Waverly—Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the case of the young man who was arrested by Trustee Farley Tuesday evening was called the defendant failed to appear. Mr. Farley, with his attorney, F. A. Bell, and Attorney Hawkes for the defense were present to try the case. An investigation showed that the young man had taken his baggage and left town.

Justice Hoagland announced that every effort would be made to find the prisoner, and so instructed the police. He was located at Sayre and rather than go to Towanda to await requisition papers he came to Waverly voluntarily and gave himself up.

The justice called a hearing for 10 o'clock this morning. A subpoena had been made out for Mr. Farley but he could not be located and the case was again adjourned until 3 o'clock this afternoon.

The employers made overtures to the strikers, offering to concede all the demands of the men except recognition of the union. This proposition was taken under consideration by the men, and the general impression is that the proposition of the employers will be accepted.

Five Italians and one negro were placed under arrest and lodged in the Albany jail charged with riot. One of the Italians will be held on the more serious charge of shooting Engineer Fred Southard, the man most seriously hurt of the three wounded in the battle.

These arrests followed a house to house search in the Italian colony by the deputy sheriffs under guard of details of troops with loaded rifles.

It was a businesslike proceeding and resulted not only in the arrest of all but two of the alleged leaders in the armed attack on the brickyard, but also in the confiscation of a collection of rifles, shotguns, pistols and ammunition.

In one house 650 rounds of shotgun and pistol cartridges were seized. Guards are still posted about the village.

An interesting incident of the raid was the fact that the first capture was made in the quaint stone house built nearly 125 years ago by Peter Coeymans, the original settler, after whom this old town was named.

SICILIAN GIRL ON TRIAL.

Josephine Terranova on Stand in Own Defense at New York.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The prosecution has closed its case in the trial of Josephine Terranova for the murder of her aunt, and the defense led off with the introduction of the prisoner as a witness in her own behalf. When the girl took the stand the most dramatic period in this dramatic trial arrived.

The state has apparently failed to make out a case which will satisfy the twelve gray headed men sitting in the jury box that this seventeen-year-old Sicilian girl was guilty of wilful murder. Assistant District Attorney Ely has, in fact, done little except to show that Concetta Ruggio was stabbed to death by her niece. He has offered but little or no evidence as to the motive which led the girl to kill her aunt, whereas the defense expects to show much justification of the deed in the causes which led to it.

It is probable that the trial will stretch over into next week, because both sides are to offer expert testimony by scientists and students in men tal disorders.

A significant feature of the proceedings was the hostility shown by two witnesses against the girl, one her uncle and the other her wife. The defense scored some very excellent points in the cross examination of both and forced both to admit personal animosity toward the prisoner.

Physical Effect.

"If broadens one's horizon, so to speak, does it not?" inquired the man who was studying municipal conditions, "to serve the city in the capacity of alderman?"

"I don't know about that," answered the other man, "but I have noticed that it generally broadens his equator."

Ineffective Serum.

At the annual meeting of the Canadian Hospital, London, the chairman of the medical committee stated that as a result of a visit to Paris by members of the surgical and pathological staff, on invitation of Dr. Doyen, it could be said that his serum was ineffective for the cure of cancer.

Business Beauty.

MISS EMMA NEWKIRK, of Santa Monica, whose friends boast that she once won a first prize in a New York beauty show, is now in the Northwest Territory, where she has not only married a rich man, but has been elected director of a school district that covers several hundred square miles of King Edward's dominions.

Wouldn't Stick.

A Dresden correspondent says that the servant of a carpenter at Freyning, in Bavaria, happened to cut off the end of her forefinger the other day. Her employer quickly brought his guipot up and glued the finger together again. However, the operation was not successful.

Enterprise Tutor.

At Thornham, in Norfolk, England, the schoolmaster has taught the village lads the art of hand-wrought iron-work to such purpose that this small place promises to recover a lost industry for England. Skilled London artists now send their designs to Thornham for execution rather than abroad.

Not Far to Seek.

A prominent Christian worker went to Mr. Jacob Rits and told him that he and his family wished a family of foreigners to look after. Mr. Rits found him such a family, and it was a Norwegian woman who, for years, had been scrubbing the Christian's office.
