COAL COAL RECALL COXEY ARMY

Was Encamped at Washington In Front of Capitol.

M'KINLEY TARIFF RULED THEN.

Landis Displayed Pictures of Ragged Host and Claimed That Such Conditions Could Not Exist Under Republican Rule.

WASHI GTO May 24.-The conditions leading up to the appearance of General Coxey's army on the grass about the capitol was told by Mr. Wil-Hains (Miss.) in the house of representatives in reply to the stand pat speech of Mr. Landis.

He stated that he had walked through Coxey's army while it was encamped on the grass in front of the senate entrance to the capitol and at that time the Wilson-Gorman bill was under discussion in the senate. He insisted hat the government was still operatng under the McKinley bill at that time and that revenues were being colected under that Republican measure. He became involved in a colloquy with Mr. Hill (Conn.) relative to the atter's statement that Coxey's army was in Washington after the passage of the Wilson-Gorman act.

Mr. Hill read the reporter's notes. bich showed that be bad substantialy stated that the Wilson bill had passed the bouse when Coxey appeared, but that the Wilson-Gorman bill did not become a law until August follow-

Mr. Williams said he was encouraged in the fight the Democrats were making in favor of tariff reform because of the number of Republican leaders who were dashing to the relief of the protective tariff. He said the sledge hammer debater, Mr. Hepburn (Ia.). the chaste and brilliant Boutell, and side, Mr. Cushman (Wash.), had all been commandeered to support the protective theory, and he inferred from this that the attacks were having ef-

It was his solemn belief, he said, that the worst thing about the protective tariff was that it bribes and corrupts the friends of good government. He said the Republicans would come into the Democratic party and say to the friends of free trade, "We will protect you against frost, we will protect you against hall," and so the Democrats yielded, and even he had been indirectly approached along some similar lines, but he had been thus far able to say, "Get thee behind me, Satan." Mr. Landis during his speech displayed a number of pictures taken n 1894 in opposition to the "picture maker," referring to Mr. Rainey (Ill.), showing the condition of affairs in that year. He first called attention to the picture entitled "Coxey's Army In Washington" and said that they had come to Washington and to the capitol of the nation for the purpose of asking that $500,000,000 be expended on the mblic roads. "They did not want the money." he said. "They wanted it spent on the public roads so that they might have work. That was the condition of affairs in the last years of Democratic rule." He called attention to another picture, 10,000 men marching up to the city hall in Boston and demanding work. That condition of affairs, he said, had long since been done away with under Republican rule.

Ibsen, Poet and Dramatis Passes Away.

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, May 24 .-Heurik Ibsen, the Norwegian poet and dramatist, is dead. The death of Ibsen was unexpected, although for the past year be had been very weak, and it was known that his death was only a question of time. He was unconscious toward the end and passed away peacefully. None of his friends was allowed to see him during his long illness, the only persons admitted to his room being the doctor, the dramatist's wife and his son. The news of Ib sen's death made a great impression in this city, where he was much beloved.

King Haakon immediately upon receipt of the news of Ibsen's death transmitted to the widow his own and Queen Maude's sympathy and condolences. The storthlug and other publie bodies are formally recording the national grief at the loss of this foremost figure of the literary life of the nation. All the theaters were closed last night. It is understood that the funeral will be a state function.

Henrik Ibsen, who was born March 20, 1828, at Skien, Norway, was the son of a well to do merchant. When be was eight years old his father suffered severe losses, and from that time on young Ibsen had to work for his living. When fifteen years of age be was apprenticed to an apothecary at Grimstad, a small country town, and while working in the apothecary's shop be tried to prepare himself to pass the entrance examination of the medical school of the Christiania university. Literature, however, was more to Ibsen's taste than medicine, and from 1850 he devoted himself entirely to let-

Ibsen's first published work was a drama entitled "Catiline," which, how ever, brought him no financial returns and for some years he lived in a state of poverty. The great violinist Ole even the humorist of the Republican Bull came to his aid and had him appointed stage manager of the theater at Bergen, where he remained seven years, writing a play every year. In 1857 be was appointed director of the theater in Christiania, and in 1864 the state granted him an annual pension. The rest of his life he spent in traveling and writing.

Ibsen's best known plays are "The Pillars of Society," "Ghosts," "An Enemy of Society," "The Wild Duck,"
"Rosmersholm," "Hedda Gabler" and "The Master Bullder."

Several of Ibsen's plays have been presented on the American and English stages.

"GOETHE OF THE NORTH" DEAD. NOT FULL AMNESTY

Russian Government Justifles Refusal This Morning.

TERRORIST BOMB THROWERS BAR IT

Country on Verge of Heing Over thrown by Anarchy and Revolution, Says Milukoff, Democratte Leader.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 24.-The following official statement of the government justifying the refusal to grant plenary amnesty is published in all the great newspapers of Russia this morn-

"The question of full political amnesty, which has been raised in parliament and which is included in the lower house's address to the emperor and supported by several organs of the Russian press, is far from meeting with a sympathetic response from all sections of Russian society.

"It is impossible to avoid noticing a strong current of feeling against full amnesty in different classes of the population, where it is pointed out that political assassinations do not cease. News is daily telegraphed from the provinces of fresh murders or attempts to murder officials. In the presence of such an irreconcilable disposition on the part of the adepts of the terrorist societies the government cannot expose the peaceful, right thinking section of the population to danger.

"The government cannot refrain from bringing to justice terrorists and bomb throwers. It cannot deliver from punishment by judicial sentences people who have committed and still are committing such crimes."

The publication in the Official Gazette of ukases fixing the dates for the election of members of the lower house of the national parliament in the Caucasus and Siberia bas evoked the sarcastic comment of the leaders of the opposition that the emperor is the first to violate the new fundamental law and decrees which he signed May 8, the ukases not bearing the counter signature of a minister, as required by the constitution.

Professor Milukoff, spokesman of the Constitutional Democrats, is said to be despondent over the prospect of staying the tide of revolution in Russia.

He bases his pessimism upon the conviction that the government will not yield a full constitutional regime, with which he says it is still possible to calm the passions of the people.

He regards Premier Goremykin and his cabinet as mere puppets doing the bidding of the powerful influences at court and believes that Emperor Nicholas is destined to throw away the oppostunity, as Louis XVI. did, of trausferring the country to a peaceful, parliamentary regime. This the professor considers to be the an illusion, and make anarchy and rev olution luevitable.

Emperor Nicholas has accepted the resignation of Admiral Rojestvensky, which was tendered on the ground of ill health following wounds received in the war with Japan.
