WILSON COMMENTS ON NEILL REPORT

Revolting-No Unwholesome Conditions in l'acking Houses-Defends Character of Employees.

WASHINGTON, June 7. - At the meat inspection bearing Dr. Melvin, chief of the bureau of animal industry was asked a number of questions cor cerning antemortem examinations of cattle bought by packing houses. He explained that these examinations were all conducted in the stockyards.

He was asked if he believed any diseased meat was put on the market in any form, but he would not express an opinion. He explained in detail the disposition of diseased cattle through the stock exchange, but said no such are served, with fruit, pies, ice cream precautions were taken concerning other animals.

T. E. Wilson, a Chicago packer, took up the Neill-Reynolds report, commenting on many of the criticisms. Con cerning the condition of the animal pens, he said that floors were properly drained to permit of flushing as often as needed, and he asserted that was done. The Neill-Reynolds report spoke of ten dead hogs being found in one place and fifteen or twenty in another Mr. Wilson said some mornings from 50,000 to 60,000 bogs are received and that frequently dead ones are found in the cars. He did not think there was anything "revolting" about that. In regard to the interior of the workrooms, Mr. Wilson said that any person would be pleased with their cleanly appearance before the day's killing and dressing is begun and that persons not used to packing houses might be disgusted with the condition of the same room several hours later. He contended, however, that there were no unwholesome conditions there. Every day, he said, all rooms, tables, trucks and utensils of all kinds are washed as clean as water and scrubbing brush can make them.

Reading about the man with a dirty apron and dirty clothes who had no neans of cleaning his hands except to wipe them on his dirty clothes and that there was no water in the room. he said it would be impossible for an apron to look clean after being worn for twenty minutes.

The only dyes used were those to color the casing of the sausage and not Pittsburg ... for meats. Chicago ... New York

There would be no objection Mr. Wilson said, to a sanitary regulation as strong as practicable. He admitted that the names of some of their products did not describe the article. As an example, he said, his firm sold "Oxford" sausage, which was a pork sausage sold under the name "Oxford." Another article named "Brown" was Miss May Sutton of Pasadena, Cal., simply a beef stew.

Packers Invite Everybody to Inspect. PHILADELPHIA, June 7. - Joseph Boyer, chief clerk to the superintend ent of motive power at Altoona, Pa. in beautiful style. Fallaheen made the for the Pennsylvania railroad, told the interstate commerce commission some startling things which had been here tefore overlooked.

This man has been one of the lucky individuals who buys millions of tons of fuel for his company's locomotives Though on a salary of only $2,700, be first race, seven and a baif furloags, has in three years past managed to ge "on the side," as he expressed it. $46, record for the distance, 1:32 flat, which | 479.55 in cash, besides 235 shares of free coal company stocks, some of which yield from 100 to 200 per cent a year in "irregular dividends."

Entirely frank in his admissions Boyer told just what percentage on lo comotive fuel orders he had received Five coal companies paid him this 'rakeoff," which, all told, he said, had amounted to nearly $47,000. Four oth er coal companies had given him free shares of stock. On some of the latter he received no regular dividends, but was agreeably surprised every now and then by fat checks.

Most of the checks for cash and representing dividends were passed Altoons.

There Boyer kept an account. At first the coal companies made out the checks to him. Afterward be had some of them drawn to the order of the cashler of the bank, who deposited An Odd Lot them to Boyer's credit. Other people's names were also used. The graft stop ped in March last Boyer said on the stand:

"It was a present from Captain Al fred Hicks. "And the Edri stock?"

"That came from Hicks also." "How about the Preston stock?" "I can't say where that came from. It was sent to me in an envelope." Mr. Boyer said he had not inquired the reason that the payments stopped but judged it was because of the interstate commerce commission's investi

"I kept it all." Answering a question by Mr. Glas gow, Mr. Boyer said that for the money be received from the coal companies he "did what he could for them." Ask ed to explain this, he said he distributed the orders of fuel coal among these companies to the best advantage. M. K. Reeves, assistant to Vice Presdent Pugh, admitted that he had accepted stock from Colonel George Huff and David E. Williams. Colonel Huff, he said, purchased some of his holdings in the Keystone Coal and Coke company, paying him $30,000 for it.

Mr. Reeves stated that he has known Colonel Huff since boyhood and de clared the latter knew he was not in position to favor him when the stock was presented.
