The local superintendent's office announces that Lehigh Valley pay day in this section will be on Thursday the 14th.

The Sayre W. C. T. U. will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Hulslander, 141 Hopkins street.

The ministers at Binghamton have united in an agreement to discontinue paying fees to cabmen who bring couples to them to be married.

A new disease has been puzzling the medical profession. It has been termed the "sleeping measles." The patient is attacked by a high fever and soon falls asleep, and remains in this condition for several days. Upon awakening the fever and all trace of the disease has disappeared.

SATURDAY'S STORM WAS TERRIFIC

The Worst That Has Visited This Section in years-- Lightning did Considerable Damage

Saturday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock this section was visited by a terrific storm that had some of the characteristics of a genuine western tornado. Old residents declare that it was the worst that has been known in years. For nearly a half hour water descended in sheets and the sky was inky black. It grew so dark during the progress of the storm that it became necessary to use artificial light in buildings in order to see to get about. A heavy wind accompanied the storm and many trees in various parts of Sayre were blown down, and buildings of a slimy character were shaken to their very foundations. The electrical part of the storm was terrific. Brilliant flashes of lightning followed each other in quick succession, some of them being only a few seconds apart, and the crashes of thunder were almost deafening. After the storm had abated it was found several buildings in various parts of the town had been struck by the electrical fluid, although no serious damage followed.

The dwelling owned by Mrs. Elmer, situated at the corner of East Packer avenue and South River street, and occupied by Samuel Lines and family, was struck while the storm was raging at its full height. A great hole was torn in the slate roof, bricks were knocked from the chimney, and the electric fluid passed down the rafters to the studding and thence to the ground where it spent its force. The house was filled with smoke and soot and Mrs. Lines and Mrs. W. T. Carey, who were in the house, were severely shocked. The lightning ignited the rafters of the roof, but the heavy rain fell extinguished the blaze before it did any damage.

A house on North River street, just a few rods above the Lines' residence, occupied by a family of Italians was also hit and considerably damaged.

A tree in front of the John Brundage house on East Packer avenue was blown down by the terrific wind, as were several others in various parts of the town.

The residence owned by G. F. Beloud and occupied by A. E. Winlack on Desmond street was considerably damaged by a bolt of lightning, but fortunately did not catch fire.

It has been years since so much water fell in so short a time. Within three minutes after the storm commenced the streets of Sayre were miniature rivers.

At Oak Grove park the matinee performance had just closed when the storm broke. The crowd instead of going aboard the cars took refuge in nearby dwellings where they remained until the rain ceased.

Yesterday afternoon another severe wind storm reached Sayre and for a time threatened to demolish everything in its path. It was of short duration, however, and so far as can be learned no damage resulted.

COMPENSATION

Although the storm that passed over this section on Saturday was a record breaker so far as severity is concerned, and considerable damage resulted, the good that it did will compensate for the damage many fold. A drive through a section of the Chemung valley yesterday shows crops, grass and vegetables to be in superb condition, and the farmers are delighted with the prospect for excellent crops.

HIS VALUABLE GOLD WATCH IS MISSING

Left Timepiece in His Workshop and When He Returned It Was Gone

George Atkin, who conducts a tailoring establishment on West Lockhart street over Raymond & Haupt's confectionery store, lost a valuable gold watch and chain yesterday forenoon in a most mysterious manner and thus far his efforts to find the missing timepiece have proven unavailing. Yesterday morning Mr. Atkin and his wife went out for a short walk and he left his vest hanging in the work room of his establishment. The watch was in one of the vest pockets, but when he returned it was gone. A servant girl who was at the house was closely questioned and she consented to have her room at home searched but the watch was not found. She said, however, that a certain well known man came to the shop three times during the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Atkin. The purse contained only two cents and the girl says that the man replaced the coin in the purse and left. The man was interviewed by Mr. Atkin but disclaimed all knowledge of the watch or its whereabouts, and was highly indignant that he should be under suspicion. The matter has been placed in the hands of the police and an investigation will follow.

SUNDAY DANCING STOPPED BY POLICE

Hungarians Were Making Merry Yesterday When the Chief Put a Stop to It

Yesterday afternoon Chief of Police Walsh was called to the East Side to put a stop to a dance which was in progress at a house occupied by a family of Hungarians. There had been a wedding at the house on the day previous, and as is the custom of the Hungarians, dancing, feasting and drinking follow. The festivities usually continue for three days, or at any rate until the fund set aside for the purpose is exhausted.

When the chief reached the house several young couples were engaged in dancing, and they were told to stop, as the neighboring families had entered complaint. The Hungarians claimed to have a license to dance, but the officer insisted, and after much persuasion the merrymakers desisted.

MRS. MARY A. STRAUSS

Mrs. Mary A. Strauss, widow of the late Alvin Strauss, who for years was masterbuilder at the car shops, died at her home at No. 113 North Elmer avenue, yesterday morning at 12:15 o'clock of general debility. The deceased had been ill for about two weeks but her condition was not thought to be serious until recently. She was born in Bucks county, Pa., and was 68 years of age. She had resided in this place and in South Waverly for over thirty-five years. She was a most estimable woman and her loss will be mourned by a host of friends and acquaintances. She is survived by two sons and two daughters, Charles H. and John A., both of this place, and Eva C. and Mrs. W. R. Stevenson, also of Sayre. One brother, Henry Thomas, of Wilkes Barre also survives. The funeral will be held from the home Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. F. M. Beyer officiating. The interment will take place at Tioga Point cemetery. Grumme's undertaking establishment has charge of the arrangements.

SOUTH WAVERLY BOROUGH COUNCIL

Held a Regular Adjourned Meeting on Saturday Evening

A regular adjourned meeting of the South Waverly borough council was held Saturday evening at which the following were present: Burgess Conley, Councilmen Quick, Welch, Stephens, Sinsabaugh, McCraney and Gates.

Mr. McCraney offered a motion which was carried, that the borough borrow $1800 from John Lawn at 5 per cent interest. The burgess was authorized to sign the necessary papers.

Attorney J. T. Corbin of Athens presented a petition numerously signed by citizens asking that a walk be ordered laid on Bradford street in front of the Howard property. The secretary was instructed to communicate with the owners of the property.

Mr. Corbin also presented a request from Miss Mary Fairchild that the borough pay the rebate on a sidewalk that was laid in front of her property on Bradford street in 1902. Some discussion arose over the line and grade of sidewalks on that street, so the matter was referred to a committee consisting of Messrs. McCraney, Welch and Sinsabaugh, which will investigate the situation in conjunction with the burgess, and report at the next meeting.

Councilman Gates presented a complaint that had been made to him by South Waverly residents to the effect that patrons of the trolley road were not allowed to ride from points in that borough to points in Athens borough unless they paid two fares; Mr. Gates read the following extract from section 8 of ordinance 13 which covers the rate of fare to be charged by the Athens, Sayre and South Waverly Traction Company: "The rate of fare for continuous passage between any point in South Waverly to Athens or Sayre, Pa., or Waverly, N. Y., whether on the main line or any branches thereof, or upon any portion of the road of the Waverly, Sayre and Athens Traction Company, shall not exceed five cents for each passenger over the age of five years."

A resolution offered by Councilman Stephens, was passed to the effect that the burgess take up the question with Superintendent Case of the trolley company. On motion it was ordered that hereafter the police justice make a report at each regular meeting of the amount of fines and costs collected by him during the month.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED

Joseph Eckert, a laborer, blew in his week's wages for booze on Saturday night, and then fell into the hands of the police. He wandered about the streets of Milltown late last night, apparently lost, when Officer D. J. Sisson picked him up and landed him in the borough lockup. This morning he was arraigned before Justice Carey and was allowed to depart on suspended sentence, promising never to get drunk in Sayre again.

SOCIALIST LECTURE

A lecture will be delivered at the Howard Elmer house at West Sayre this evening by Prof. George Kirkpatrick. No admission will be charged, and a very interesting talk is assured. At the conclusion of the lecture an opportunity will be given to any one present to ask any question that they desire.
