TRUSTS THE ISSUE

William J. Bryan Interviewed at German Capital.

SILVER QUESTION A "DEAD HORSE"

Nebraskan, Touring Europe, Hears News of Several State Conventions Giving Him Nomination For Presidency in 1908.

BERLIN, June 12.-William J. Bryin is in the German capital and was interviewed and asked about the poitical situation in the United States. Mr. Bryan expressed the opinion that the next election in the United States would turn on the question of the trusts. The silver issue, he said, was a dead horse. Being asked about the prospect of he passage of reciprocity treatles, Mr. Bryan said that be was in favor of a reperal reduction of duties in which case reciprocal treaties with foreign ountries would be superfluous. Mr. Bryan will start for St. Petersurg immediately and on leaving that ity will visit Norway and Sweden. He expects to reach New York Aug.

"This is too sudden," said William J. Bryan, with a laugh, when he was told of the adoption by recent state Democratic conventions of resolutions favoring his nomination for the presidency of the United States in 1908. "This is the first announcement of this news to me," Mr. Bryan continued. "I have been off the main caravau route for some time and have been absorbed in what I have been seeing and doing."

Mr. Bryan had been moving so rapidly since he left Vienna on Friday that letters and telegrams have just reached him. As to the possibility of his he said.

"Before leaving home I tried to dis tinguish between Democracy and what can properly be called Socialism. Democracy recognizes Socialism as legitimate and tries to protect the competitive principle from attack. Social ism sees competition as an evil to be eliminated by public ownership and operation of all means of production and distribution. While this distinction between Democracy and Socialism should not be overlooked, the Democratic platform must be one of progress and reform and not merely of opposition to Republican policies or Socialistic ideas. In our fight for the absolute elimination of private monopolles and for the regulation of corporations in general it necessary that the party shall be free from any suspicion of alliance with the corporate interests that have been dominating American politics. To this end campaign contributions must be eliminated to those who have the public interest to advance. I trust that public sentiment will require all parties to keep their books open so that hereafter no party will be under pr vate obligations to shield corporate of Alluding to conditions in the meat industry, Mr. Bryan said: "The beef trust is not different in character and methods from other trusts. The inevitable tendency of a private monopoly is to increase the price of a product and to lower its quality. Why should any one expect anything else from a trust than the lowering of quality when a monopoly is established. Observe I have used the words private monopoly, not public. In a private monopoly pri vate interest is set up against those of the whole people. Quite a different principle comes into operation when the interest of all is alone in view."

Train Derailed by Wreckers. KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 12 .- East bound Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 2, running between Denver and St Louis, was partially derailed near Martin City, Mo. The engine and a baggage car turned over, and the front trucks of the first coach left the tracks. John Dunovan, the engineer, was killed, and H. Forstund, the fireman, was seriously injured. None of the passengers were injured. The derailment of the train is believed to have been the work of train wreckers

Fears Expressed at Rome For Life of His Holiness

ROME, June 12.-A report credited at the Vatican says that the real cause of the illness of Pope Pius X. is angina pectoris, that treacherous and dangerous malady of the heart, and at the Vatican fears are expressed that the days of the present pontificate are

His holiness grows steadily weaker and is aging rapidly, says the dispatch, disturbed in his ill condition by persistent rumors that anarchists intend to attempt his life and pining for his old home in Venice.

Owing to a threatening letter sent to the Vatican unusual precautions were taken when the pope feebly officiated at the beatification of Bonaventure of Barcelona on Sunday. Troops in the church were increased and detectives were present in numbers. Tickets to the ceremony were limited.

A member of the Vatican household expressed the gravest anxiety for his holiness and spoke of the pope as a hopeless invalid, whose malady may bring a crisis at any moment.

It is said the pope's condition is aggravated also by the open estrangement of a great majority of the cardinals resident here. They have grown to disapprove of Pius X.'s methods and never come to the Vatican except when the strictest duty demands their attendance.

The contrast between the reign of Leo XIII, and that of the present pontiff is marked. Then there was a constant stream of ecclesiastics of the highest rank to and from the Vatican, but the nearly thirty cardinals now domiciled here are no longer the pope's close advisers, and all but Oreglia di San Stefano and Vivies y Tuto shun the abode of his holiness.

They are well aware of the mena ing malady that threatens the life of nomination he had little to say, declar- the pope, and at ecclesiastical gather ing it is too early to speak of that ings opinions are freely expressed that question, but taking up the subject of another papal conclave is likely to be the political requirements of the day called in the comparatively near fu-

LANDED IN PRISON.

President Interested In Navy Recruit

Who Would Be a Preacher. WASHINGTON, June 12.-Presiden Roosevelt heard a curious story of de sertion from the United States navy and an appeal on behalf of the culprit The statement was made to the presi dent by Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire on behalf of Senator Tillman of North Carolina.

Matthews Fortner, a mountain boy of Pickens county, S. C., became imbued with the idea of becoming a Baptist preacher and while in a state of exaltation encountered a recruiting officer of the navy and told him of his Fortner enlist in the navy and thereby obtain an all around education that chopped free. would be of advantage to him in his clerical colling. Fortner enlisted with the idea that the pavy was particularly adapted to religiously inclined young men. He was sent aboard the Lancas er in 1903

The young man soon decided that the navy was not quite the place for man inclined toward the ministry and deserted. He became a student at Furman university at Greenville, S. C. The police learned the history of his enlistment and arrested him. He is now in prison.

The president listened to the story with deep interest. He suggested the young man would have to stand trial for desertion, and then all the facts would be developed. He promised to take up the case after the trial and as- sexes were represented. They passed certain what if anything could be done for Fortner in the way of leniency.

Beef Committee Lock the Doors. WASHINGTON, June 12.- The house committee on agriculture was locked in its room with the Beveridge beef in spection amendment for six hours. The Beverldge amendment was taken as the basis of action, and the greater part of it was gone over tentatively. It is understood the committee is gener ally in favor of striking from the Bey eridge amendment the requirement that the labels on the caus containing prepared meat products shall bear the date of manufacture.

ONE DEAD AND OVER TWENTY INJURED

Passenger Car Smashing In-Score In Smoker Had to Be Chopped Free.

EATONYOWN, N. J., June 12 .- One man was killed and twenty-one persons injured by the wrecking of the Atlantic City express, which ran into an open switch near here. The train was made up as usual of a combina tion baggage and smoking car, one day coach and two Pullman cars. The cars were full of passengers, mostly business men returning to the city after their Sunday holiday at Lakewood and vis, third.

Nobody has explained how the switch happened to be open. But open it was. The locomotive, going fifty miles an hour, leaped the switch, dragging the first car after it. The end of the day coach swerved aside to the siding, like the heels of a kicking horse. That jerk broke the coupling that held the engine Boston first car after it. The end of the day broke the coupling that held the engine and smoker to the day coach.

As the released car swung around it crushed into a freight car with such force as to smash a hole in the side of the passenger car. The sleeper, which came after the day coach, had its front wheels pulled off the track In the space of a second the locome tive, drawing the combination car behind it, left the main track and plunged head first into the muddy ditch. It was all crushed together like a pasteboard box. The car behind it danced around on the track and then followed the locomotive into the ditch. A score of men who had been in the smoking compartment were imprisonambition. The officer suggested that ed, many of them being too badly hurt to help themselves, and had to be
