HOYT'S LEGISLATIVE RECORD

A MOST DISMAL FAILURE

Faithfully Subservient to the Will of the "Gang" He Has Utterly Disregarded the Wishes of His Constituents

His Record Won't Bear Inspection

Interests of the People Will Be Best Protected By Permitting Him to Remain Home

The voters of this county are on the eve of a most important political contest. Tomorrow evening the Republican electors will be called upon to select two candidates for legislative honors. The office is a most important one and since the Republican nomination is practically equivalent to election, too much care cannot be exercised in selecting candidates. This end of the county presents two candidates for the consideration of voters, Dr. C. L. Stevens and L. T. Hoyt, both of Athens. Mr. Hoyt is finishing his first term as a legislator, and he is asking a renomination, but The Record believes that the interests of the people at large will be best subserved by permitting Mr. Hoyt to remain at home. Mr. Hoyt's legislative record is too well known to the intelligent voter to need extended comment. He has been too closely identified with the interests of the "gang" and the machine politicians to be of much use to the people whom he was supposed to represent. Mr. Hoyt had a splendid opportunity. He is a young man of commendable qualities, among other things being possessed of a well organized set of brains, but as a representative of the people of this county he has been a most dismal failure, from any view that any one wishes to take of his record. The people of this county are entitled to representatives who will safeguard the interests of their constituents. Mr. Hoyt cannot be relied upon to represent the people. He is too closely allied with the "gang," and is too subservient to their wishes. His legislative record, when held up to close scrutiny, proves the assertion beyond peradventure. Therefore it can be reassured that if the people of Bradford county want a clean-cut representative who will honestly and intelligently work and vote for their interests, they must look farther than Mr. Hoyt.

The fore part of the week Mr. Hoyt issued a circular letter to the Republican voters in which he makes a feeble attempt to justify his legislative record, and he quotes extensively from speeches made by him on various measures. Mr. Hoyt took the initiative in appearing in the public prints, and he can therefore make no valid objection to having a few matters brought to the attention of the voters which are not touched upon by him in his circular.

Below are a few of Mr. Hoyt's acts as a legislator which he neglects to refer to in his letter to the voters:

Mr. Hoyt voted to smother in committee the "Employer's Liability" bill, an act fixing the liability of employers for damages arising from injuries sustained by their employees. (See Legislative Record, page 2227.

This bill was considered most important to the labor interests of Pennsylvania. Its purpose was to afford protection to the workman who was injured, or to those dependent upon him in case he were killed, while carrying out the instructions of his employer, boss or foreman. This bill was before the Judiciary General committee of which Mr. Hoyt was a member for six weeks, and when the friends of the laboring man made an effort to have it brought before the House of Representatives, Mr. Hoyt voted No. A large number of his constituents, those whom he is now asking to endorse him as a representative, are men employed by the corporations and these men daily run great risks to life and limb, through the incompetency of those in authority. Did Mr. Hoyt represent the interests of those constituents, when he refused to do all within his power for the enactment of a measure designed to protect them? Can he consistently ask the support of the workman in this valley? Recently in the presence of several gentlemen, Mr. Hoyt emphatically denied that any such bill was before the legislature, stating that he "never had an opportunity of voting on such a bill in any way, shape or manner," and thinking that he might square himself with his interrogator, he added, "I would certainly have voted for such a measure had I an opportunity to do so." The best proof, however, of his sincerity as to his friendship for the workman, lies not in his glib talk, but in the official record of his acts.

Mr. Hoyt voted for an amendment enlarging the scope of the act empowering the Secretary of Internal Affairs to compile industrial statistics so as to include labor organizations and raising the penalty for violating its provisions from $100 to $1,000. (See Legislative Record, page 3788.)

Under the law, any firm, individual or corporation doing business in this state must furnish such statistical information as to their industries, as the Secretary of Internal Affairs may demand, or be liable to a fine of $100. The amendment for which Mr. Hoyt voted, included labor organizations. Notwithstanding this fact that labor organizations are fraternal and beneficial orders, supported by the contributions or dues of their members, and their secretaries could furnish no industrial statistics not already provided for under the present law, Mr. Hoyt voted to vest in a single State officer the power to worm out the secrets of every labor union in the State of Pennsylvania. Was Mr. Hoyt safeguarding the interests of his constituents, who are the members of the labor unions—and there are many of them in this valley—when he voted for a law whereby the secretaries of the unions could be subpoenaed and under the pressure of a $1,000 fine be forced to tell anything that the Secretary of Internal Affairs might demand to know?

One of the "questions of such vital importance to the country at large" for which Mr. Hoyt voted was the act to regulate the service of criminal warrants by deputy constables. (See Legislative Record, page 2048.)

The ulterior motive of this act was to hamper the work of the Law and Order society of Philadelphia in its efforts to wipe out the "White Slave Traffic," that unholy alliance by which the Gang perpetuated its political grip on the city of Philadelphia. This bill passed the house by only three votes over a constitutional majority. Mr. Hoyt voted for this in the face of the fact that almost an unanimous press sounded the warning as to the snake in the bill and the people of Philadelphia were strenuously protesting against its enactment.

The Record believes, however, that one candidate has entered the field who can be implicitly relied upon at all times to do that which is deemed advantageous to the people of this county, provided such demands are just and equitable. The Record, therefore, rallies to the support of Dr. C. L. Stevens, a man of upright character, honesty of purpose, unimpeachable integrity, and high ideals, who will, if nominated and elected, be a credit to the body in which he will sit, and best of all, unqualifiedly shrink from being the willing tool of the machine or any set of men whose only purpose in politics is self aggrandizement. Dr. Stevens is well known to the voters of this section. His private life is unspotted; as a professional man he has gained the absolute respect of his contemporaries, and his promises to work for the interests of his constituents will be kept to the letter.

In asking for the nomination Dr. Stevens has been exceedingly modest. He has made a canvass among the voters, but in no manner has he attempted to coerce them. His fight throughout has been clean and decidedly refreshing and the voters of this county will make no mistake in selecting him as a candidate. He is the sort of a man that is needed.

Questions of great importance, which are likely to affect seriously the interests of this section, will probably come up for consideration at the next session of the legislature. Then Bradford county will need a representative who can be depended upon to do the right thing. Dr. Stevens can be relied upon at all times. We judge the future by the past. Dr. Stevens' past is unblemished and therefore there is excellent reason to believe—in fact, to insure—that his future acts will be governed by honest intent and a square deal to everyone.

GOVERNMENT TO PAY

Committee of Agriculture Agrees on Meat Bill.

AN APPROPRIATION OF $2,000,000.

Act Prohibits Use of Chemicals and Requires Rigid Postmortem and Antemortem Inspection of All Animals Killed.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The house committee on agriculture agreed on a meat inspection amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill at 6:30 o'clock last night.

It places the cost of inspection on the government and makes an automatic appropriation of $2,000,000 a year to pay this cost.

All meat and meat products which enter interstate commerce must bear government labels which guarantee that the product has been made of healthful meat and has been put up in a sanitary manner.

The meat inspection provision will be presented to the house for action probably today and, it is declared by the committee, will insure that American meats and meat products are healthful, clean and in every respect wholesome and fit for food.

The important features of the legislation are that it places the cost of the inspection on the government and makes an annual appropriation of $2,000,000 to pay the expenses. It requires a rigid postmortem and antemortem inspection of all animals killed for food.

It requires a government label as a passport for all meat and meat products which enter interstate commerce and in addition to this label a certificate of purity to the carrier and to the secretary of agriculture for all such products which enter foreign commerce.

To secure this label the product must be handled in accordance with sanitary regulations to be prescribed by the secretary of agriculture, who is authorized to employ, without regard to the civil service law, for the first year an adequate corps of efficient inspectors to supervise the enforcement of his regulations.

It prohibits the use of preservatives or chemicals in the preparation of meat foods which are deleterious to health and leaves the matter of determining this question to the secretary of agriculture.

The sanitary requirements which the secretary is to prescribe and enforce must insure complete sanitation as to all buildings, whether slaughter houses or canning establishments.

King Haakon's Royal Progress.

CHRISTIANIA, June 14.—The royal progress through the country preliminary to the coronation on June 22 of King Haakon VII and Queen Maud was begun when the king and queen and Crown Prince Olaf departed from the capital for Trondhjem. At the railroad station to wish the sovereigns a safe journey were the presidents of both houses of parliament, the cabinet ministers and the other principal civil and military authorities, while a large crowd of Norwegians gave their sovereigns a hearty send-off.

Welcomes Home Coming Sons.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 14.—While rain caused a postponement of the outdoor features of "home coming week" the precipitation was unable to dampen the fervor of the greeting extended by Kentucky to her nonresident sons and daughters, the exercises of welcome being both brilliant and gratifying. Mayor Barth greeted the visitors in behalf of Louisville, and Governor Beckham expressed the pleasure felt by the people of the state in having nonresident native sons back once more.

Burlington and Quincy Road Gully.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 14.—The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway company was found guilty by a jury in the United States district court on four counts of granting concessions on packing house shipments for export to the Armour Packing company, Swift & Co., Cudahy & Co. and the Nelson Morris Packing company. The conviction carries with it a fine of $1,000 to $20,000 on each count. Judge South McPherson deferred sentence until June 22.

Three Masted Ship Goes Down.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 14.—A three masted schooner, believed to be the E. A. Sabean, 268 tons, Captain Sabean, bound from Norfolk to this port with part cargo of coal, sank in seven fathoms of water about five miles off Cape Fear bar. It is thought she went down about 3 a. m. in a gale or was in collision with another vessel in the darkness. There are no tidings of the crew.

Korean Rebellion Spreading.

TOKYO, June 14.—The Korean rebellion is extending. The insurgents have looted Tanyang and Sunchang and are threatening other towns. Japanese warships at Yokohama have been ordered to assist the protected cruiser Chiyoda, the torpedo vessel Patsuta and the torpedo flotilla to suppress piracy on the southeast coast of Korea.

Seaboard Air Line Wreck. SAVANNAH, Ga., June 14.—A northbound passenger train on the Seaboard Air Line collided with a freight train that was taking a siding at Elmerick, Ga., and two of the passengers and a mail clerk and express messenger sustained injuries. A wrecking train with doctors has been dispatched from Savannah.
